TABLE OF CONTENTS

INSIDE FRONT COVER
Inukshuks: Symbols of Survival, Ken Kirkby

TABLE OF CONTENTS .............................................. 1

EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK - So You Want to be a Leader .................. 2

CHARLES DICKENS IN MASSACHUSETTS
Iain Crawford .................................................. 3

SEARCHING FOR MY ANCESTORS
Pauline Harrington ........................................... 7

ROBERT FROST
Bridgewater State Teacher's College, 1959, William J. Murphy .......... 11

NIGHT FLIGHT FROM DENVER
Phil Tabakow .................................................. 15

NEWFOUNDLAND - LAND OF CONTRADICTION
Kurt Jensen .................................................. 16

BAD MAN GOING DOWN
Phil Tabakow .................................................. 18

FACULTY PROFILE: Susan Holton
FACULTY PROFILE: Jean Prendergast ............................ 19 20

CART: Experiential Learning, Barbara Apstein ..................... 21

FULLBRIGHT FELLOWSHIP
Semester of Dr. Leatitia Wirht-Beek at Bridgewater State College Fall 1996
William C. Levin ........................................... 23

CAUGHT IN THE INTERNET
William C. Levin ........................................... 25

MEDALISTS
Barbara Apstein ........................................... 27

BOOK REVIEWS - POOLS for SCANDAL, Charles Angell ............. 29

FACULTY RESEARCH NOTE, Robert Fitzgibbons and Raymond ZuWallack 31

FACULTY RESEARCH NOTE, Leonid Heretz ........................ 32

INSIDE BACK COVER
Ingrid Wogrinetz

In the 1997-1998 academic year the Bridgewater State College Canadian Studies Program will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary. Since its inception, the Canadian Studies Program has grown into one of the most respected in the country providing a range of activities including conferences, lectures, cultural events, field trips and educational outreach. Under the direction of Dr. Anthony Cicerone, the Canadian Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary course each year which gives a broad overview of our neighbor to the North. Currently, the Canadian Studies Program is attracting new interest as both students and faculty devote their attention to enhancing the understanding of Canada and developing closer national and regional ties. In recognition of twenty-five years of Canadian Studies, the Bridgewater Review is highlighting the work of noted Canadians. In this issue, the Honorable Kurt Jensen’s photos of Labrador and the artistry of Ken Kirkby and Ingrid Wogrinetz are featured. Congratulations to Dr. Cicerone and the Canadian Studies Program.