Hockey Team Drops Two

In the world of sports, a game is a generally understood format in which two teams compete against each other. In this case, the Bridgewater State College hockey team was defeated by a score of 6-4 on the weekend. The victory over Bridgewater State College was a significant achievement for the Minutemen, who scored two goals in the third period to secure their win. The game was a close one, with both teams putting up a strong fight throughout.

Dorm Fight Questioned

There was a fire fight involving the national political columnist Chip Barone and Richard Harwood. The incident took place in the Scott Hall dormitory on November 20. The defendants claimed that Chip announced that he had friends on the Dean Council and that no disciplinary action would be taken against him. The latter proved interesting as the incident did not involve the application of the Student Government Act.

The defendants were given three days to appeal the decision. The dormitory was restored to normalcy.

Wilson Speaks at BSC

By Bill Bliss

On Monday morning, approximately 80 students attended a seminar on the subject of harassment in the workplace. The seminar was conducted by Wilson, who is known for his work in the field of social sciences.

The seminar was well-received, with many students expressing interest in attending future sessions. The seminar concluded with a question-and-answer session, during which students were able to ask Wilson about his work and its implications for the workplace.

Sexual Harassment

The National Advisory Council on Women's Education has recommended that colleges and universities adopt an inclusive approach to the issue of sexual harassment. The recommendation is based on research indicating that sexual harassment can take many forms, including verbal, physical, and psychological.

The council's report suggests that institutions should develop policies and procedures that address sexual harassment in a comprehensive manner. The report also recommends that institutions provide training and education on sexual harassment to all members of the campus community.

On the evening of November 14, 1979, I attempted to attend a hearing at Scott Hall. The following occurred: a student was alleged to have violated the Fire Safety Code of the residence hall. The Student Court was to hear the case, and the student's counsel, Mr. Blomquist, was called to testify on the student's behalf. However, Mr. Blomquist was not present, and the student was not allowed to testify. The reason given was that the student had not yet been notified of the hearing. This is problematic, as the student's right to a fair hearing is guaranteed by the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. The Senate--or the part of the Senate/Exec. Board (The phrase "play court" has been used by others) must address this issue.

Closed Hearing at Scott

On the afternoon of November 27, 1979, I attempted to attend a hearing at Scott Hall. The hearing involved a student physically and mentally disabled who had been placed on probation for violating a few rules such as not being in the residence hall after 11:00 P.M. and playing music after 10:00 P.M.

The student, who was not identified directly, is known by the name of John Smith. He has been diagnosed as having a learning disability and is held up as a model of how a student with such a disability can succeed.

The hearing involved three people: the student, a representative of the disability services office, and the dorm advisor.

I arrived at the hearing on time but was denied entrance. The dorm advisor informed me that I was not allowed to attend the hearing for confidentiality reasons. I was also told that I could not forward the proceedings to the student.

From what I was told by the advisor, the main points of the hearing were that the student had failed to follow the rules set by the disability services office and that he had been placed on probation for not following them.

The advisor also stated that the student had been given a chance to improve his behavior but had not taken advantage of it.

I believe that this hearing is a clear example of how the system fails to provide equal protection for all students, including those with disabilities. The student had been given a chance to improve his behavior and had failed to do so. The only solution to this problem is for the university to provide more resources and support for students with disabilities.

I urge the university to take steps to ensure that all students, including those with disabilities, are given an equal opportunity to succeed.

Letter "no surprise"

Dear Mr. McGarrick,

I was greatly disturbed by your letter printed in last week’s edition of the Bridgewater State Times. You seem to have some sort of grudge against the many causes of the 60’s and you are trying to make them appear as if they were not important at all.

I think it’s a great shame that you feel so strongly about this. You seem to be very apathetic to the world around you. I do not think that you have any idea what we went through during those times. We were all young and we were living in a time of change.

The time we lived in has affected us, and it has affected you. You seem to be so much older than those of us who were actually there. You do not seem to have any idea what we were going through.

Please remember that we were all young and we were trying to make a difference. We were all part of the times.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my thanks to the Eagles for helping me catch the ball at the stadium the other day. They were playing a close game and you were the only one who threw the ball to me. I had just scored a touchdown and was in the end zone when the ball was thrown to me. I ended up catching the ball and bringing it back for a touchdown.
