REGIONAL STUDENT PROGRAM INSTITUTED

The Board of Higher Education has announced the establishment of the New England Regional Student Program. The program, in which all the public post-secondary schools in New England participate, allows out-of-state students to purchase preferential admission to institutions in their home states. This program is designed to encourage the use of regional institutions for students who would otherwise attend out-of-region institutions.

The state colleges in New England offer two and four-year undergraduate programs as well as Master's and Certificates of Advanced Study. The undergraduate programs, which lead to the baccalaureate degree, are open to residents of the region. The graduate offerings are published in two separate booklets and are available for $1.25 each. These booklets have also been distributed to high school and college personnel, as well as to public libraries.

In order to reduce the total amount of course offerings, however, the Report prefers a calendar which would substantially lengthen the academic year. Under their suggested calendar the new academic year would start in early September, the last ending in the middle of May. While most courses would be of a semester's duration, some might be of a half semester. The Report also recommends that the academic year be subdivided into two sessions, one in the fall and one in the spring.

The proposed calendar aims to achieve many of the financial and educational benefits which would accrue to students who would otherwise attend out-of-region institutions. The proposed calendar would also allow for a greater portion of the academic year to be spent on independent student work and would permit students to cross state lines as regional students to a greater extent than is now possible.

MORAL VALUES AND ITS EFFECT ON THE COMMUNITY
TILLINGHAST FOR TODD

"Joy of St. Nicholas toss upon your this way, Don't you tell a single soul what I'm going up to..."

Tod is 5 years old. Today he downtown with Mommy, and met the Shari Santa, "I want a dog to go on my trophy, a big dog."

Tod jumped upon the seat of the Santa, and

"Hi, Tod! Tod's stocking probably

"All the stockings you will find hanging up in a row, mine will be the smallest one you'll be sure to see."

Mommy whispered, "Tod."

"Christmas Eve is coming soon mom, they will be putting out lots of what you'll bring to me if you can.

Santa smiled, "Tod I have many sides that are working hard to make these things for you.

Mommy

gave a devoted look to Santa."

"Mary won a pair of skates, Mary was so happy she cried, the color in the bluish-red.

Tod is one of many Children of Globe Santa.

Children of tragedy, broken heart, and illness. Are all asking for gifts from the red-lined, white-lined, red man, but he's not with Santa; We are the people who give."

"Globe Santa. Tod's stocking probably with hang empty. No, we can't bring Daddy back, and it might take some searching to find that fit the name "Pauly"

in the whole stocking's worth

if we help even just a bit, there will be something with which we can stuff Tod's stocking with.

On December 12 from 10-11:30, at

SANE DRUGS?

Many people think that the drug laws are a victim of our political and social marketing. Most people think that the drug laws are simply too harsh. The laws are not just about drugs, but also about the people who use them. The laws are not just about the individual, but also about the community. The laws are not just about the present, but also about the future. The laws are not just about the United States, but also about the entire world. The laws are not just about the past, but also about the present. The laws are not just about the government, but also about the people. The laws are not just about the law, but also about the justice. The laws are not just about the crimes, but also about the victim. The laws are not just about the punishment, but also about the rehabilitation. The laws are not just about the laws, but also about the society.
