Letters to the Editor

Class of '78-Presidential Elections

To the Editor:

Dear SGA President, How is it possible that the Class of '78 is already determining the next President? I have attended only one meeting of the SGA so far, and I am currently a member of the Social Science Committee and a member of the Orientation Committee. In my opinion, the SGA should be more active and the President should be more visible. I believe that the President of SGA should be the leader, not the coordinator and leader. What better way to display this leadership than by being chairperson of the Orientation Committee? I have been on entertainment subcommittees in the past three years, and I have helped organize and coordinate events that have been successful. I feel that these experiences have taught me the spirit of teamwork, the importance of cooperation, and the ability to solve problems. I believe that these are qualifications that I feel our President should have. I feel that the President should have committee experience and have served on many different committees. They are: Representative of SCEC, 20th; I, Lee Policow will be listed on the ballot for the office of President. I, Lee Policow will have a rascal. If the President is not qualified, it is not possible that the President will have a rascal. If the President is not qualified, it is not possible that the President will be effective in representing the students.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

P.S. Please don't forget to vote on the new PAA procedures.
Internships

Worcester, Mass. - Clark University and Dynamy, a Worcester-based organization specializing in urban experience education, will offer a fall internship program to college students. The program, called "The Urban Internship," is designed to provide students with hands-on experience in a metropolitan environment, combining academic study with practical work experience.

The program, which will begin in September and run through August, offers students the opportunity to work with organizations and businesses in the Greater Worcester area. Participants will be placed in internships that are tailored to their academic interests and career goals.

"This program is designed to give students the chance to apply their academic knowledge in a real-world setting," said Dean Hopkins, dean of COPACE. "By combining classroom learning with practical experience, students will gain valuable skills that will serve them well in their future careers."

The program is open to students from any major and offers the opportunity to earn academic credit. Interns will work on projects that are directly related to their academic interests, and they will receive guidance and support from program staff.

Further information about the program can be found on the COPACE website or by contacting the program coordinator at (508) 793-7474.

Women's Lacrosse Starts Season

What a difference a year makes. The things that were commonly expected to happen last year in terms of this program probably will not be as easy this year. The team was expected to be stronger, but the team is still young.

Coach A., Coach D. and the senior class were honored last year, but the younger classes were not honored. There were some injuries, but there were also some injuries last year.

Senior Class: Penny, Mary, Bart, Betty, Jane, Mary, Kate, Mary, Kelly, Pat, Sally, and Sandy. Assistant Coaches: Carol B., Linda, George, John, John, and Mark. Captain: Bill, Matt, Mark, Bill, and Mark. Coach: John, Mike, and Steve. "This is the third year in a row that the senior class has been honored. The team has been working hard this year, and we expect to have a good season." - Coach A.

Trip to Perkins School for the Blind

Clinicians with their students

by Jovin Miliagros

It is always nice to visit places of this kind and to meet people who work there. However, it is better if we can do this in a practical way and not just sit and listen to a lecture about their work.

We were very happy to be able to spend a whole day at Perkins School for the Blind. The staff there is very friendly and helpful, and they are always ready to answer any questions we might have. We were able to see and hear about the different activities that take place there, and we were especially interested in the Classes for the Blind and the Adaptive Physical Education program.

During the tour, we were able to see many of the facilities and classrooms, and we were impressed by the level of care and attention that is given to each student. We were also able to meet some of the students, and we were struck by their enthusiasm and determination. It was clear that they were making good progress, and we were happy to be able to contribute to their success.

The staff at Perkins School for the Blind was very kind and helpful, and they made sure that we had a great time. We are grateful for this opportunity to learn more about the work that they do, and we are looking forward to returning to this wonderful place in the future.

BSC Poly Hockey

By Chris McCarthy

On Sunday, April 3, a number of institutions for the "handicapped" and "special needs" children and adults enjoyed an afternoon of competition and fun, participating in the 4th annual Poly Hockey Tournament sponsored here at BSC's Kelly Gymnasium by the Students and faculty of the Phys.Ed. Dept. Student director and coordinator Bob "Quiggs" Quitadamo along with the rest of his staff of students, conducted a smooth, enjoyable, educational and exciting afternoon for the 200 participants compiled from 25 different schools and houses. Not only the poly hockey games, but also swimming and cartoons and films for those not involved or eliminated early in the competition were on the agenda for the afternoon.

What exactly is poly hockey you might ask? It is the safer version of floor hockey revised by the staff here at BSC. It is played with plastic sticks and plastic puck in comparison to the wooden "Broomhandle" and felt "donut shaped" puck of floor hockey. The official game calls for 6 players on a side; a center, two forwards or wings, two defensemen and a goalie. Some revisions have been made for the specific "population" of participants, having 2 centers, 2 wings or forwards, 2 defensemen and a goalie. "One of the hardest things," says Bob Quitadamo, "is to teach the players to play their positions not the puck." The teams are in competition for 4 months and go to various tournaments before coming to the final tournament held here at BSC. Dr. Joseph Huber explained more technical aspects such as: the "population" as he termed it, "we are dealing with" a competitive level. This 'level' is a stage where "co-operation of each teammate with one another must be present in order to beat the opposing team and the 'competitive spirit' must be within each player to produce an understanding and sportsmanship quality in each member of the team."

The opportunity to interview several of the students, both spectators and volunteers, at Boston University will be a rare opportunity to see the kids participate so enthusiastically. Jeff Marvelle, a phys. ed. major, who was a "monitor" offered, "The important thing here is to make sure the kids have fun." I also talked to Bob Quitadamo who put in 6 weeks into preparing the tournament. He explained how the college staff tried to sign up for participation, getting the facilities, 563 schools, 543 schools were asked to sign up. The tournament was won by the "New Bedford Team," and the "Face-off!

BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS

by GIl Blass

A night of New Jersey wind blew into Statehouse Commons, bringing within a whisked scar of itself, Bruce Springsteen. On his arrival, the former guitarist, Mike Bordin,Springsteen, was greeted by a press of journalists clamoring to record a follow-up album to his smash, "Born To Run." In addition, he had to contend with a new band of radio listeners, reaching a critical mass and stepping up to the microphone, which was an exciting experience for the band. The night's main attraction was the Springsteen concert, an action-packed two-hour show with Clarence Clemmons. Springsteen's energy was on full display, and the audience was awed by the passion and energy of urban living. Bruce Springsteen himself has found a niche that stretches from the worst of the worst to the most sublime. His music has been described as "Jungleland," "Spirits in the Night," and "Future of rock and roll."

There can be no doubt that Springsteen's presence has brought a new momentum to the music scene. His music has been described as "out of this world.

Lacrosse raises controversy

The recent controversy over the status of the men's lacrosse team has been a long time coming. The team, led by coach Miss Ann Coakley, has been a source of contention for the past few years.

The team's recent successes have brought attention to the issue, and the women's lacrosse team has also been involved in the controversy. The women's team has been more successful in terms of recruiting and retaining players, which has led to some friction between the two teams.

Women's Lacrosse Starts Season

What a difference a year makes. The things that were easy and uneventful in the past are now problems that are great and need solutions. The team's starting lineup and those attacks are gone through production, evaluation, and decision-making rather than through experience.

Each year's starting lineup is selected and decided by a selection committee, consisting of the two coaches and seniors Karen Tewksbury, Kathleen Parker, and Betty Jeness. The committee also includes the two coaches, Todd Hoey, and the two seniors, Karen Tewksbury and Kathleen Parker.

The committee's main objective will be to determine the right starting combination for the upcoming season. The starting lineup will be decided by the committee, and the final decision will be made by the coaches.
