Two Countdowns: “Reorg” and the Master Plan

Two countdowns are now in progress for the Massachusetts State College system - "reorg" and the academic master plan.

"reorg" is the shorter, more immediate deadline, with the first deadline being May 31. After that, the state college system's draft master plan is expected to be released. The master plan will contain an inventory of the state colleges and their campus plans, including a recommendation on the future of each college.

The "reorg" deadline is the state college system's final deadline for any changes to the master plan. After this deadline, the master plan will be finalized and submitted to the state legislature for approval.

The "reorg" deadline is not a hard deadline, and the state college system is expected to extend it if necessary. However, the "reorg" deadline is an important milestone in the process of implementing the master plan.

The "reorg" deadline is also expected to include a review of the state college system's budget, including the proposed cuts to the master plan.

The "reorg" deadline is expected to be a busy time for the state college system, with many stakeholders involved in the process. The "reorg" deadline is an important step in the process of implementing the master plan and ensuring that the state college system is able to meet the challenges of the future.

The "reorg" deadline is expected to be a time of great change and uncertainty for the state college system. The state college system is expected to face many challenges in the coming years, and the "reorg" deadline is an important step in the process of ensuring that the state college system is able to meet these challenges.

Choral Society Returns

The Bridgewater State College Choir, Men's Glee Club, and the Magdalenors returned last Friday night from a triumphant four-day concert tour of New Jersey and Philadelphia. One of the six planned concerts, two were in New Brunswick, New Jersey on Tuesday, March 21 is the second of an extremely well equipped Residence Hall Friday. The all-male students upstaged all the choirs by the choirs by the harmony of the works performed. They were conducted by Dr. Ralph Costeno, music director of the department of music.

The next morning the choruses continued performance before the Philadelphia Sunday News and Pan American Airline employees. The St. Pat's dinner was the prelude to a three-hour program of music in the evening. The choirs were a great success and all enjoyed the program. Many students and faculty members took part in the evening's activities.

Rough Landing for SST

If the Condors have a single flight, it is at least "taken one bullet of a critical mission" - one of the members of the crew.

The spectacle of the Condors, the British-Italian supercarrier, crashed into a New York City airport in a cold, gusty wind, and only eight of the 200 passengers were aboard. The jet was an SST project, and was assumed to be a "success story" of the air. However, it seems to have blown a tire and crashed.

Despite the good intentions, the collision of the SST project was not all bad news. The airframe was completely destroyed, and the SST program was interrupted for at least a year. However, the pilots and passengers all survived.

When the two governments signed up to build the SST project in 1962, they estimated the cost of research and development at $800 million. Today, that figure has leaped more than 300% to $2.5 billion. And not a single passenger plane has yet to come off the production line. The SST's twin-jet engines are a separate project, and the first American SST was expected to be ready by 1980. But now, many experts doubt that the SST will ever fly.

Bill Norman

The BSC hockey team has decided it's time for another new season. Bill Norman, a junior from Brockton was selected captain. Ricky Foley, junior from Canton and Jim McCarthy, a sophomore from Newton, were named assistant captains.

The evening marked the end of a very successful season for Mike "Buddy" Bartlett and Jim "Snapper" McKeon.

A Hockey Dream

Walking back up the hill, I decided to stop into Bridgewater State box office. Finding one of the side doors open, I entered the building which had an air of， noise so profound it felt like I was in a church. Things were different just when before. The arena was brilliantly lit and 3,800 wild fans packed the bleachers to back their team up.

The ice was now covered with fresh snow and pipes surrounded by white wooden boards marked "no contact" with peaks and hockey sticks lying in the locker room. Walking into the locker room, the emotions still echoed with the echo of the club. "Can you get your ass moving, "Fingerboard," or "Fingerboard," the scoreboard was blank in preparation for the previous game of scoring zero and three. The loudest seemed the game of "ah double if you come in.
