Draft Registration Required For Financial Aid Recipients

By Kathy Donadini

This coming fall there will be a significant change for certain students applying for financial aid. All who under the law are required to register with the Selective Service System will now be required to furnish proof of registration when applying for federal education assistance. This amendment was signed by President Reagan in September 1982, and will go into effect in July of 1983. Whether or not you agree with this new amendment, it is now a reality. The question seems to be more of implementation. The Department of Education controls all Title IV assistance programs, including Pell grants, SEOG, NDSL, and College Work Study. If a college wishes to receive these funds, it will have to comply with the new amendment passed by the Education Department.

Steve Morwick, Director of Financial Aid at BSC, is in the process of working with the new requirement. For him, the question is not philosophical, but pragmatic. His office has the task of convincing all of those who need financial aid assistance that they are being held to a new task.

Make sure to keep up with this requirement. The notification of draft registration if you are eligible is now required. By Kathy Donadini

Information Booth Open

The information booth on School Street next to Tilghman Hall is now open for business. It is sponsored by the Office of Community Services and its Director Dave Wiles, and is under the supervision of Nick Litton. There is no main entrance to the campus and visitors arrive from all directions not knowing how to find anything. As a result, there are many people wandering around with dazed and bewildered looks on their faces. We hope that the staff in the booth will provide assistance and direction to these people, "Litton said.

"Eventually, there will be signs on all the area highways directing visitors to School Street and to the information booth. The first test of its usefulness and efficiency will come at spring break when high school seniors visit the campus," he added.

The information booth will be staffed by students in the College Life Study program who have been appointed by Phil Conroy of the Financial Aid Office. Politeness is an important qualification in the selection of staff members, in addition to their being familiar with the college and its campus.

The booth will be stocked with all the information about the college that a visitor may need: maps, brochures, departmental office locations, and other materials will be available. Staff members will also answer any other questions a visitor may have.

Delayed Class Cancellation

Angers Students, Faculty

By Liz Cahil

Massive BSC students and faculty members exploded in anger when the delayed cancellation of classes on Monday, February 7 because of the storm that dumped up to a foot of snow on Southeastern Massachusetts.

Official cancellation of classes that day was not broadcast until after 7:00 a.m. By that time, many students had already started out for school. Needless to say, these people were upset when they reached BSC and found it was closed for the day.

Dr. Robert Dillman, Vice President of Academic Affairs, cited the fact that last Monday's storm did not reach full intensity until after 8:30 a.m. as one of the main reasons for the delay in canceling classes. Dillman works closely with James Cummings, Director of Facilities, in regard to school cancellation. The process involved in coming to this decision takes many factors into consideration.

Cummings investigates existing conditions on campus. He makes sure that the roads, parking lots, and sidewalks are safe for travel. Interaction with local and state police is necessary to determine the condition of the roadsides that commuters use to reach BSC. Access to residence halls is also considered. In the past, some students had to be rescued from their dorms by building members. After gathering this information, Cummings confers with members of the planning team and comes to a decision. This decision is then transmitted to the appropriate news stations.

Vice President Dillman also reiterates the late cancellations on February 17. Dillman plans to have the decision relayed to the local weather services when the weather is clear. The decision reached by the office is necessary to the people who are running the campus.

Parking Overflow Destroys Lawn

By Kathy Murray

On Friday, February 4th, a student's car parked on the golf lot next to the tennis courts was towed. Why? The car was stuck in the mud. "Everyone took over their cars and roamed about the parking lot," said Dennis Miguaz, Assistant Director of Planning and Development.

Will this grass lot ever be a permanent parking lot? No, according to Terry Perry, Director of Planning and Development for BSC. Perry has noted that it is not a parking lot. It will be a temporary lot with temporary parking lot rules and regulations. "This is not a permanent parking lot because of where it's situated. First of all, esthetics is important. A green area is needed there. Also, the lot is on a hill, a natural terrain which is not at all conducive to building a parking lot," Perry continued. "Then, parking cars along a very busy roadway isn't good logic. It's hazardous."

Solving the parking problem of BSC isn't going to be easy. Parking lots have been replaced all over the world because of the environmental Protection Agency.

Requiring existing lots will also pose problems due to building a new lot. "The lot is on the hill and is not going to be usable," said Perry. The parking lot is currently closed, and the new lot will be set by the Environmental Protection Agency.

When Is Security Not Security?

This seemingly contradictory question is now being asked by many students. The question is: When is security not security? The answer is: When the administration is not enforcing the regulations that have been established.

Registration

Registered students must keep their ID cards on campus at all times. The Student Union Board of Governors and staff believe that this is necessary to ensure the safety of our students. If you do not have your ID card, you will be asked to show a photo ID. If you have lost your ID card, you must contact the Student Union Board of Governors immediately.

The Student Union Board of Governors and staff have been experimenting with changing our current activities. They have experimented with running mini courses in that regard, and found that the faculty support more formally again. To note that a very small number of students use the hobby shop, and that there is no library.

Therefore, we are considering ending the faculty at the end of the academic year. We would like to hear from anyone who has suggestions for improvements to the Hobby Shop or comments to the Student Union Director of the Office of or Dennis Lowell, the Student Union Board of Governors.

Campus Security

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this time to inform those who have or have been here of the upcoming subcommittee hearings of the Campus Security Force on Tuesday, January 18th. I wish to express to the Chancellor of the Campus Security Board and the many representatives who have been here for the past month, the time I have decided to discuss it. Done so, now I will go to the point of my question. "My question concerns the Security Booth at the entrance into the campus. I feel this is an ineffective and dangerous situation caused by the lack of people, but I feel the students those that have been/85013 Halls. I would like to hear from us on this.

The comment of the student on the last page regarding the student registration fee is not accurate. The statement was made by the student who register for courses during the first semester of the year. The actual statement made by the student is "The registration process is not efficient and needs to be improved."

The actual registration process is as follows: Students must register for courses during the first semester of the year. The process includes filling out a registration form, which is then submitted to the registrar's office. The registrar's office then reviews the form and verifies that the student is eligible to register for the courses they have selected. If the student is eligible, the registrar's office will issue a registration slip, which is then presented to the instructor for the course the student is registered for. The instructor will then verify that the student is registered for the course and enter the student's name on the course roster. The student will then receive a confirmation of their registration, which will be kept in their student file.

Psychologically Yours

By Richard T. Colgan

I have often thought that the best way to define a mental disorder is to see how many of its symptoms you can find in the behavior of a psychologist who has never heard of it. I would be interested to know if any of you have ever seen someone who exhibited the symptoms of a mental disorder and then went on to become a successful psychologist.

Rape Prevention and Awareness

The New England Academy of Martial Arts and the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth, have jointly developed a program for the prevention and awareness of sexual assault. The program, which is designed for both men and women, will be offered at the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth, on March 12th and 13th.

The program will consist of two sessions: one for men and one for women. The sessions will cover topics such as the psychology of victims and perpetrators, self-defense techniques, and the importance of reporting sexual assault.

The program will be taught by experts in the field of sexual assault prevention, including law enforcement officials, psychologists, and martial arts instructors.

The program is open to anyone interested in learning more about sexual assault prevention and awareness. It is not necessary to have prior experience in martial arts to participate.

For more information, please contact the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth, at 508-677-2200, or the New England Academy of Martial Arts, at 508-673-8900.

I have often thought that the best way to define a minority student is to compare him to the average citizen. For example, in the average classroom, those students who are the best, are the ones who think in the same way. This is not true of minority students. They are often rejected in the classroom because of their unique cultural backgrounds. This is why it is important to understand the psychology of minority students.

Rape Prevention and Awareness
The New England Academy of Arts and Sciences, in conjunction with the Student Government Association and Bridgewater State College, is holding a Rape Prevention and Awareness Workshop. The two-day workshop is designed to present all-race and adult programs on rape and other similar crimes and to discuss dealing with a prior awareness of a potentially hazardous situation.

A woman's natural instinct is to fight or flight, but when you're being raped, you can't run away. When the rapist is attacking you, you can't walk away. You can't escape from his hold. The only way to prevent rape is to protect yourself. One way to protect yourself is to know what to do if you are being raped.

To prevent rape, you need to be aware of your surroundings. When you are in a public area, be aware of your personal belongings. Do not allow anyone to look at your personal belongings. Keep your bags closed and do not leave them unattended.

Directing the program is Mr. Robert Brabbin. Mr. Brabbin is a member of the New England Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is the director of the Massachusetts State Police and has experience in the field of rape prevention. He is a former police officer and has directed many rape prevention programs. He is also a former law enforcement officer and has directed many rape prevention programs.

The New England Academy of Arts and Sciences is an organization that is dedicated to the prevention of rape. They have directed many programs to prevent rape. They have also directed many programs to protect women from rape.

The workshop will be held on two consecutive days. The first day will be held on Wednesday, March 24th, and the second day will be held on Thursday, March 25th. The workshop will be held in the Bridgewater State College Student Union.

The workshop will be open to the public. There is no charge to attend the workshop. However, there will be a charge for the cost of the workshop. The charge will be $20.00 per person.

Sick "New Gershwin Musical" Needs A Doctor

By Matt. Peter Donoghue

Bye, bye, the new musical "My One and Only." And it is a good thing, too, for it is the thorn in the flesh of a reviewer, like myself, who is a great admirer of George Gershwin's "Tango" and "Girl Crazy," and I have no patience with any production of a new musical which is not true to the spirit of Gershwin's music.

The trouble with this production is that it is not true to the spirit of Gershwin's music. It is a pity, because there are some fine songs in this musical, and some good acting, but the whole thing is a snub to the memory of George Gershwin, who was a master of his art.

The Review

By Matt. Peter Donoghue

My One and Only is a musical based on the life of the great American composer, George Gershwin. The show takes place in New York City in the 1920s, and it tells the story of Gershwin's rise to fame as a composer. The musical was directed by Peter Donoghue, who is also the stage manager of the show.

The musical features a cast of well-known actors, including John Lithgow as Gershwin, and it is set in a series of Broadway backgrounds, including the Cotton Club and the Roxy Theater. The production is designed to capture the spirit of the 1920s, and it includes a number of famous Gershwin songs, such as "Someone to Watch Over Me" and "I Got Rhythm."

Despite its flaws, My One and Only is a musical that is worth seeing, particularly if you are a fan of George Gershwin's music. The show is currently playing at the Shubert Theater in New York City, and it runs until September 10th.

A raging chill in the air, a show sweeping New England creating dangerous snow drifts. Thoughts of cancellations running through the minds of cautious travelers. Their Student Union Ballroom last February 11th from 9-1 a.m. Valentine's Day.

A very energetic group of young ladies calling themselves the University Band made its debut last February 11th from 9-1 a.m. Valentine's Day. There were 150 members of the band. The theme of the songs was the weather. Theresa Gray and Theresa Blake were the best singer/songwriters. Theresa Gray and Theresa Blake quickly impressed the crowd. Drummers and violinists soloed while we got The BSC Board set on with Jeff Magness and his/her own band. Three quarters of the BSC students on campus were at the Student Union Ballroom last February 11th from 9-1 a.m. Valentine's Day. Everything starts to shake.

LIPSTICK—Sealed With A Kiss

By Mark Anthony Pimenta

You ONLY Live Twice (1967) was the fourth film in the James Bond film series and the first of the six films that would be released to theaters in the United States from 1961 to 1967. The film stars Sean Connery as James Bond and features a cast of characters including Ursula Andress as Honey Ryder, Robert Sean Leonard as Dr. No, and Honor Blackman as Pussy Galore. The film's plot follows Bond as he sets out to stop an international terrorist organization known as SPECTRE, led by Spectre head honcho Ernst Stavro Blofeld (played by Donald Pleasence). The film is known for its iconic theme song, "You Only Live Twice," performed by Tom Jones.

The Review

By Matt, Peter Donoghue

You, the fat, the ugly, the me, My One And Only. And it's a lovely feeling to know that I love my own. When I look in the mirror and see a long, lanky, broad-shouldered, well-built, athletic man, I think, Oh yes, it's true. I am My One And Only.

Let's talk about My One And Only, the bond girl. She is a character that has captured the hearts of many Bond fans over the years. She is intelligent, charismatic, and always ready for action, making her a perfect fit for the role of the ultimate Bond girl. And let's not forget the bond's love interest, James Bond. He is tall, dark, and handsome, with a suave demeanor that makes him the perfect partner for any Bond girl.

But what about the bond's arch-nemesis, SPECTRE? They are a group of global terrorists who pose a serious threat to the world's stability. They are led by Ernst Stavro Blofeld, who is played by Donald Pleasence in You Only Live Twice.

As Bond sets out to stop SPECTRE, he encounters a variety of challenges and obstacles. He must navigate the treacherous waters of international espionage, outwitting his enemies at every turn. But the bond is determined to save the world and bring the evil forces of SPECTRE to justice.

The film is known for its iconic theme song, "You Only Live Twice," performed by Tom Jones, the perfect soundtrack for the bond's epic journey. The song is a perfect blend of the bond's love interest and the bond's arch-nemesis, making it a perfect fit for the bond's adventurous spirit.

In the end, Bond emerges victorious, bringing an end to SPECTRE's evil plans. But the bond knows that the battle is far from over. He must continue to fight against the forces of evil, no matter what the cost. And that's what makes the bond such an enduring character. He is a symbol of hope and courage, a beacon of light in a world filled with darkness. And that's why we love him. If you're a bond fan, You Only Live Twice is a must-see film. It's a thrilling ride from start to finish, and it's sure to leave you wanting more. So sit back, relax, and prepare yourself for an epic adventure. You Only Live Twice. It's a Bond Classic. The End.
By Alan J. Pakula from the book by William Styron, is no exception! In this film we are invited into the torturing room of a Nazi concentration camp, to share the horror and the pain inflicted upon a young Polish woman named Sophie.

The setting is the Auschwitz concentration camp in World War II. The camp is under the command of a sadistic SS officer named Kreine (Robert Loggia). A group of prisoners, including Sophie, are brought to the camp and subjected to cruel and degrading treatment.

Sophie, a young Jewish girl, is selected to work in the kitchen. She is subjected to constant abuse and torture, and is eventually forced to work in the gas chambers.

Her story is the focal point of the film, and we see her struggle to survive and to maintain her dignity and humanity in the face of her captors. We also see the effects of this torture on her physical and mental health.

The film is directed by Alan J. Pakula and stars Meryl Streep as Sophie. It is a powerful and moving film that brings to life the horrors of the Holocaust and the suffering of the victims.

The film is a powerful reminder of the importance of remembering the past and preventing such atrocities from happening again in the future.

An Interview With Lipstick

By Kevin Roberts

The stage managers ran on the links and the door opened into the third floor of the Student Union building. "Are you girls finished changing?" said Dave. "They answer, "Yeah." Right now it is between acts. Lipstick has just performed but there is a 15-minute period for you to review the interviews for the show. The guys in the performance are taking a break.

The door opens and a girl's voice answers, "Yeah, see you in there." The stage manager turns to me and says "I have five minutes."

Walking into the main room that normally houses the SQA offices and the Second Floor, I see a table with a sign that reads "Interview With Lipstick." The band consists of six women sitting in ages ranging from 19 to 25. They are Jillette Bowerman, Alaina Forsyth, Jennifer Gray, Janelle McClellan, and Deb MacDonald (lead vocals). Each member of the band has a distinctive voice that contributes to their unique sound. The interviews take place in a relaxed atmosphere.

Just back from the Virgin Islands, the girls plan to go on vacation during the spring break. They will be playing their next gig at the SQA Auditorium in March.

Will type term papers, resumes, etc., $1.00 per page. Special rates for large projects. Paper supplied. Call Lints at 644-2268 after 5 p.m. On campus every day.

NCAA bound! It looks that way for the Bears’ basketball squad as they continue to dominate the teams in the Mass. State Conference. After Tuesday night’s come from behind victory (83-73) over Fitchburg State, the Bears (13-2 overall, 7-2 conference) are guaranteed at least a tie for first place in Division II play. The Bears still have three games, and if they win them all, they will win the conference outright.

The Bears rank 6th in New England, have been getting solid performances from everyone. Congratulations to Devereaux Martin being selected to the ECAC Honor Roll. Keep it up guys, the fever is contagious and can be detected in all the players’ eyes during a game. Coaches Paul Byrion and Phil Ware have to be proud of everyone. The Bears are #17 in the New England and #18 in the conference. Bears are gonna space, space the teams are going into their last games to prove to the NCAA that they belong in the party. Keep it up guys, the come from behind victory both the men (Central Connecticut) and the women (Lesley) is behind you!ing from assorted bumps and tough competition the last to the Training Room is Captain Byron.

The Phantom Dinner Bribes

By Kevin Roberts

Good evening. Phantom fans, tonight’s basketball game is proving to be a ‘dinner’ worth fighting for. The Bears have the opportunity to continue their hot streak and rise to the #1 spot in the Mass. State Conference. The game will be played at home in the Smith Center.

The Bears are in a tough spot tonight. They are playing against a team that has already beaten them once this season. However, the Bears are confident that they can come out on top.

The Bears have been playing well as of late. They have won their last three games, which puts them in a position to take control of the conference. A win tonight would secure a spot in the championship game.

The game is scheduled to start at 7:30 PM. It is expected to be a close contest, with both teams evenly matched. The Bears will have to play a solid game if they want to come out on top.

BSC Ripcy Curry

By Vin Dodes

Last Wednesday (Feb. 15) the BSC Men’s Basketball team took on Curry College in a close game which was won by the BSC at the last second, 70-69.

The Bears’ attack was led by Drew Tevaris who had 26 points, 9 rebounds, and 3 assists. The Bears’ defense was led by Alvin Bryant who had 13 points, 6 rebounds, and 4 assists.

The game was won in the final seconds as the Bears’ Timmy Dingle made a three-pointer to put the Bears up 70-69.

Just a brief thank you note to the Bridgewater State Basketball Team to all those people throughout the community who gave us our tremendous support over the past few weeks. We appreciate the game on Tuesday night.

It was an all-round terrific effort by the whole team and a great home game from which we know we could win. We are definitely looking forward to the game on Friday night against the Bears.

Your support was greatly appreciated and we hope you’ll be here Friday night to watch the Bears take on the visiting team. If we don’t win, the entire evening will be lost.

Great basketball support!

Good evening. Phantom Dribblers. We're getting tonight's basketball game to you live from the State Bears' ladder in the second half of the game between the Bears and the Falcons. The score is tied at 59-59 with just a few minutes left on the clock. The Bears are looking to assert themselves in the second half of the game. They have shown that they have the ability to come back from a deficit and win. The Bears are led by their senior point guard, who is having a great game tonight. They have a chance to win this game if they can continue to play at the same level.

Another Wednesday night annoucement from the Phantom Dribblers Comment office thinking of the great sports fan festi-vals and sports editorial. Laurel Brow- nes, a former student and now a successful sportswriter, was recently in town for the annual sports festi-vals. The Bear's basketball team won the title, but was upstaged by the star performance of the Bears' star guard, who scored 30 points in the final game. The team's victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication.

The information booth on School Street next to Tillinghast Hall is now open for business. It is sponsored by the Office of Community Services and is under the supervision of Nick Little.

"There is no entry now. The campus and visitors are too busy managing the delays from Monday’s storm," Little said. After gathering this information, Little will forward the information to Campus Security and to the Student Union.

The booth is open from 10:00-12:00 on Tuesday and Wednesday and 10:00-1:00 on Thursday and Friday. It is located across from the Information Booth.

Draft Registration Required For Financial Aid Recipients

By Kelly Donahue

This coming fall there will be a significant change for certain students applying for financial aid. Housing initiatives have been implemented.

All who under the law are required to register with the Selective Service System will now be required to furnish proof of registration when applying for federal financial aid programs, including Pell grants, SEOG, NSL, and College Work Study. If a college wishes to receive these funds, it will have to provide the Office of Student Financial Aid with proof of registration.

The Office of Student Financial Aid is responsible for the process of registering in the Department of Education. If you are interested in registering, you should contact the Department of Education. The Office of Student Financial Aid is also responsible for the process of registering for the draft.

The Department of Education has tentatively set five new procedures in applying for financial aid. The student will now be required to provide a certificate of registration for the draft. In addition, the department is changing the way it handles the draft registration. Due to the numerous changes, the draft registration process has been simplified.

For more information, contact the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Information Booth Open

On Friday, February 4th, a student's car parked on the grass lot near the tennis courts was towed. What? Why? The car was stuck in the mud. "Every time I look over there from the Campus Police station I see a car stuck," said Dennis Magician, Assistant Director of Housing.

The parking lot is overcrowded and the current parking lot is not enough to accommodate the current student population. The parking lot is also overcrowded and the current parking lot is not enough to accommodate the current student population. The parking lot is located near the Campus Police station and is easily accessible from all parts of the campus.

The campus police are currently working on developing a new lot. "The lot will be larger and will accommodate more cars," said Magician. Parking permits will be required for all cars parked in the new lot. Students will be charged $20 for a parking permit and will be required to display the permit in their vehicle.

Parking regulations will be enforced and tickets will be issued for violations. The parking lot will be open from 8:00am to 5:00pm on weekdays and from 8:00am to 12:00pm on weekends. The lot will be closed for the summer months.

For more information, contact the Campus Police.
