for their own financial gain," said Deluca. "It's hard to say what the outcome of the allegations will be, but I believe the college's actions have improved." Mike Boydton, President of the Tuft's Aeronautics Department, said that the college is not concerned about the incident or the possibility of similar incidents involving students. He expressed his concern about the incident and said that the college is taking steps to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

The incident occurred during a visit by a professor to the college. The professor was giving a lecture to a group of students and was approached by a student who questioned the professor's qualifications. The professor then left the lecture and returned later to continue his lecture. The college has taken disciplinary action against the professor and is currently investigating the incident.

The college is also investigating the possibility of similar incidents involving other professors. The college is taking this issue very seriously and is committed to ensuring that all students are able to learn in a safe and secure environment.

The college's commitment to ensuring a safe and secure environment is also evident in the college's policies and procedures. The college has a zero-tolerance policy for any form of harassment, discrimination, or retaliation. The college is also committed to providing a safe and secure environment for all students, regardless of their race, gender, or sexual orientation.

Dear Mr. Prince,

I appreciate your concern about this type of humor and the cartoonist's perception of the world. I believe that humor is a powerful tool for expression and understanding, and it is important for people to be able to express themselves freely.

However, I do not feel that we can continue to accept this type of humor in our publication. It is not in the best interest of our readers or our institution to allow such content.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Prince,

I appreciate your concern and actions to combat this issue. However, I believe that the solution lies in education and awareness rather than in restrictive laws. The young people who are involved in drug use usually come from families where drug addiction is a problem. It is important to address the root cause of the problem and provide them with the necessary support and guidance to help them overcome their addiction. By approaching the issue with a more compassionate and understanding approach, we can create a positive change in their lives.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Controversy: Nudity On BSC Stage

By Kevin Roberts

The above information is an excerpt from the audition sheet for the Peter Shaffer play, EQUUS, as provided by Dr. Stephen Levine, Director of Theatre. It is an account of the audition process and the controversy surrounding nudity in the play.

The Comment: Dr. Levine:

"The emotional attraction is only possible slowly."

Dr. Levine: Associate Professor of Theatre, Director of the Theatre Arts Program at Bridgewater College.

The story at the National Theatre in London took place on Monday, April 7, at 5 p.m., to a sold-out audience. The play was written by Peter Shaffer, and the director was Dr. Stephen Levine. It was performed by a local high school student named John Clark.

The play has been controversial because of its use of nudity as a way to express the character's state of mind. The director, Dr. Levine, has been questioned about his decision to include nudity in the production.

The Comment: Dr. Levine:

"I don't believe nudity is necessary in the play."

Dr. Levine: Associate Professor of Theatre, Director of the Theatre Arts Program at Bridgewater College.

The scene that caused the controversy occurred during an audition for the role of the boy in the play. The director asked the auditioners to remove their clothing, and some of them refused. The director then asked them to imagine what they would look like naked and whether they would be comfortable performing in front of an audience.

Controversy: Nudity On BSC Stage

I will perform in a flesh or brown colored unitard (body suit), if deemed artistically necessary by the director.

The above information is an excerpt from the audition sheet for the Peter Pan play, EQUUS. The usual questions, name, age, acting experience, etc., were asked to each potential cast member during the auditions. Steve Biller was an excellent producer of EQUUS. (The above information is given for April 23rd and May 6th. Any information that is different, however, are the questions regarding the actor willing to perform nude on stage. Many rumors and questions are buzzing about whether Dr. Stephen Levine will decide to keep the nudity in EQUUS.

The comment:

Dr. Levine, slighter and more nervous than usual, is at the center of the stage, facing the audience. He is wearing a black suit with a white shirt and a black tie. He is speaking to the audience in a calm, measured voice.

The response:

Dr. Levine: I want to speak to you about the nude scene in the play, EQUUS. The scene is important to the story and the themes of the play. It is a symbolic representation of the character and the situation. I believe that the audience will understand the significance of the scene and the impact it will have on the story.

AUGUST MUSICAL JOKE

On one of the hottest days of August, a man walks into a bar and ordered a drink. The bartender looked at him with a smile and said, "Are you sure you want a drink on such a hot day?"

An answer:

"Yes, please." The man took a sip of his drink and said, "This is just what I needed. Thank you." The bartender smiled and said, "You're welcome. Enjoy your drink." The man finished his drink and left the bar.

The week of April 15-16 has been declared as Bridge­water Arms Build-up Week. A past week has been announced for the first week of April. In order to highlight the importance of the Arms Build-up, a Peace Week is also planned to coincide with this week.

Samaritans at BSC

By Larry Cornell

The Women's Center is very happy to announce the return of the Samaritans to Bridge-water State College. They will be presenting a film and lecture on Suicide Prevention, Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Massasoit Library Lecture Hall. The seminar is open to all free of charge.

Suicide is something that may not touch our lives directly, but we should be aware of when someone is having suicidal thoughts. The Samaritans bring to light the close link between suicide and the other mental health disorders. They are often given up by one or two symptoms, which makes it important to know what to do to help those who are suffering from such a state of desperation.

The Samaritans also carry cards that you can take with you. The phone number is 697-2932.

By Chris Hanwood

Well, another exciting week in sports continued. I still have computer trouble trying to come up with which two teams still play sports (other than football) and how the games are going.

I got a really good game of basketball this past week. The North Shore Lions, 54-52, in the NCAA Division I tournament. I appreciate this fact.

The suspender held right to the end, when the Lions lost to the team in second place, and the automatic jump shot from teammate Teresa Shaye, 80-79, in the NCAA Division I tournament. I like the way you go about things.

Time, and always the ending, is the crucial factor of the Lions' shock and disappointment of their defeat. The first 2 rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament were really exciting for this disappoint.

Tuesday night's first round of the NBA playoffs was really exciting for the Boston Bruins game. The Bruins, 5-0, in the New England Division. The game was played in the Boston Garden, 19-11, in the final game of the series.

I was there, and really enjoyed the Boston Red Sox playing in the Garden. The Red Sox opened the series at home in usual style. Nuff said.

The local and national sports teams are shaping up in preparation for the season. Their support would be appreciated, as they've got a few more games to go. Anybody who would be interested in watching any of the games from home, please let me know and a place may be available to watch the game.

Sports Bear's Business

By Mike Storey

Bears spring sports are all in full swing. We've got a lot of business for our favorite teams. We can't wait to see how the Bears' Women's Lacrosse and Softball teams do this season. Last weekend, the lacrosse team took on a tough Tufts squad and came out on top. Unfortunately, they lost to the Bears', 19-13. However, the Bears' women's softball team has been very successful, and will be playing a game against the Bears' this weekend.

The intramural street hockey and softball leagues have got underway this week. All intramural teams are available in the intramural recreation center. The first game of the season has been played, and the Bears' Women's team won against the Bears', 3-2. The Bears' Women's team will be playing against the Bears' again, on April 14. The Bears' Women's team will be playing against the Bears' again, on April 14. The Bears' Women's team will be playing against the Bears' again, on April 14.
The varsity is down to eleven players at B.U. and they have only two from Franklin Pierce. After a loss to Smith College, they are trying to compose themselves to get back into the swing of things. This Saturday, the Bears are hosts of R.L.C., Newport College and Roger Williams for a quad meet field on the track at 1:00.

The Intramural Outdoor Track and Field League has been quite exciting for the participants. The Bear's distance team put on another strong performance in the second week of the season. The varsity track team put on another solid performance at the Westfield Relays over the weekend. Andrea Sintires, who has qualified for the national championships with a personal best of 27.27 (1:47.17) in the 200, Karen Penk did likewise in the discus with a throw of 141'4", with Kara Crahan qualifying with a jump of 3'5" in the high jump. It's been an exciting week for the Bear's women's intramural basketball and Congestions ladies, your tee shirts will be available on the next Wednesday night. Monday night proved very dramatic for the Bears as another exciting week in sports is yet to come.

Well, as another exciting week in sports comes to a close, I wish to try and cover every sport or other things, as the case may be. Today night proved very dramatic for everyone as all college basketball teams, the North Carolina Tar Heels, 64-57, in the NCAA Division I champions for the first time in their history. The suspension held the red hot, when the Bears edged the Quebec Nordiques, 5-4, for the second jump shot from teammate Dereck Burnes. With 14 seconds left on the clock, and the ensuing roar shook the building's foundation. Hopefully, this will cut down on the number of injuries that have occurred in the past and get the game back to playing hockey, which it should be played.

Bears' Business

By Mike Storey

Bears spring sports are all in full swing as the baseball season kicks off for the 1983 season. The Bears women's lacrosse and softball teams are shaping up in preparation for their next season. Assistant Coach Casey Bouverie said, "I think we have a good chance to win our league."

The baseball team was rained out of their opener against B.U. on Monday. They get back into the swing of things this Saturday with a doubleheader at Curry.

The Intramural street hockey and softball leagues got underway this week. All schedules are available in the Intramural Rec center of the pool mezzanine. Loud Out started off the season with a strong brandishing of the Red Devils, 8-4, last year's defending champs. Flitch Kim Novak, dressed in pink, pulled up first on the season. Outstanding Maximum is this year's defending champs, and freshman Chris Madsen, a Jr. Phys Ed major from Dedham, put in a strong effort.

Oasis Notes

By Barbara Glueben

The course schedules (horizons) are due to be available on or about April 15. Registration will begin April 20. Simply stated, ladies and gentlemen of the nature that leaves you (6-9 P.M. - Thursday). This year's schedule is on the pages a, schedule, and will be ready for open public discussion with a staff member of the Academic Affairs Committee. The program will be held in the South Shore Convention Center, (by appointment only) in the basement of the Convention Center, (6:30 PM). Once again, the information is for those who actually the course selection. Choose wisely, your advisors do get the little green card. Second, and freshman athletics will be on hand for assistance.
