Defense is the Key

(Cost, from p.3)

This year’s defense has been characterized as the best in the history of the Bridgewater State College Bears. Since last year, the Bears have taken in more than 90 points and have only given up 55. This year’s defense is led by Captain Mike Boyle, the team’s MVP, who has been a consistent performer throughout the season. Boyle and his teammates have been able to frustrate opponents and limit their scoring opportunities.

Mike Boyle, the Bears’ MVP, led the team in tackles and sacks. He also played an important role in the team’s defensive strategy. The Bears’ defense was successful in intercepting passes and forcing turnovers, which helped to prevent the opponent’s scoring opportunities. Boyle’s leadership and defensive skills played a key role in the Bears’ success this season.

Committees Announced

Dr. James Brennan, who recently assumed the chairpersonship of the All College Committee, has announced the formation of several new committees.

Bears’ B-Ball Team Headed for Finals

Dr. Brennan expressed his belief that the team’s performance this season was a result of hard work and dedication. "The team’s success this year is a testament to the hard work and dedication of each and every member," he said. "I am proud of our team and look forward to seeing them in the finals next weekend.”

Defence has been the name of the game for the Bridgewater Bears entering the second season of the school's history. In the spring of 2017, the Bears won four of their opening five games, including a 2-1 victory over the Middleboro Colonies in the lightly attended opening game. The Bears are 3-1 and 17-0 in the Mass. State Collegiate Conference.

The team consists of members who have played a key role in the Bears' success this season. The members are involved in the following areas:

- The All-College Committee
- The Long Range Planning and Finance Committee
- The Academic Policies Committee
- The Social Services Committee

The All-College Committee includes several key players, among them, Lisa Macomber, Mike McHardy, Jody Waslewski, Albert Silva, and a Nursing School Recruiter. The committee also includes representatives from the Undergraduate Office, the Career Center, and the Library.

Finance: Albert Silva, and his colleagues. The committee also includes representatives from the Undergraduate Office, the Career Center, and the Library.

According to Kathy Coffee and Richard Myles, who are a leader in the field of social work, "We are pleased to see that these committees are being formed and that the students are involved in the decision-making process." The committee is working on several important issues, including the college's budget and financial aid policies.

Give me a 'No' for the Editor

Dear Editor,

Firstly, it is necessary to recognize the expanding scope of student life by the Student Union Board of Governors. In recent years, we have seen a growth in the number of students that have been involved in various organizations, clubs, and committees. This growth has led to the creation of new positions and roles that have contributed to the overall success of the Union. In addition, the Student Union Board of Governors has taken on new responsibilities and has initiated new programs that have helped to improve the quality of campus life.

Additionally, the Student Union Board of Governors is better, a more beautiful Union or not, a use fee approved by the BOG, will be brought to a final vote. This statue, a monument to the occasion, will be placed on a platform located in the background, and accepted at some point in the future. This statue would not cause logical destruction, but the improvements, whether they are made or not, would be appreciated.

It's your money. It's your opinion. It's your right to speak up. It's your duty to be well-informed and to participate in the decision-making process. It's your responsibility to use the Union to the best of your ability.

Sincerely and with much respect,

Letters to the Editor
Editorial

March 1, 1979

The officers of the Class of 1982 are excited and enthusiastic about their upcoming election. A group of students is creating a petition concerning the future of the student center. Students are urged to send in their signatures and letters of comments and opinions to support their petition. The group will present their petition to the Student Center Committee.

I am not certain that these incidents represent a trend away from the quip, which has been the core of BSC's recent success. It is too soon to tell before any trend can be seen, but there is a growing concern. Although these data do not appear to be startling, they are nonetheless important. It seems that the trend is towards a more social, less academic culture. The question is whether this trend is beneficial to the institution as a whole. We must continue to monitor these trends and take steps to ensure that they do not undermine the academic mission of the college.

Provide a name for 'you'

Dear Editor:

I am writing concerning the spending of Student fees by the Student Union. I believe that the Student Union has not spent its student fees wisely and has not enjoyed the full participation of the students in its activities. The Student Union has not provided adequate opportunities for the students to voice their opinions and concerns.

Sincerely,

Mike Johnson

'Enhance life rather than destroy it'

To the Editor:

The past few years have been a period of great change in the United States. This change has been both positive and negative. The positive changes include the end of the Vietnam War, the rise of women's rights, and the development of new technologies. The negative changes include the continued presence of poverty, discrimination, and war.

In the face of these changes, it is important to remember that we are all responsible for the future of this country. We must work together to create a world that is more just and peaceful.

Sincerely,

Richard Baker

P.S. Please write your name on your notes to the business office so that you can receive a good grade.

Thanks, Linda

Unity

For many freshmen, the transition to college can be a challenging one. It is important to consider how to best support and encourage these students. One way to do this is by creating opportunities for them to connect with each other and with the campus community.

Commentary

SU: Why a Director?

By John L. Carter

In the January 25th edition of The Comment an article written by Jean N. Cote was published in which she discussed the student budget situation. The article raised some interesting points, and while I agree in principle with some of her arguments, I feel it was a bit too one-sided.

Now that I have decided to contribute to the debate on the subject, I must say that I am surprised, after all the discussion that has taken place, that the budget situation has not been discussed at all. While I agree that the budget situation is complex, I feel that it is important to consider all the factors that contribute to it.

For example, it is true that the budget situation is difficult, but it is also true that the budget situation is the result of a lack of planning and coordination on the part of the administration. The administration has failed to take the necessary steps to ensure that the budget situation is adequately addressed.

In conclusion, I feel that the budget situation is a complex issue that requires a comprehensive approach. It is important to consider all the factors that contribute to it, and to take steps to ensure that the budget situation is adequately addressed.

Majority/Minority: A Choice

By James A. Helf

In the January 25th edition of The Comment an article was published in which the author discussed the issue of minority students and their struggles. While I agree that minority students face many challenges, I feel that the article was a bit too one-sided.

Now that I have decided to contribute to the debate on the subject, I must say that I am surprised, after all the discussion that has taken place, that the minority student issue has not been discussed at all. While I agree that minority students face many challenges, it is also true that they have a choice.

For example, it is true that minority students face many challenges, but it is also true that they have a choice. They can either take the initiative to overcome their challenges, or they can choose to remain passive and allow their challenges to continue.

In conclusion, I feel that the minority student issue is a complex issue that requires a comprehensive approach. It is important to consider all the factors that contribute to it, and to take steps to ensure that minority students are given the opportunity to choose.

SU: Why a Director?

In the January 3rd edition of The Comment, an article written by Joan A. Brennan and John Davis, the authors discuss the importance of having a university director. They argue that the establishment of a director would increase revenue for the school and provide a more organized approach to administration.

SU: All-College Curriculum

The All-College Curriculum is considered as committees of the All College Committee. The committee will meet on Thursday, February 6, 1979, at 11:00 AM in the Library Conference Room.
The song that was recorded was "recording what he called iex-Mex" began in Clovis, New Me when his band was playing at a local venue. Later in the year, American Broadcasting Company Promotions announced that "That'll be the Day" was a hit for many teen idols of the 50's such as Danny and the Juniors and Paul Freed. Mountaineering #1.

What is mountaineering all about? Funny you should ask.
Because we just happen to have an answer. (Ah-h, life's little coincidences.) Mountaineering is a skill, a science and an art. Yet anyone with a thirst for excellence and normally developed motor skills can master it. Simply study these fundamentals and follow them faithfully.

Mountaineering #2.

There just reach for a beer. BUSCH ad

28 Day, here's where the fun begins. Hold the mountain firmly in your right hand, grasp the mountain top with your left hand and twist the little folks off. There you go.

3 Once poured, packing becomes paramount. As any seasoned mountainer will tell you, the only way to down a mountain is slowly, smoothly and steadily — savoring every swallow of the brew that is Busch. If you're a bit awkward at first, don't be discouraged. Perfection takes practice. Soon enough, having emptied your and filled soul will be a mountaineer.

Since 1795 we've welcomed our guests with our best.
A traditional taste of Cuervo Gold.

Visitors to Cuervo have always been greeted in a special way.
They're met at the gates and invited inside to experience the unique taste of Cuervo Gold. This is the way we've said "welcome" for more than 180 years. And it is as traditional as Cuervo Gold itself.

For this dedication to tradition is what makes Cuervo Gold truly special. Next, on the rocks, with a splash of soda, in a perfect Sunrise or Margarita, Cuervo Gold will bring you back to a time when quality ruled the world.

Cuervo. The Gold standard since 1795.

Don't just reach for a beer. Head for the mountains.

This position will be responsible for the overall operation and management of the station. The SGA Senate discusses an issue.

The Bridgewater State College Administration maintains that they are therefore taking serious action in their 84th per hour payment to student employees. When the student workers at Bridgewater and other state colleges in Mass., the average amount of student union money spent in other activities now offered to the students is a direct bearing on the increase.

The SGA Senate discussed this issue at a show of large-scale support for this proposal. His persuasive argument was that it would substantially diminish the possibility of circulating petitions to the state legislature indicating this stand. In a letter to SGA President Al Silva, President King has come out in support of the student union money spent in other activities now offered to the students.

The SGA Senate has also been discussing the possibility of raising the drinking age in Massachusetts. An increase in the drinking age would not only increase the age of university drinking but also raise the legal drinking age in Massachusetts. As a result, the SGA Senate has been working hard to pass a resolution that would increase the drinking age in Massachusetts.
