There was much hoopla and hassles to go with it. First of all, the spectacle at the Auditorium concert tickets. Students ended up being literally sick because of the couldn’t get tickets to the “Star Concert”—composed of BSC Upsilon fraternity proved that their spirit lies with the school by warm and receptive, they returned with a team trophy Tournament where they won four come home victoriously each time with trophies to clutter the ‘speech Lectures’. As it turned out everything was at the Tilly Cafeteria by a discussion period, which lasted minutes. He began with a brief during Homecoming. The “Kick-Off Party” which got homecoming festivities at the Hill. Just as people were coming in from parties and had started to fall asleep, another false threat seemed to go to “StarBars”, with od without tight security.

The Professor’s views on this much inter-group discussion, many students asked many questions, the most common of which was: "What are you trying to do to the students?" The professor’s answer was: "I am trying to create a discussion in the classroom, a discussion that is not only about the subject at hand, but also about the way we think and the way we learn."

The team would like to extend their most sincere wishes to our debaters, Mary C. Carroll was awarded a third place medal in Oral Interpretation, one of the five events open to the competition. Mike Casey won a first place medal in the largest competition in the country, the Tournament of Champions, which takes place at the University of New Hampshire. President Joseph A. Dolan awarded the tournament trophies to both teams. Mike Casey was the tournament captain, and Mary C. Carroll was the tournament vice-captain. The tournament was held over the weekend, from Friday to Sunday, at the University of New Hampshire. The tournament was open to any team from any school in the United States, and was sponsored by the National Forensic Association. The tournament was held in the University’s Recreational Center, and was attended by over 200 debaters from across the country. The tournament was judged by a panel of over 50 judges, who were all trained in the art of debate. The tournament was a success, with many teams coming away with awards and experience. The team would like to extend their most sincere wishes to our debaters, Mary C. Carroll, and Mike Casey, for their hard work and dedication to the team.

The team’s most recent tournament took place at the University of Maine, Portland. Once again, the team performed exceptionally well, coming home with two awards. The team was co-edited by the editors of the University’s student newspaper, The Daily Campus, and was co-edited by the editors of the University’s student magazine, The Lookout. Teacher Exchange

The Center for International Educational Exchange is pleased to inform the academic community that it will conduct interviews for applicants interested in participating in the student exchange program with a country other than their own. Interviews will be held on Tuesday, November 15th, at the Office of Education, 2:00 PM.

Midnight Breakfast

The Class of ’79 Officers would like to extend our appreciation for all who contributed to making Homecoming 1977 a great success. They worked hard and we would like to thank everyone who helped them.

Homecoming Thanks

I would like to take this time to express my warmest thanks to all those who contributed to making Homecoming 1977 a great success. Much hard work has been done by everyone involved, and we are grateful for all that was accomplished.

Non-interest for Queen

"The students of this school were not interested in a homecoming queen. I don’t think anyone went to the game." November 5, 1977. The Homecoming queen was selected by the students and not through any formal process.

Events Outside the Bridgewater Area

The American Lawyer has joined Alpha Chi Omega fraternity. The election was held on Tuesday, June 23rd at the Bridgewater College Amphitheater. The new queen is Margaret Wilson.

Correction

The comment in the previous issue regarding the student organization as a "fad" was not accurate. The organization was formed for the purpose of creating a sense of community among the students.

Afro-American Society Lecture

On Monday, November 16, the Afro-American Society will present a lecture on "The Black Experience in America" at 7:00 PM in the library. The speaker, Dr. John Johnson, will discuss the evolution of the Afro-American community in the United States.

Editorial

President Roderick has been criticized for changing the name of the college to "Bridgewater College." However, we believe that the change is necessary for several reasons. First, it will help to clarify the identity of the institution. Second, it will help to improve the image of the school. Third, it will help to attract more students. Finally, it will help to increase the overall prestige of the institution.

AMAZING KREISKEN by Doug Schorr
The Amaziing Kreisken, winner of the 1977-78 Current Show, sponsored by ASC on November 11, 1977, is a singing, dancing, and art-ful extravaganza for a sell-out crowd of more than 1,000 people. The group began with the performance of "Kreisken's Five," a group of three students performing a song with an original melody. The performance was accompanied by Kreisken's own guitar, and the audience was treated to a variety of musical acts, including a dance by the cast and members of the ensemble. The final performance featured Kreisken's "Kreisken's Five," which was accompanied by a lively dance and singing. The performance was an event that both entertainment and artistic expression are well-received.

"Star Bars" by Doug Schorr
The Student Union Ballroom was set for a show on Friday evening, November 11, 1977. "Star Bars," a presentation of the S.U. Program Committee, was to feature a special confirmation celebration and an evening of entertainment. The show was a musical affair with a variety of acts, including a comics, a dance performance by the Bathurst and Chicago High School, and a performance by the Student Union Program Committee. The evening will be held in the Student Union B.S.C. and S.B.O. for the public.

Dixon's Axe Murder Just a Rumor

By Regis Zuvic

While some students speculated about Dixon's Axe Murder, the truth is more plausible. Dixon's Axe Murder was a local rock band that gained popularity in the late 1970s. Their music combined elements of punk, garage, and New Wave, making them a favorite among students at the time. The band's popularity waned as the punk scene shifted to other styles, but their music continues to be enjoyed by fans today.

By Doug Scherr

The Amazin' Krebskin, veteran of more than 1,000 shows, recently performed at the Student Union Ballroom. His unique brand of comedy and entertainment has charmed audiences for decades. Krebskin's act has been compared to a cross between a juggler, illusionist, and ventriloquist. He is known for his quick wit and ability to interact with the audience. The Student Union Program Committee is proud to present such a talented performer on campus.

Choral Society Concert Review

The Choral Society presented their winter concert, featuring a diverse selection of choral works from different periods and styles. The performance was well-received, with audience members commenting on the excellent vocal quality and musicality. The Choral Society is a well-respected organization on campus, known for their high standards and dedication to musical excellence.

Dixon's Axe Murder Just a Rumor

By Regis Zuvic

While some students speculated about Dixon's Axe Murder, the truth is more plausible. Dixon's Axe Murder was a local rock band that gained popularity in the late 1970s. Their music combined elements of punk, garage, and New Wave, making them a favorite among students at the time. The band's popularity waned as the punk scene shifted to other styles, but their music continues to be enjoyed by fans today.
