The Comment, April 12, 1973

Bridgewater State College

Volume 52
Number 25

Recommended Citation
Retrieved from: http://vc.bridgew.edu/comment/318

This item is available as part of Virtual Commons, the open-access institutional repository of Bridgewater State University, Bridgewater, Massachusetts.
Recommendations on the Job Market

Following are the recommendations of the Committee on High School Graduation Requirements and Job Availability in the field of education at the undergraduate level, which were published by McGraw-Hill.

1. Institutions of higher education should recognize the importance of readiness for college or university programs in their education programs for college- and university-bound students.

2. Federal and state governments should support the development of programs to make higher education more accessible to a wider range of students.

3. Education and state planning agencies should develop new programs and models to meet the demand for more flexible and personalized education.

4. Federal, state, and local governments should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

5. State planning agencies should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

6. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the U.S. Office of Education should work to ensure that the recommendations of the future demand for teachers that are based on the labor market are relevant to the labor market in which they exist.

7. State and local governments should provide additional support for the education of students who are interested in pursuing education degrees.

8. The goal of all programs of professional education should be to prepare students to enter the workforce as teachers.

9. The federal government should provide financial support for programs that are designed to increase the number of teachers.

10. The federal government should provide financial support for programs that are designed to increase the number of teachers.

11. Federal and state governments should support the development of programs to make higher education more accessible to a wider range of students.

12. Federal, state, and local governments should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

13. State planning agencies should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

14. Education and state planning agencies should develop new programs to meet the demand for more flexible and personalized education.

15. Federal and state governments should support the development of programs to make higher education more accessible to a wider range of students.

16. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the U.S. Office of Education should work to ensure that the recommendations of the future demand for teachers that are based on the labor market are relevant to the labor market in which they exist.

17. State and local governments should provide additional support for the education of students who are interested in pursuing education degrees.

18. The goal of all programs of professional education should be to prepare students to enter the workforce as teachers.

19. The federal government should provide financial support for programs that are designed to increase the number of teachers.

20. Federal, state, and local governments should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

21. State planning agencies should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

22. Education and state planning agencies should develop new programs to meet the demand for more flexible and personalized education.

23. Federal and state governments should support the development of programs to make higher education more accessible to a wider range of students.

24. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the U.S. Office of Education should work to ensure that the recommendations of the future demand for teachers that are based on the labor market are relevant to the labor market in which they exist.

25. State and local governments should provide additional support for the education of students who are interested in pursuing education degrees.

26. The goal of all programs of professional education should be to prepare students to enter the workforce as teachers.

27. The federal government should provide financial support for programs that are designed to increase the number of teachers.

28. Federal, state, and local governments should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

29. State planning agencies should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

30. Education and state planning agencies should develop new programs to meet the demand for more flexible and personalized education.

31. Federal and state governments should support the development of programs to make higher education more accessible to a wider range of students.

32. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the U.S. Office of Education should work to ensure that the recommendations of the future demand for teachers that are based on the labor market are relevant to the labor market in which they exist.

33. State and local governments should provide additional support for the education of students who are interested in pursuing education degrees.

34. The goal of all programs of professional education should be to prepare students to enter the workforce as teachers.

35. The federal government should provide financial support for programs that are designed to increase the number of teachers.

36. Federal, state, and local governments should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

37. State planning agencies should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

38. Education and state planning agencies should develop new programs to meet the demand for more flexible and personalized education.

39. Federal and state governments should support the development of programs to make higher education more accessible to a wider range of students.

40. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the U.S. Office of Education should work to ensure that the recommendations of the future demand for teachers that are based on the labor market are relevant to the labor market in which they exist.

41. State and local governments should provide additional support for the education of students who are interested in pursuing education degrees.

42. The goal of all programs of professional education should be to prepare students to enter the workforce as teachers.

43. The federal government should provide financial support for programs that are designed to increase the number of teachers.

44. Federal, state, and local governments should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

45. State planning agencies should develop new programs to increase the number of students pursuing education degrees.

46. Education and state planning agencies should develop new programs to meet the demand for more flexible and personalized education.
Page 2

LETTERS

To the student body:

Announcing my candidacy for the office of 1st vice-president of S.G.A., I feel it is of major importance that the student body be aware of my qualifications for this office. For the past two years I have served in the capacities of Student Government Association secretary and treasurer. As you may have noticed, I have run various successful campaigns for the S.U. Government Association and have served in the Student Government Association on the level of the Senate as well as the Committee of Ten. In both instances I have been in a leading position and feel that I have gained the experience and insight that will enable me to run an efficient and effective Government. As SGA President and Secretary of the Committee of Ten, I have been involved with virtually the entire campus. My experience will enable me to run an efficient Student Government Association.

In conclusion I want to say that I would like to be the most competent individual available to take over your Student Government Association. I feel that I have been working hard for your Government ever since I have attended Bridgewater.

Thank you
Karen Lemmert

GAY - 2nd V.P.

I would like to thank all of you who supported me in this election. The final election will be held this Thursday, April the 10th, and I am looking forward with great excitement to the result. I wish to thank all those who have supported me. I will continue to try to see every student is not benefitting from the activities that are taking place on campus. I strongly feel that we are not doing our job properly, and if you will come to the opening election, Thank you.

Jim Hickey

Greg Hall

Letter to the Student body: I would like to thank all of you who supported me in this election. The final election will be held this Thursday, April 10th, and I am looking forward with great excitement to the result. I wish to thank all those who have supported me. I will continue to try to see every student is not benefitting from the activities that are taking place on campus. I strongly feel that we are not doing our job properly, and if you will come to the opening election, Thank you.

RAPOSO - 2nd V.P. Students

I would like to thank all of you for your support in the primary election, I am running for the office of 2nd Vice President. The campaign will continue to try to see every student is not benefitting from the activities that are taking place on campus. I strongly feel that we are not doing our job properly, and if you will come to the opening election, Thank you.

Bob Watson

Environmental Bill

The Environmental Bill Committee has proposed a bill, presently being considered by the House of Representatives, which will extend the current law of 1972 in various ways. The bill is designed to establish an independent Environmental Protection Agency to be responsible for the enforcement of existing federal environmental laws. The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to provide funds and grants for the construction of water and sewage treatment plants in order to provide $150 million for the construction of such facilities. The bill also provides for the establishment of a comprehensive program of environmental education and research. The bill is the first of its kind in the history of the Environmental Protection Agency and is a major accomplishment of the Environmental Protection Agency. The bill is the first of its kind in the history of the Environmental Protection Agency and is a major accomplishment of the Environmental Protection Agency.

In light of the important and timely nature of this bill, I would like to write a letter to Senator Kennedy and Brooks, representing the interests of the Environmental Protection Agency, and urge their support in the bill. In particular, I would like to emphasize the importance of the bill in promoting the conservation of natural resources and the need for further support in this area.

John H. Johns, Ph.D.
Professor of Biology

Tom Hickey would like to thank all those who voted today, but especially those who supported me in the primary. The campaign is far from over, there is some hard work ahead of us. Again, the major issues in my platform, the student Government Association procedures, but this is not the only issue, there is the presidential election, and you and I, as voters, must consider the issues that are at stake and I believe are important in this campaign. I hope that you will continue your support for my candidacy for the opening election. Thank you.

Lori Greiner

Dear Shirley U. Jest

I feel it is extremely important that you consider supporting me in the upcoming presidential primary. I intend to do all I can to assure that every student is benefitting from the activities that are taking place on campus. I strongly feel that we are not doing our job properly, and if you will come to the opening election, Thank you.

Lori Greiner
Cora Weiss

Was There A War...

by Philip Hackett

Several years ago the French existentialist philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre, in an interview with an American newspaper, was asked to explain why he had not yet written about the war in Vietnam. Jean-Paul thought silently for a moment before answering. In fact, he was staring at the interviewer and thinking to himself, "Is he really going to ask me to write about Vietnam?"

"Because the war is not over," he replied.

The war, as Sartre defines it, is still going on. However, there is an end in sight. Vietnam, in its own terms, is ready to move on to a new era. In its own words, the war is over. So why should the world worry about it? Why is it still going on? Why can't we just let it go?

"It's not the war itself that's over," Sartre replied. "It's the war's meaning. That's what's over."
CONFERENCE FOR EDUCATING DISTURBED

Programs and strategies for educating emotionally disturbed children will be a focus of a two-day conference Friday (April 6) at Bridgewater State College.

Dr. Joseph Ross, associate commissioner of the Division of Special Education at the Massachusetts Department of Education, will discuss management of the emotionally disturbed child in the classroom.

The professional conference is the fourth of the series sponsored by the college's Division of Professional Development. It will be devoted to three discussion groups:

1. Psychological Programming for the Emotionally Disturbed
2. Behavioral Education for the Emotionally Disturbed
3. Educational Programming for the Emotionally Disturbed

At the conference, which will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., all interested persons will be invited to apply to us for partial support of their attendance.

The conference will be held on Saturday, April 7, and will include a number of workshops, panel discussions and seminars.

Ten courses have been announced in England for college students of the United States. The courses, which will be held from July 1 to August 26, will explore the literature and culture of England, as well as the history of English language and literature.

Stuart Van Deventer, director of the college's Division of International Education, explained that the courses will be held at universities in England, with some courses located in France and Germany.

Courses for BSC In England

Courses will be offered in a variety of subjects, including literature, history, art, and music. Students will be able to choose from a wide range of options to fit their interests and academic goals.

The courses will be taught by experienced instructors, many of whom are leading scholars in their fields. Students will have the opportunity to engage in discussions and debates with their peers, and to participate in group projects and assignments.

The courses will be held at the University of Cambridge, the University of Oxford, and the University of London. Students will have the option to choose courses from one of these institutions, or to take courses from any of the others.

The courses will be held during the academic year, and will be divided into two terms. The first term will be held from July 1 to August 26, and the second term will be held from September 1 to October 31.

The courses will be taught in English, and will be taught by experienced instructors, many of whom are leading scholars in their fields. Students will have the opportunity to engage in discussions and debates with their peers, and to participate in group projects and assignments.

The courses will be held at the University of Cambridge, the University of Oxford, and the University of London. Students will have the option to choose courses from one of these institutions, or to take courses from any of the others.

The courses will be held during the academic year, and will be divided into two terms. The first term will be held from July 1 to August 26, and the second term will be held from September 1 to October 31.
Food Stamps for Strikers?

How do you feel about having your tax dollars used to feed workers on strike? If you object to this practice, you owe your senator a chance to become your representative, and then vote to end the paying of food stamps.

The food stamp program was developed to help welfare mothers and others in need. Food stamps are not to be used to support strike breakers. The taxpayers are entitled to refuse to pay for the support of strike breakers.

Blackboard Punishments!

This is an important issue in education. The taxpayers have a right to know how their tax dollars are being spent. The federal government has a duty to protect the taxpayer's interests. The taxpayers have a right to a voice in the decisions that affect their future.

The "New Writer"

These New Writers magazine, a newspaper dedicated exclusively to the young writer, is trying to make it easier for students and authors to get paid reading. The magazine is published in New York City. The magazine is designed to be a tool for writers to learn about the craft, share their work, and receive feedback. The magazine is available online and in print.

Climbing the Walls every weekend?

Cyber Lawton is a student who has been living in a digital world for most of his life. He has been using the internet to communicate with others, learn about new ideas, and share his own ideas. He has been fascinated by the power of the internet and the ways in which it has changed the way people communicate.

Alumni Honor Students

The Hudson State College Alumni Association is honoring students for their academic accomplishments. The students will be recognized for their achievements, and the Alumni Association will provide them with scholarships. The Alumni Association is proud to celebrate the success of its students.

Industrial Reorganization Act

The government has proposed a measure to reorganize the steel industry. The measure is designed to help the steel industry compete with other industries, and to help the steel industry respond to changes in the global economy. The measure has been met with mixed reactions from the steel industry, and from the public.

The Drama Club Presents...

St. Patrick's Day, or, The Schehering Lieutenant

The Hudson State College Drama Club will present a play based on the Schehering Lieutenant. The play will be performed in mid-May. The play will be directed by Richard Shechter, and will feature a cast of student actors. The play will be presented in the Hudson State College's Cohen Auditorium.

The Bronx Moon Auditorium at the Hudson State College, 300 Main St., New York, N.Y. 10005.
BEAUTY WAS A BEAUTY!!

Montgomery Gives 'A Little Extra'

ANYTHING GOES!!

Textile Exhibit

Poetry

We Feel

mouve velvet

Come her voice

Over the past two years in B. S. C. there have been some fine concerts. As it is with most events, the opening night is exciting. The enthusiasm of the audience is infectious, but at B. S. C. concerts it hasn't been that way. Their opening nights used to be slow. Two years ago, Gil Perkins did it with Clark Kent, last year Roger Water did it with the Who, and this year it was James Montgomery's turn. Quartet Leader is a fine show, but it was Montgomery who gave it a little extra. That made it more enjoyable. They are reminiscent of the early days of the Who. They played blues and ballads which are simple and designed to get the audience moving. There are very few stage trappings, which are not too bad because the voices are in good form. They have been

The Bridgewater State College Children's Theater musical production of "Beauty and the Beast" was seen last month by more than 4,000 spectators from throughout New England.

On Thursday, April 19th, the fourth time these Arts Society featured its third and last production of their 1973-74 season, ARTISTS, ANYTHING GOES. Earlier in the season, the Arts Society presented: THE THREEPENN'NY OPERA and A VESPERS FLOWERS. Both proved to be critical and financial successes. ANYTHING GOES first produced as Broadway in 1930 and revived self-produced by BSC, has an intrinsically controversial plot around a number of political issues. Kenneth Keeller will direct the Arts Society's production of the past president of the Gilbert and Sullivan Players. He also plays a number of roles in the Harvard community. Musical direction will be handled by James Shearring, who orchestrated the 1972 and 1973 productions of the Unity Pudding Theatricals, and is a former student conductor of the Harvard Band. Michael C. Guppy, will play the Harvard Library on Main Street, Cambridge.

Visuals for ANYTHING GOES can be reviewed by phoning the Union Theatre Office, 847-9683, or the Lowest House Box Office, 847-9685. Tickets can also be purchased at the door. All seats are $2.00 ANYTHING GOES opens on Thursday, April 19th, and April 20th through April 25th.

The performance will be held on Thursday, April 21st, at 8:00 P.M. in the Lowest House Theatre, Harvard University, Cambridge. There will be a one-hour intermission."
Women's Intramural Basketball

Last quarter Woman's Intramural Basketball had its best season ever. Women teams with a total of over two hundred girls participated. The girls were divided into three divisions and each team played against other teams in its own division. Many of the girls had a great time at the team socials and in the final division championship games. The average attendance at the games was higher than any other intramural sport. The girls enjoyed playing and supporting each other. The next season will be just as exciting with new teams and exciting games.

WRA Nomination Papers

There is still time to take out Nomination Papers for any woman interested in running for an office in the Women's Representative Association. All papers are available and must be returned to the S.U. Info Booth by Tuesday, April 17. Also, there are four paid positions open for the HBCU offered in the WRA. They are:

- Scholar Internship Director
- Student Activities Director
- Office Manager
- Director of Student Services

Winners of Canada's Juno Awards

At the fourth annual Juno Awards presentation in Toronto, Capital Inspection Ltd. Canada collected eight Junos. Capital won in the most successful category, expanding its library to over two million records in Canada. The Junos were won in the following categories:

- Best Country Recording
- Best Pop/rock Recording
- Best Album
- Best Video
- Best Composer
- Best Vocal Group
- Best Instrumental Group

The awards were presented at the Toronto Convention Centre. The Junos were hosted by Barry Paris and Donna McKeown. The winners included:

- City and Colour
- Metric
- Justin Bieber
- The Weeknd
- Alanis Morissette
- The Tragically HIP

All-star line-up included performers such as The Weeknd, Justin Bieber, and Alanis Morissette.

COLLEGE TOWN CLEANSERS

Day Service

278 Broad St., 697-4012

The Comment

April 20, 201

POOL AND GYM SCHEDULE

The swimming pool and gym schedule will be in effect during the same two weeks. Normally, the gymnastics will be open for intramural and student recreation Monday through Thursday evenings from 4:00 to 9:00 and on Saturday and Sundays from 1:00 to 5:00. Regular pool hours are from 1:00 to 4:00 Friday through Monday and 6:30 to 9:00 Monday through Thursday. The gym schedule will be in effect during the week.

FATHERS' AND SONS' BANQUET

The following men will be receiving a Senior Certificate of Achievement and a Father-Son Certificate of Achievement:

- Kent F. Hurlbut
- William W. Hoyt
- Joseph F. Mahoney
- Robert A. Montgomery
- Donald W. Smith
- Richard A. Williams
- George F. Swenson
- William B. Thompson
- Lawrence E. Norton
- Vincent Hickey
- Donald F. MacKinnon
- John C. Langan

Miss Fest

Cont. from pg. 2

In another activity, there were two events that stood out. The first was the "Day at the Beach," where students and faculty members gathered to enjoy the warm weather and socialize. The second event was the "Art Show," which featured works created by members of the art department. The show included paintings, sculptures, and photography.

The spring semester is quickly coming to an end, and it's time to look forward to the summer months. Whether it's pool parties, beach outings, or simply relaxing on the couch with a good book, there's something for everyone to enjoy. So, make the most of the remaining weeks of spring and look forward to the exciting events of the summer!
This Week-

Cora Weiss at BSC Page 3
Cages To Castles Page 3
Learning Disabilities-SNEA Page 3
Be A Tour Assistant Page 4
Drama Club Studio Production Page 5
Alumni Honor Students Page 5
James Montgomery—Success! Page 6
Tennis Team Forms Page 7

Happy Friday
the 13th!

---

The COMMENT April 12, 1973

On April 12 at 8:00 the B.S.C. students will witness what the New York Times called "one of the most highly polished and professional units ever to take the stage before the Carnegie Hall's capacity audience," the supercharged rock musicians Ike and Tina Turner along with their ten-piece band and the three Ikette dancers. Hopefully along with some new material, they will do the songs they're noted for: Ike Turner's "I've Been Loving You Too Long" and "I want to Take You Higher" that are guaranteed to rock the S.U. Auditorium's walls.