The proposed faculty strike was formally called for November 17th when the faculty bargaining committee, recognizing the importance of the upcoming election, decided to delay the strike until after the election. The proposed faculty strike, supported by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) and the State of Massachusetts, adds a new dimension to the election. A proposed two-house Democratic convention has been called in Fleetwood after the November 17th faculty strike date.

Recapping the events that led to the strike is Professor Charles Angell, president of the faculty, and椅 refers to a collective bargaining agreement that was reached between the faculty and the university. The agreement calls for a 3-year raise of 4.5% per year, with a 1.5% raise in the first year and a 2% raise in the second year. The agreement also includes a 15% increase in the base salary for all faculty members, with a 10% increase for those with 5 years of service.

According to Professor Angell, the major reason for the strike is the university's refusal to negotiate a contract that includes a 15% raise for all faculty members, with a 10% increase for those with 5 years of service. The university offered a 6% raise over 3 years, with a 2% raise in the first year and a 3% raise in the second year, which is insufficient to meet the needs of the faculty.

The proposed faculty strike is against the law and is not happening this year thanks to a renewed bargaining between the faculty and the university. A proposed State House vote on the proposed faculty strike is scheduled for November 17th, with a break in the impasse being reached on the same day. In 1972, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was formed by the merger of the two most populous counties in the state, Berkshire and Hampden. The merger was opposed by many residents of the two counties, who believed that the new county would be dominated by the cities of Springfield and Worcester. The merger was approved by a narrow margin, and the new county was named Berkshire-Hampden County, or just Berkshire County.

Towing

To All Students Here at St. John's: As I sit here writing this letter about the recent events of cars being towed from near the Catholic Center, I feel compelled to express my concern and dissatisfaction. Some people think that the parking situation is hopeless and that we're all screwed. It was not my intention to bring about the situation, but to draw attention to the real problem. I hope that the administration takes this letter seriously and considers our concerns.

Sincerely yours,

Yours truly,

Heads Up, Food Service

Dear Sir,

I am a student who does not always like to eat at the cafeteria because of the long lines and the type of food that is offered. However, I have been concentrating on my studies and have been unable to prepare meals on my own. I have noticed that the cafeteria has been offering a variety of new dishes lately, which has made it more appealing to me. Additionally, the staff seems to be more helpful and attentive, which has improved my overall experience.

Sincerely yours,

Towing or Bus...

Working together, we can make a difference. I hope everyone is aware of the problem of students being towed from near the Catholic Center. I have spoken to several people who have been towed, and they are all very upset about the situation. I hope the administration will take this issue seriously and consider our concerns.

Editorial

As election time draws ever closer, newspapers around the country are becoming increasingly political. The papers the students read in the yearbook will be no exception.

In a few short months the next president of the United States will be elected. It seems as if the nation is preparing for a change in leadership.

The purpose of this editorial is to bring to light the issues involved and the impact they will have on the future of this nation.

If students are interested in becoming more involved in the political process, they should do so now. The election is only a few months away and it is important to be informed about the candidates and their platforms.

The candidates must be questioned about their views on important issues such as healthcare, education, and the economy.

It is also important to consider the candidates' personal backgrounds and their qualifications for the office.

The nation has a responsibility to elect leaders who can make wise decisions and act in the best interest of the country.

As citizens we must take an active role in the political process and participate in the election. This is not only our right, but our duty.

It is up to us to ensure that our voices are heard and that our interests are represented by the leaders we elect.

Let us not take this opportunity for granted.

Let us vote and make a difference.

Heads Up, Food Service

Dear Sir,

I am a student who does not currently attend Bridgewater College. I am writing to the administration about the recent changes in the cafeteria.

I understand that the purpose of these changes is to improve customer service and efficiency. However, I am concerned that these changes may negatively impact student satisfaction.

I have noticed that the wait times for food have increased, and that the options available are limited. The cafeteria has also been closed for extended periods of time, which is inconvenient for students.

I believe that the administration should consider these concerns and make adjustments to the new system to ensure that student needs are met.

I appreciate the efforts being made to improve the cafeteria, but I hope that the administration will take student feedback into account.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

The Elephant Man
A Mammoth Film

by Richard Pickering
Foreword

The Elephant Man is a compelling drama. The story of John Merrick is a true account of a creature whose deformities were so grotesque that he was kept in an unnatural environment; yet he found love and a place in society.

The film is directed by David Lynch, who has created a haunting world in which Merrick's physical defects are prominent. The use of lighting and camera angles heighten the sense of discomfort and make the viewer feel as if they are part of the Elephant Man's surroundings.

The performances of the cast are exceptional, particularly olmuş Heflin as Merrick, who gives a nuanced and sensitive portrayal. The character's journey from isolation to acceptance is well-crafted and emotional.

The Elephant Man has received numerous accolades, including Academy Awards for Best Actor (Hopkins), Best Director (Lynch), and Best Supporting Actor (Heflin). It is a powerful and moving film that continues to resonate with audiences today.

MASS. VOTER INFO

The Ballot Questions

by Dr. Sherman Geller

As most of you already know, on November 4, you will be voting for or against amendments to the state constitution. This election is, in my opinion, to be one of the most important in the history of our Commonwealth. This is your chance to make a difference in the lives of all Massachusetts citizens.

QUESTION 1: Prohibiting discrimination against the handicapped

The proposed amendment would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps. Discrimination is defined in a broad and inclusive manner, and includes refusal to provide such services as education, employment, public accommodations or medical care.

A YES VOTE would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps.

A NO VOTE would leave the state constitution unchanged.

QUESTION 2: Limiting Local Taxes

The proposed law would limit certain taxes, and change laws relating to school budgets and compulsory attendance. It would provide for increased state aid for local educational purposes. The local property tax limit could be exceeded to increase local aid or to assume other costs. These local limits would be reduced by any excess taxes actually paid to the state by the locality. The proposed law would apply to any municipality having a general tax rate of less than $35 per $1,000 of valuation.

A YES VOTE would limit local property taxes and total state taxes and would increase the state share of local education costs.

A NO VOTE would leave the state share of education costs unchanged.

A YES VOTE would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps.

A NO VOTE would leave the state share of education costs unchanged.

A YES VOTE would limit the amount of money required to be paid to the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

A NO VOTE would leave present tax law and laws concerning the handicapped unchanged.

A YES VOTE would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps.

A NO VOTE would leave the state constitution unchanged.

A YES VOTE would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps.

A NO VOTE would leave the state constitution unchanged.

A YES VOTE would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps.

A NO VOTE would leave the state constitution unchanged.

A YES VOTE would add a provision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination against individuals with handicaps.

A NO VOTE would leave the state constitution unchanged.

Bears Slosh
To 6-6 Tie

A tremendous downpour and unyielding winds made playing conditions close to intolerable as B.S.C. battled and swam its way to a 6-6 tie dropping them out of a share of first place. Wins by league leaders Maine and Mass. Maritime dropped Bridgewater to a second place standing.

A faithful student and alumni crowd braved the elements all the way through a drenched but scoreless first half before the weather became just too unbearable. The home field advantage seemed non-existent throughout as the two teams played in a desolate second half atmosphere.

But the game was not without it's bright moments. Freshmen running backs Mike Magrath and Chris Lupinski turned in outstanding performances. Magrath is leading the league in rushing yardage with an average of 119.6 yards per game. Last week he broke the B.S.C. school scoring record with a 38-yard touchdown. Lupinski ran wild also picking up 70 tough yards in just ten totes of the slippery pigskin.

Mary Ellen Hennessey crowned Homecoming Queen by Dean Deep in midst of downpour.

B.S.C. fell behind early in the third quarter when a Nichols linebacker picked off a Kevin Cobban pass and sloshed 50 yards down the sidelines for the Bisons' only score.

It was yet another turnover which set up the Bears touchdown. Punter Dave Hickey had pinned the Bisons deep in their own end when the defense forced Nichols to pick. As the snap came back, the ball slipped through the kickers hands and before he could reload, defensive end Mike Shavers came down on the fumble and tackled him to the turf. The Bears had the ball on the three yard line and two plays later Lupinski bulled his way over for six.

B.S.C. failed to convert the extra point.

The defensive unit was almost flawless again even without the aid of valuable Capt. linebacker David White. Coach ... Aliberti and .Conceicao anchored the front against Nichols running attack, and Conceicao made several key tackles.

Lupinski and Magrath both received star of the game awards too, in light of their tremendous debuts.

This week B.S.C. faces winless Curry but must be wary of the Colonels' awesome passing attack. The team looks to get back on the winning track and into the championship chase.

In 1990, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts enacted a law requiring all persons with AIDS to register with the Commissioner of Health and Human Services. This law applies to all states and territories, and is based on the belief that those with AIDS should be able to provide their own health care services and to access other services that may be available to them.
