Forward Howard Billy English was the story last Friday as the Bears squeaked by Salem State College, 64-56. Although Bears contributed a season's high, 28 points, in 34 minutes of play, their star center had an earlier season loss to Salem, English was non-factor in the team's return to the sidelines in 20 minutes of the second half.

MISCELLANEOUS: BSC's Last win (2-16-77) was boosted by Jimmy Sinseau's 3-point finger-basket which completed a 10-point lead. Sinseau's 20 points made the difference in the 64-56 win.

The new faces at the Crossroads Hockey Club were the most welcome sight in years. It was hoped that the new faces, the college's Hockey Coaches, would indicate a break from the previous season, when the team struggled to a 3-11 record.

A lot can be said for the Bears quick start, but the Bears' defense was the one thing that made the Bears look like a team that was ready to play. The Bears were able to score two goals in the first period, and a third in the second, for a total of five goals in the game.

The Bears were able to hold the Bears to three goals in the final period, and the Bears won 5-3.

The Bears were able to complete the season with a record of 8-4-1, and the Bears were able to finish the season with a record of 8-4-1.

Letters to the Editor

I am writing in response to the recent article on campus police and parking ticket fines. It is extremely frustrating to see that the campus police are using fines as a way to increase revenue. It is not fair to the students who have to pay for these fines, especially those who are already struggling financially.

The article mentions that some students have to pay for parking fines even if they have a decal on their windshield. This is not only unfair, but it is also a waste of time and money for students who have already paid for a parking permit. It is time that the administration re-examines its parking policies and finds a solution that is more equitable for all students.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
To my wife, "In the Navy," another good year goes into the books. I love you more than words can say. I'm sure you know it. "In the Navy," is a great life, despite some hardships. I think it's time to have a long look at it. We are going to the coast this summer to go fishing near the shore. "In the Navy," is a good way to live.

In the early seventies, one of Boston's most popular television series was "The Beverly Hillbillies." The show's cast included a young man named D. Michael Jordan, who played the character of Grumpus McComb. However, Jordan's true passion was for television and film production. Over the next few years, he honed his skills and eventually landed a role in the hit movie "All The President's Men."

Dr. Richard Warye, director of the Children's Hospital in Boston, has been visiting area television stations to promote his new book, "The Healing Power of Music." He believes that music has the ability to heal and transform lives.

The Carter Administration has been faced with a number of difficult decisions in recent weeks. One of the most pressing issues is the ongoing war in Vietnam. President Carter has been under pressure to agree to a cease-fire and begin negotiations for a political settlement.

The Five by Two film series continues this week with "The Great Cross-Country Road Race." The film, directed by Alan J. Pakula, stars Jack Lemmon and Jane Fonda. The story follows a group of athletes as they compete in a cross-country race.

BSO Concert Review

The Boston Symphony Orchestra (BSO) presented a masterful performance of Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony on Monday night. Under the direction of Seiji Ozawa, the orchestra delivered a powerful and impassioned rendering of the piece.

The Tchaikovsky Fifth Symphony, completed in 1893, is one of the composer's most beloved works. Ozawa and the BSO brought the piece to life with a combination of technical skill and emotional depth.

First movement: The opening theme is played by the full orchestra, building to a powerful climax. Ozawa led the ensemble with precision and intensity.

Second movement: A slow, reflective movement, with a prominent theme played by the strings. Ozawa maintained a steady pace, allowing the music to unfold gradually.

Third movement: A high-energy scherzo, with trills and staccato notes. The orchestra captured the movement's sense of triumph and joy.

Fourth movement: The final movement is a triumphant cadenza, with the violinist soloing against the background of the orchestra. Ozawa's leadership was masterful, bringing out the work's grandeur.

In conclusion, the BSO's interpretation of the Tchaikovsky Fifth Symphony was a tour de force. It demonstrated the orchestra's mastery of the classical repertoire and Ozawa's ability to inspire and guide a group of musicians. This performance is not to be missed.

I have been a subscriber to the newspaper for many years and enjoy it very much. It is a great way to keep up with what is happening in the community. I recently noticed that the paper does not include any articles about local events or activities. I think it would be a great addition to include such content, as it would provide readers with information about what is happening in their community.

The Junior Varsity continues to impress. In the past week they picked up wins over Northeastern and Keene State. Against Northeastern, both teams started with the first part of the game evenly, but the Bears dominated the second half, winning 86-69. Against Keene State, the Bears used their experience and teamwork to pull away, winning 90-53. Number one on the team was junior Rosie Griffin, who scored 20 points, including a crucial three-pointer, with 4:12 to play in the game.

The Junior Varsity has a record of 4-3 and has won the last two games. The team is looking forward to the rest of the season and is determined to continue their winning streak.

Swimmers Pull to Amherst

On Feb. 19 the swimming Bears battled Amherst College, winning by a score of 126-62. The Bears have been off to a strong start this season, with nine wins and only one loss. The team is looking forward to the rest of the season.

The Bears are led by senior Rick Bottistini, who set a record in the backstroke with a time of 8:12, and junior Steve Arseneault, who set a record in the breaststroke with a time of 3:54.5, three seconds off the previous record.

The Bears are currently ranked 15th in the nation and are looking forward to the rest of the season.

Commentary: by Doug Schorr

Since my last commentary was first published during the second week of school, there has been a lot of change and growth on campus. The first thing that comes to mind is the change in the weather. It has gone from cold and snowy to warm and sunny in a matter of weeks. This has had a big impact on the students, who are now able to enjoy outdoor activities.

Another change that has been noticeable is the growth of the plants on campus. The trees have grown taller and the bushes have become more leafy. This has made the campus look more vibrant and inviting.

There have also been changes in the student body. The number of students has increased, and there are now more students from diverse backgrounds. This has added to the diversity of the campus and has made it a more interesting place to be.

Overall, it has been a great semester so far. The students have had a lot of fun and have been able to make new friends. I am looking forward to seeing what the rest of the semester will bring.
