Dear Editor,

The Comment, May 8, 1980

I am writing to address a few comments in response to the article by Nancy Ciganovic, "In Defense of Women," which appeared in last week's issue of The Comment. As a male student, I believe that it is important to respond to such an article to ensure a fair and balanced perspective.

The article argues against the idea of "alternative press" and questions the validity of the "Women's Centre." While I understand the concerns raised in the article, I believe that the idea of an "alternative press" can be beneficial in providing a platform for diverse voices and perspectives.

In terms of the Women's Centre, I believe that it serves an important role in supporting and empowering women. The efforts to establish the centre were driven by a genuine desire to create a space where women could feel heard and valued.

Additionally, the article mentions the "Women's Centre" and "alternative press" in a way that suggests they are not worthy of recognition. I believe that it is important to respect these initiatives and support their continued development.

Thank you for considering my response.

Sincerely,

Language Does

Susan Glazer

Dear Editor,

Every day and everywhere we speak, we are using language. Language is a complex system of symbols and rules that we use to communicate with others. It is a tool that we use to express thoughts, feelings, and ideas.

Sincerely,

David Brown

In Defense of Women

Dear Editor,

I have just read an article about the importance of language in society. It is crucial that we understand the impact of language on our daily lives. Language is not just a means of communication, but also a tool for expressing our thoughts and ideas.

Sincerely,

INTERVIEW

PODASTIC SCENE

By Lee Hamel

Roger Provost believes "James" movie "begins the life of the character," although the producers have not come to that conclusion yet. "James" has been under the direction of the film "The Bridges of Madison County," director Robert Redford, and has been worked on by several other directors. "James" was shooting scenes in Madison County, New York, late last month, but has had his share of problems. "I did the scene, but they had to cut it out," said Roger Provost.

The L.A. Times story on "The Bridges of Madison County" suggests that the movie may be a hit with Hollywood. "It's a story about a woman and a man," said Provost. "The story is a love story, but it's about the people, not the characters." The movie is about a man and a woman who fall in love, but their relationship is complicated by the presence of a man and a woman who are in love with the same man. "It's a story about love and relationships," said Provost. "It's a story about the human condition." The movie is scheduled for release in the spring of 1980.

The Bridgewater Public Library will present "The King and I" on May 10. This musical version of the novel "Anna and the King of Siam" stars Birgit Nilsson and Renata Scotto. The musical features an imaginative ballet by Jerome Robbins, with music by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. The show is scheduled for 8 P.M. on May 10.

The bridges will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. thereafter. The last nightclub for general ticket sales at 10 a.m., Saturday, May 10. Tickets are on sale at the info booth. This is the variety of music ranging from rock and roll to heaven forbid, disco..... Well, some albums are. But most are gems; you are in a record store, don't pass the "junkbox" by. It's not all Wayne Newton and Leif Garrett.

The bridges that of a brand. new disco. And the price? Most of the discs range topped. the charts while others are obscure ones; albums that only rock afficianado would know about. Here is a list of the albums, all of them:

Eric Clapton is touring Britain next month to support his "Just One Night" album. The back of his head is almost as well known as his face. This album was recorded in London and Paris with the help of Emile Durocher on the keyboard. The album is in a new format, the Magic Man way. Clapton's most recent recording is an electric one, a "rock and roll" feeling.

"The Bridges of Madison County" is the first major American motion picture in which Clapton has appeared. The film will be released in the fall of 1980.

"The Bridges of Madison County" is a must. As the Magic Man was to the blues, the Bridges of Madison County was to the rock. For years, Clapton has been the bridge between the two worlds, and this film marks his first major appearance in cinema.

"The Bridges of Madison County" is a must see film. The story is about a woman and a man who fall in love, but their relationship is complicated by the presence of a man and a woman who are in love with the same man. "It's a story about love and relationships," said Provost. "It's a story about the human condition." The movie is scheduled for release in the spring of 1980.

The East of "Plaza Suite" was essentially an enjoyable experience. The play is a theater piece in the tradition of "Plaza Suite" of 60's, but her writing had an even better effect.

My first impression of the performance came before the play, large, merely detailed these roles were created by Caryn Thomas and the class of the audience. The author, Karen Tobin, had written the script. The script was developed by the theatre program (B.S.U. Union Program Committee.)

Governor Addresses Conference

By Bill Bliss

May 7, the Department of Education sponsored Second Annual AIDS Conference. This year’s topic was, "The Social Policy Defense on Community: Men for a Positive Option." The keynote speaker was Herbert W. Blum, an economist at the University of Massachusetts.

Blum’s plea was for a comprehensive program that would include education, prevention, and treatment. He also advocated for the reclassification of these conditions as a disease instead of a moral sin.

The conference was attended by over 200 people, including students, faculty members, and community leaders.
