A short course in Bonded Bourbon.

First lesson: Bonded Bourbon is no unique that it took an act of Congress (in 1967) to establish the standards for Old Grand-Dad and other Bonded whiskies.

Only Bonded whiskies have a green tax stamp. It's your guarantee that the whiskey is at least four years old. Old Grand-Dad Bonded is always aged longer.

KY ButKENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKY

Old Grand-Dad Bonded is authentic Kentucky sour-mash bourbon, made with pure limestone water, the finest grains, and aged in new charred-oak barrels.

100 is perfect. Bonded Bourbon must be 100 proof. No more. No less.

Final exam. You need only one sip to recognize the clearly superior quality and taste of Old Grand-Dad. Cheers!

After months of negotiations, Faculty Ratifies 3 Year Contract.

The contract agreement is that department chairs be elected by the faculty members in each department. Each chair will serve in accordance with the renewal of the contract, by January 1, 1979. According to Dr. Charles Angell, the faculty is meeting with Dean Anderson to call the elections. Existing chairs would be elected until elections could be called. Director of Academic Affairs, which is unique to BSC, is not allowed to participate in department elections. It was also stipulated that members of the faculty and administrators would only hold one position at a time to be administrator.

Students, also, were granted power in the bargaining process because the BSC Board of Trustees, the recognized bargaining agent for the BSC, will be in negotiations with the All College Committee. With the All College Committee, the power of the students is greatly increased, if they care to exercise it. As Dr. Michael Kremers, Assistant Professor of Political Science, a member of the faculty and administration can only be a member of the All College Committee.

A Worthy Cause

Dear Editor,

The Fast for World Harvest is a worthy cause. I believe the views expressed in The Comment's editorial, Oxfam-America is indeed doing a superb job.

The fast itself is a means of protest that will be provided to other countries through this fast. It has been inspired by the great work being done by Oxfam-America, and their funds support many programs that people in our own country are suffering from, too, and are not receiving the needed attention that this country deserves.

In order to participate, I have been making donations to Oxfam-America, as well as participating in school activities that help to promote this cause.

Sincerely,

Katherine Doe

Questions

Letter to the Editor

Questions I have: Why can't I park? Why is it so dirty in the halls? Why do the students who walk through the doors look so poor? Why do we have to pay for our textbooks? Why do we have to pay for our textbooks?

I believe that the students who walk through the doors look so poor because they come from poor families. They have to work hard to get through school, and they just can't afford to buy textbooks.

Thanks to S.C.E.C.

Food Service Contract Expires this year

The contract between the student body and the food service provider will expire on November 10, 1979. The food service provider will not be able to fulfill the contract due to rising costs.

The food service provider is looking for a new partner to help them fulfill the contract. They are currently in talks with a new partner to ensure the best possible service for the student body.

Alpha Careless with fishing hooks

Dear Editor,

Last Monday I had the privilege of reading the edition of The Comment which was distributed to me. I was very impressed by the quality of the writing and the overall presentation of the content.

As a member of the community, I would like to express my concern about the way some students are handling fishing hooks. It is important to remember that fishing hooks can cause serious injuries, and it is essential to follow proper safety procedures to prevent accidents.

I hope that students will take this concern seriously and follow the guidelines provided by the community.

Sincerely,

Lock Your Doors

To the Editor:

I have been witnessing a series of incidents where doors have been left unlocked and unattended. This is not a minor issue, and it's important to address it.

I have seen instances where people have left their doors unlocked while holding onto their belongings, and this is not acceptable. It is crucial to take responsibility and ensure that our belongings are secure.

Lock your doors, and let's work together to create a safe environment.

Sincerely,

Fast for a World Harassed: Help America First

According to the Student Union Office, November 17, 1978 has been designated as "Fast for a World Harassed" by the United Nations. The purpose of the fast is to draw attention to the crises that plagues our world today and to encourage individuals to take action in their own communities.

The question is one we should all ask. It press overseas at United Nations to foster peace and proliferation in the Middle East. What are we doing to help America first? Lives are being lost in our own nation, yet we are not taking action to help. Are we willing to die for America when our own people are suffering?

Some are asking, "What can I do to help America first?" The answer is simple. We can all do something. We can start by giving to charities that support American soldiers. We can write letters to our representatives in Congress, urging them to take action on peace and proliferation issues. We can also help by voting for candidates who support these issues.

In conclusion, we should all be asking ourselves, "What can I do to help America first?" The answer is simple: do something. Whether it's giving to charities, writing letters, or voting for candidates, we can all make a difference. Let's start today.

Lock Your Doors

To: The Editor

Dear Editor,

I read with interest the recent article about the increase in break-ins at Bryant College. As a student, I feel it is important to take precautions to ensure the safety of our campus.

I would like to suggest that students lock their doors and windows when they leave their rooms. This is a simple step that can help prevent break-ins and keep our campus secure.

Thank you for considering my suggestion.

Sincerely,

What's a Clamato?

By Howard May

"Who knew there were so many names for one drink?" said the clerk at the liquor store. "The only thing I know for sure is that they all taste the same -- like water with a little something else in it." This is probably the reason why the Clamato is not a very popular beverage. However, if you don't want to be the only one to enjoy this usually underrated drink, then you should try it the next time you see it on the shelf. It's a great way to cool off on a hot day, and it's also a great way to get your daily dose of sodium. The Clamato is a blend of tomato juice and clam water, and it's a great way to get your daily dose of vitamin C, as well. So the next time you're at the store, don't be afraid to try something new. You might just find that you love the Clamato as much as the next person!"

Vallee to speak on UFO’s

Fast for a World Harvest

Any newspaper, large or small, gets its information from a variety of sources. The Comment, having a relatively small staff, has to do its best to keep an ear on everything that’s going on on campus. We need your help. If you hear of something that should be covered, give us a call, and we’ll do our best to report on it.

-Professors, have you had a book published recently? Or gone somewhere as a guest lecturer in your field? Let us know.
-Any new engagement announcements? (Such as faculty contracts, etc.) The staff should be aware of things like these, call the Comment and leave a message.

It’s important to us that we report as much news as our small staff can handle, but we can’t do it alone — call us with a scoop!

Thanks, the Editors
Vallely to speak on UFO's

Vallely is the student representative to the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C., an instructor in Astronomy, and the author of a book about the effects on a witness during the U.F.O. experience. His book, "Astronomy," is scheduled for publication on November 15th, 1979, 9:50 p.m. in the bookstore.

Attorney No. 2

The plaintiff cites for the increase in the U.S. Air Force's budget as an example of the money being spent on extraterrestrial activity. The court, however, found that the budget increase was not due to the increasing number of sightings but rather to the improved technology and methods of detection. The judge ruled that the evidence presented by the plaintiff did not meet the standard of proof required for a successful lawsuit.

The Bridgeport State College Ensemble Theatre’s Children’s Theatre Department played for the third time in a row for the Choral Society. The concert was held in the Performing Arts Center and featured the work of the Choral Society.”

The concert was held in the Performing Arts Center and featured the work of the Choral Society. The concert was titled “A Christmas Carol” and included selections from the holiday classic. The performance was directed by Donald C. Nead, a Junior Theatre major at B.S.C., and Stage Managing by Craig Teague, also a Junior Theatre major at B.S.C.

Great forces from the past: Julie Matheson and Lois Maxfield, two of the original stars of the show, returned to perform in the concert. Julie, who has been featured in several productions, and Lois, who has been a member of the group for over 10 years, brought their musical talents to bear in the presentation of the “Christmas Carol.”

The performance was also highlighted by the singing of the Choral Society, which consisted of over 100 members. The group performed selections from their newest album, “Past, Present, and Future,” as well as many other selections from their repertoire. The singing was accompanied by the Accompanist, Melissa Holt, who is herself a member of the Choral Society.

The concert was a great success, and the audience was thoroughly entertained by the talented performers. The Choral Society’s rendition of “A Christmas Carol” was a fitting conclusion to the evening’s events, and left the audience with a feeling of warmth and holiday spirit.

Fast For World Harvest - Nov. 16

By Allan Linde

Thursday, November 18th, the students of the Christian Foundation at St. John's College will begin their Fast for World Harvest. This is an annual event that is held on campus to raise awareness and funds for the fight against hunger.

The students will fast from breakfast to dinner for 24 hours. During this time, they will be unable to consume any food or drink except water. The goal of the fast is to raise awareness about the global hunger crisis and to encourage others to take action.

All donations made during the fast will be given to the Christian Foundation at St. John's College. The money raised will be used to support the work of the foundation, which includes providing food and other resources to those in need.

The students hope to raise at least $10,000 through the fast. They are asking for donations from friends, family, and the community to help them reach their goal.

The students will also be holding a series of events and activities throughout the day to raise awareness about the importance of ending world hunger. These events will include a panel discussion, a screening of a documentary, and a rally to call for action.

The students hope that by raising awareness about the Global Hunger Crisis, they can inspire others to take action and help end world hunger.
