The undergraduate curriculum committee has approved the full faculty and student participation of AGENCIES in all major parts of the college curriculum. In keeping with this belief, the undergraduate curriculum committee in May of 1963, presented a working paper to the faculty and the student. The committee followed this procedure in the hope of stimulating dialogue within departments, divisions, and subcommittees, as a preparation for a full dialogue with the undergraduate curriculum committee which has the responsibility of reviewing the entire college curriculum.

The undergraduate curriculum committee has adopted the following procedure to keep up to speed the discussions with the faculty and student on the matters of General Education.

Support Not Sympathy

Have you read the front page article, where one student is quoted as saying that he was not a victim of the recent campus unrest? If you have, you might wonder why the student is not quoted as saying that he was a victim. The answer is simple: he was not a victim. The student was simply expressing his opinion, and it is his right to do so. However, it is not the role of the newspaper to report on events in a way that supports any particular viewpoint.

This page contains an article about a recent event on campus and a letter to the editor. The article discusses a student protest and the university's response to the event. The letter to the editor expresses concern about the university's handling of the protest and calls for action.

Support Not Sympathy
Twenty years ago the mental asylum in Jackson, La., could have been in any one of a dozen similar institutions scattered from the beauty of the countryside to the urban residence of those who could afford it. People having a familiarity with the mental asylum would be more likely to know the human rights of those who were there than those who were not. People would be more likely to know the human rights of those who were there than those who were not.

Dr. Alfred Butterworth, a psychiatrist at the New York State Psychiatric Institute, says that the asylum is a place of refuge. It is a place where people can go to escape the pressures of daily life.

But what if the reason this woman breaks down after each child birth is that she didn't want to be there? Before doctors ought to be able to try their treatments on people, or do they just control the patients? Do the drugs bring health to people, or do they just control the patients? Do the drugs bring health to people, or do they just control the patients?

In patching her up to keep her going, they might have stopped her from using the electric chair. They might have stopped her from using the electric chair. They might have stopped her from using the electric chair.

The mental health department in Kentucky, the most others, has not been able to evaluate the effectiveness of therapy. As Anthony M. Cassirer, associate professor of psychology at the University of New York points out, the assumption that psychiatrists can do no harm is scientifically valid.

Bears lose to Nichols

By Norm M. McKee

The Bridgewater State College Bears men's soccer team was defeated by Nichols College, 2-0, Saturday afternoon at Alumni Field.

Bears scored all of their points in the first half of the game, and the teams ended the half with a scoreless tie.

The Bears scored the first goal of the game on a penalty kick taken by Maureen H. Smith in the second half. The Bears then added another goal in the second half, making the final score 2-0.

Bears Head Coach Joe T. O'Sullivan said, "We played well and were able to control the game. We'll continue to work on our defense and improve our attacking play."
C.C. DROPS FINAL MEET

Bridgewater State College dropped its final cross country dual meet of the season to Stonehill College by a score of 23-31. Pat Gregory was B.S.C.'s top runner, but could only manage a third place finish. The loss brought the cross country season record to 8 wins and only two losses.

The Bears' offensive line looked seventh time in their loss to the Stonehill Bears. Bill Flaherty kicked the first of the Bears' four field goals kicked on the ensuing kick-off to make the Bears play weakly. Their PAT failed.

The Bears' team pointed away handsomely in the second half. Jose got stopped at the 15-yard line in the fourth quarter to set up the winning touchdowns, and Jose Scored, whose steady play hosted a 13-yard field goal.

Jose is now 5-7 in the field goal department and 3-3 in the post-touchdown category. He is the team's leading scorer at this point in the season with a total of 25 points.

Next are Mike Antonowicz and Joe Johnson, each with twelve points. Dave McNeany, Tony Chaves, and Mike Antonowicz at Stonehill have six points. Deadlines will be November 11 and 19.

The closest Gregory could get was within seven seconds of the leader. N. C. G. was far from full moon further back. Chaves and Marcotte outpaced Stonehill runners at the finish, but it was only for personal satisfactions and had no effect on the overall scores.

Coach Drady has not been pleased with his runners over the last two outings, and expects things to improve as the competition increases. The Bears scored on the ensuing kick-off to make the Bears play weakly.

The Student Union Program Committee will conduct the 3rd Annual A.C.U.I. Regional Fall Tournament on November 27th to determine the A.C.U.I. Invitational Tournament for Region I. It will be held again at Central Connecticut State College on February 19th, 1976.

The Bears scored the first touchdown of the game on a 75-yard drive that culminated in a twenty-yard scoring pass from Dan Joseph to Bob Keim. Bill Flaherty kicked the first of the Bears' four field goals kicked on the ensuing kick-off to make the Bears play weakly. Their PAT failed.

The Bears' offensive line looked extremely good, and back Mark Mittler gained over 20 yards on the game. This young Bears team could go for a very upset when the time comes. B.S.C.'s next opponent is Harvard.
