Merrill J. P. O. University Department of Philosophy and the Arts (256)

We want to see your work THIS WEEK... of course, we are assuming that much to do is no idealism at Bridgecliff or any other school for that matter. Despite its lack of widespread popularity as well as profit, we would like to say that we strongly support the philosophy of the Student Union Program Committee. We are not illusions (by the number of people in attendance. We only see people come and go that is, a concert, a movie, or any other event was a worthwhile experience, then we would feel we had successfully fulfilled our obligation to the campus. We are only expressing our desire that all students will allow us to be involved. We do not want to be a spontaneous appeal to at least 100 people on a rainy evening.... a call to minsterial appeal at our college.....

Somebody’s MAGADIZING At Bridgewater?!!

Sunday, Nov. 19, will mark the debut of BSC’s newest singing group, THE MAGADIZERS. A select number of skilled voices picked by competitive audition, the Magadizers specialize in music for chamber choir, both sacred and secular, with emphasis on music of the Baroque period. The music MAGADIZERS will perform is drawn from the work of sixteenth-century composers, including the singing of organs and other early types of music.

In its first performance, Sunday Nov. 19, the group will appear at ST PAUL’s Episcopal Church on Prospect St. in Brockton at 4:30 pm, singing the Anglican Service of Evening. At this service the prayers are chanted, a psalm is given in Anglican chant, the hymns and service music will be played by David Rinald, organist and choirmaster of St. Paul’s. The Magadizers will appear twice at Old Sturbridge Village and several more times during the fall term for part of the BSC Church Society. Membership in The Magadizers is open to both female and male students from all classes.
