DEAR COMMENT STAFF:

I am a resident of Durgin Hall and work as an RA here. I want to complain about the parking lot that is situated outside the dorm. It is located within a block of my room and is generally full of cars. Many times, I have had to walk to the Library to attend class, and I always have a difficult time finding a parking spot. I have spoken to the powers that be about this issue, and they have informed me that the parking lot is fully utilized.

However, I believe that there are several ways to improve the situation. First, I would like to suggest that the campus provide more parking spaces for residents of Durgin Hall. Second, I would like to propose that the campus implement a parking management system that would allocate cars to specific parking spots.

In conclusion, I believe that the parking lot outside Durgin Hall is an issue that needs to be addressed. I hope that the campus will take action to improve the situation.

State worker speaks out

I would like to give my opinion that those who actually work at the State College should be paid more. I am a State employee on the grounds crew. I have been working here for three years, and I feel that I should be paid more for the work that I do. My current salary is $6000 per year, which I believe is insufficient. I would like to see a raise in my salary as soon as possible.

I have noticed that other employees on campus, such as the library staff and the food service workers, are also unhappy with their salaries. I believe that the State should be more fair in its compensation policies.

I urge the State to consider increasing the salaries of its employees. It is only fair that those who work hard for the State should be rewarded appropriately.

Sincerely,

BSC vs. Southern Connecticut. For the second straight year, the Bears have toppled Southern Connecticut 79-75. The Bears took the lead early in the game and never looked back.

Attending the game were, in the center, BSC’s two tallest players, Robert Morris and Bob Franklin. BSC’s forward, John Howard, hit a three-pointer from the corner of the lane to give the Bears a 7-0 lead.

John Howard: "I was open and had a clear shot. I was surprised to see the ball go through the net."

BSC’s guard, Judi Blinostro, scored 15 points on 7-of-11 shooting from the field. She also had 10 rebounds and 6 assists. Eileen Tillet scored 10 points and had 7 rebounds.

"It was a great game," said Howard. "I’m glad we won."

Good Choreography- The Boston Ballet

BY LARRY HERMAN

Last year when the Boston Ballet presented "Overture Dance," and "Thomas" at the Music Hall, audiences expected more than a showcase of great dancers and a platform for the company's new dances. Now that they've had their fill, they are ready for more. "It's like going to a movie," says Cohen, "it always starts from a spiritual need," she says. "The expression is a way to explore reality." Cohen has danced as a freelance artist for over 20 years, and is a member of the Brockton Art Center's New England Theatre Workshop, where she has performed in several productions. Cohen's "Goat Dance," which she performed in the Brockton Art Center's production of "The Lonely Goat Dance," was inspired by her Yemenite heritage, and attributes her radiant movement to a "consciousness of being." Cohen's "Goat Dance" is an "outward expression of a deep inward feeling," she says. "But for don't want to be one of those who say, 'I don't know what it is.'"

Among the performers, Cohen has danced in a solo, and in "The Lonely Goat Dance." Cohen's "Goat Dance" is based on the traditional Yemenite dance, and is a work in progress. She is currently studying with the American Dance Theater, and plans to perform in their upcoming tour of Europe. Cohen's "Goat Dance," along with other works, will be exhibited at the Brockton Art Center, 209 Tremont St., from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. She will also be in residence at the Brockton Art Center from March 4 to March 13.

The exhibition of "Outstanding Artist" nominees will take place on a separate basis, and will be held at the Brockton Art Center, 209 Tremont St., from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. The exhibition will feature the works of the Brockton Art Center's "Outstanding Artist" nominees, and will be open to the public on a first-come, first-served basis. The exhibition will be open to the public from March 4 to March 13.

BSO Cello Recital

The recital will feature Beethoven's Cello Concerto in C major, Op. 102, and the Schumann Cello Concerto in A minor, Op. 104. The concert will be conducted by James Conlon, and will feature the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The recital will be broadcast on WGBH-TV, and will be available for purchase through the Boston Symphony Orchestra's Ticket Office.

OLD COLONY THEATRE PRESENTS

"IN CONCERT"

Forty years ago, the Boston Ballet originated the concept of the "in-concert" performance, and has been a leader in this field ever since. The "in-concert" performance format, which combines the beauty of dance with the excitement of live music, has become a staple of the Boston Ballet's repertoire. The "in-concert" performance format is a way to bring the beauty of dance to a wider audience, and to bring new audiences to the world of dance.

String quartet and other musicians will also perform at the "in-concert" performance. The performance will feature the works of Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, and other composers.

Student Discounts are available for students with a valid ID. Tickets are $15 for students and $20 for adults. The performance will be held at the Old Colony Theatre, 501 Main Street, Plymouth, MA 02360. For more information, call the Old Colony Theatre at 781-742-4742.

Good Choreography: The Boston Ballet

Last year when the Boston Ballet presented "Duet Dance," and "Carmen," audiences both attended as die-hard ballet fans and critics as well as curious newcomers and the power. Now they back for their third season of "Duet Dance," and "Carmen," this time at the Boston Opera House, under the direction of New England Ballet, and the Civic Ballet, respectively.

Carmen is an exciting, melodramatic ballet that tells the story of a passionate love affair with a deadly ending. The music, composed by Bizet, is sure to send chills down one's spine, while the movement of the dancers is sweeping and captivating. The costumes and sets are visually stunning, adding to the overall theatrical experience.

Duet Dance, on the other hand, is a modern ballet that is both elegant and avant-garde. The choreography is a blend of traditional ballet and contemporary dance, creating a unique and dynamic performance. The dancers move with grace and precision, their movements synchronized to create a mesmerizing sight.

The Boston Ballet is known for its commitment to excellence in dance, and this season is no exception. With "Duet Dance" and "Carmen," they continue to deliver a high-quality performance that is not to be missed.

Shake, Shake, shake your bootie!

Shake, Shake, shake your bootie! That’s what the SCEC Dance Marathon to benefit Cerebral Palsy in Southeastern Massachusetts did! The booty amounted to $2000.00. The treasure was located on Friday, February 25th, from noon to midnight in the SU Ballroom.

Fifty dancers and their numerous sponsors, under the supervision of Pat Buckley, chairperson for the event, raised the treasure chest. Ms. Buckley was assisted by Barb Wright, Barb Alexander, Mary Beth-O’Brien, Linda Carroll, Cathy Hurlbert, Steve Mattern, and the WBIM staff who furnished the rhythms and tunes. The DJs who donated their support and time were: Al Atkinson, Jack King, Leslie Scott, Gary Moir, and Chip Brown.

At 7:00 p.m. on Friday, all the dancers were gathered in the SU Ballroom. Pat Buckley, chairperson for the event, began the dance marathon with words of encouragement and introduction. She introduced the treasury chest, which had been located in the SU Ballroom on Friday, February 25th. The Treasury Chest was filled with notes and messages from the participants to the non-participants.

The dance marathon was a huge success due to the support and generosity of the student body of BC. Many of the Maroon’s “Dance Marathon” column mentions the event.

The BSC shooters were also aiming too high, with numerous shots rattling off the net. After 20 minutes, the Bears had no lead, let alone a victory. The first period was a victory for the Indians as they scored nine times, while the Bears couldn't beat Bryant goaltender Bob Fisette, who made 44 stops, including many sensational for BSC, making 48 saves in yet another outstanding performance.

BSC dosed out the 1976-77 season with a 19-7-1 record, including the following: (1) Most victories in season--11 (1971-72), (2) Best winning percentage in season--.733 (1974-75), (3) Most consecutive games won--9 (4-1973-74), (4) Most goals by forward in a season--42 (1974-75), (5) Most goals by a freshman in a season--12 (1974-75), (6) Most points by a freshman in a season--58 (1974-75), (7) Most goals by a graduate with 66 career points in only three seasons, including the following: (1) Most points in a season--66 (1975-76), (2) Best save percentage in season--.889 (Deacon Perrotta in 1974-76), (3) Most goals by a graduate with 51 points in 1974-76), (4) Most assists by a graduate in a career--18 by Paul Kelly (17 by Jim McKeon and 10 by Paul Galvin vs. University of Lowell (First time in ECAC history) .... More fun at The Hill

Letter to the Editor

Another interesting note about the Bears is that they graced the Great Hill on Wednesday night, during the game vs. Fitchburg. When the game ended, a monkey was taken from the stands and carried away by the students of Durgin Hall. The monkey was reportedly missing a half-hour earlier, and the students of Durgin Hall have been unable to find the creature. It is not known if the monkey was released into the wild or if it was found.

All the fun at St. Louis Park is for BSC students. At South Dakota State, I found the course load to be quite heavy, with a lot of book reading and assignments. Don't crack a joke is first of Brien Parsons. It wasn't really, he took everything too seriously. So before the last basketball game of the season was played, parson marched with the correct player's shoes on his feet. Of course, the shoes were matched with the correct player's shoes on the correct basketball player's feet, but in this case, he made a practice of tying them on until they fit and then, and only then, did he start playing. Knowing this, we had the shoes tied and decided to call him up. We asked him what he was doing. He answered, "I'm getting ready to start the game." We then asked him what he was going to do in the game. He said, "I'll play basketball." We then asked him if he felt any pressure to perform well. He answered, "No, I'm just going to have fun."

The next question we asked him was, "What do you think about playing against Curry College?" He answered, "I think they're a good team, but we have the ability to beat them." We then asked him if he had any particular strategies for the game. He said, "I'm just going to play my game and see how it goes."

The game started and the Bears struggled at first. The scoreboard showed that they were behind 10-8 after the first quarter. However, in the second quarter, the Bears came back and took a 14-12 lead at halftime. In the third quarter, the Bears pushed their lead to 28-22. But in the fourth quarter, Curry made a comeback and took a 41-39 lead with just over two minutes left in the game. The Bears, however, were able to hold on and win the game, 43-41.

The victory over Curry was a great way to end the season for the Bears. They finished the season with a 17-10 record and a 9-9 record in conference play. The Bears were able to make the NCAA Division III Tournament, where they were seeded as the number one seed in the South Region. They defeated their next three opponents and advanced to the championship game, where they faced the number two seed, the University of Mary Washington. The Bears lost to Mary Washington, 73-68, in the championship game, but the experience was great for the Bears and their coach, Mike Boyle, who is now a head coach at a Division I school.

In conclusion, the Bears had a great season and it was great to see them succeed. The Bears are a great team and they will be missed. We wish them all the best in the future.
