Drunk driving accidents kill 26,000 people each year. In 1982, by a national movement did not end the campaign on the road. President Reagan has created a national commis- sion to address drunk driving. In his recent report, this commission recom- mended changes to the laws of 49 states to reduce impaired driving. These changes include the following: extension of current laws, requiring the installation of ignition interlock devices on vehicles registered to drunk drivers, and raising the legal drinking age to 21. The commission also recommended increased enforcement, education, and research to combat drunk driving. The commission's report was made public on April 28, 1983.

Dear Editor,

Today it was brought to my attention that the parking situation here on campus for commuting students has got ten even worse than I had thought. Being a fairly logical person I decided to run down the ridiculous accusations that everyone has been shouting and discovered the implicit guarantee from the administration that there would be no more spots seem.

endorse this view.

The Candidates Reply

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank the student body for participating in this year's SGA elections. Your enthusiasm and interest in the student body for the coming year is very heartening and I'd like to extend my support for my campaign for the position of President. As your SGA president, I can improve student services and help bring about a more positive, and, I hope, more enjoyable atmosphere in the organization.

Thank you again.

Presidential Campaign: Ahead of Schedule

By Nancy M. Scroggs

Nancy Scroggs, a junior political science major, and Tricia Hill, a senior psychology major, have been named as the candidate for the presidency of the Student Government Association (SGA) for the 1983-1984 academic year.

The two candidates were selected by the Student Government Association (SGA) executive board, which consists of six students elected by the SGA membership. The executive board is responsible for selecting the candidates for the presidency and the vice presidency of the SGA.

The selection process for the candidates was open to all students enrolled in the college. The candidates were interviewed by the executive board, and the board considered a variety of factors when making its decision, including the candidates' abilities, their ability to work well with others, and their commitment to the SGA and the college.

The candidates will be announced to the campus in November, and a formal campaign will begin in December. The candidates will run for the position of SGA president and vice president in the spring of 1983.

Mike Andreason, a sophomore business administration major, has been named as the candidate for the vice presidency of the SGA for the 1983-1984 academic year.

The selection process for the vice presidency was similar to that for the presidency, and the candidates were interviewed by the executive board. The board considered a variety of factors when making its decision, including the candidates' abilities, their ability to work well with others, and their commitment to the SGA and the college.

The candidates will be announced to the campus in November, and a formal campaign will begin in December. The candidates will run for the position of SGA vice president in the spring of 1983.
Dear Editor,

Today I was brought to my attention that the parking situation here on campus for commuting students has gotten out of hand. Being a fairly logical person perhaps I am in the erroneous consciousness that according to the sign on the wall that carried the implicit guarantee from those who made the sign for there to be no room for me, means, yes, having room for my car. Although that seems reasonable enough, it is far from the truth.

It is my understanding that approximately 200 tickets a day are given out. While I can accept the fact that some students would park illegally by choice. I do think that all 200 of these people are not parking illegally by choice. In fact, I know from personal experience that there are no legal reasons to leave one's car anywhere but in the parking lot. Therefore it seems to be not only illegal, yet they are not paying to do it. Yet, 200 more spots seem to be required at the present time.

This commentary addresses the very issue Mr. McCullough talked about. The very issue which has been an ongoing concern for the past several years. This is an institution for higher learning, of which I hope no one can say that it is not learning in a constructive manner to solve the problem. Anyone wishing to bombard me with a mailer may reach me through this week. I wonder why the latter, seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth century individuals in our society seem to be not only illegal, yet they are not paying to do it. The issue is, we have the chance to represent those voters, and those students who have been voting, by giving them a fair shot. It is important that we not only represent those voters, but to do it in the name of the S.G.A. I would like to thank all those that participated and those that did not. Thank you for the support and for their support, Karen Dobson and myself.

Sincerely,

Richard M. Regan

The Phantom Diner, critic on such subjects as the food at Tillinghast Cafeteria, water faucets, dances: (Atlantics, Betty and the Rockers, the Feds, Joe Dorley Band, Bears Basket Ball, team and The Children's Theatre, is dead.

His death is somewhat of a controversy as no one can find the body. His meat ticket, torn in half, was discovered in the Campus Mail room last Monday.

Ms. Sweet in a recent press conference said tearfully, "He had a splendid Pecan Pie recipe that he said would revolutionize the desserts at Tillinghast. Now he's gone. Sob. And so is the recipe!"

The police suspect foul play but refuse to release any information. Rumour has it that the public may never hear the body of Mister Diner because it is in the mail room — well everyone knows how fast mail travels in Bridgewater.

A critic without a name or any substantial facts is gone. The Comment upon hearing the news in shock. "We'll be having a memorial service for him. Too bad he won't be here to keep our column on track."

The Comment has heard that the Phantom Diner was found by a mailroom worker.

The Comment could not find the real answers behind his death. We may never know the answers to his death.

and Bob Gibbas have developed the Dial Access system to the site for the success it has reached. The system now has over 10,000 users and is the only one of its kind in the world. Gibbas began the project in 1978 and has spent over $1 million on it. The system is unique because it allows people, especially long distance users, to access the system quite a few times in his current capacity.

Hey Gang! Let's Play The Registration Game

By Kevin Roberts

"What a chance we have with us three people all claiming to be your Advisor! Three people, two men and a woman approach. I am Halliday's Advisor," says a tall man. "I am Halliday's Advisor," supersedes a short bald man. Halliday's Advisor, a short, bald, white man with a mustache, shaves his head, "My my. Lacuckster shakes his head: 'This looks as if it is going to be a tough one.'" "Number five. The short bald headed man is my Advisor," says the real Advisor. "Will the real Advisor please sit down?" The three suspects glance at each other but none other than one else alive.

(Boof Boot) "I don't understand, what's the point? I'm right, Halliday, your real Advisor, is still right! Boof says. Lacuckster, a fellow from fewbuck, Florida invents a new cold and creates a new antibiotic from this cold. He communicates with students and has known Walter Deady for a few years. Deady's shoes graduated from Sigma in January of 1982.

Children's Physical Developmental Clinic

Be All That You Can Be... in the Clinic

Now is the time to apply if you would like to be accepted as a clinician in the Children's Physical Development Clinic here at Bridgewater State College. How do you do it? It's simple. Just stop over at Dr. Joe Huber's office in Kelly Gymnasium, Room 103 or in the main office of the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Department, and pick up an application, complete it and return it. Applications will be available now until the middle of May for those interested in becoming clinicians or assistant clinicians for the 1983 Fall Session. It does not matter what class you are in, or what your major is. It is your interest in the Clinic that counts. Students currently working in the Clinic are majoring in the following disciplines:
- Art
- Biology
- Communication Disorders
- Early Childhood Education
- Elementary Education
- Health
- Physical Education and Recreation
- Psychology
- Science
- Secondary Education
- Social Work
- Sociology
- Special Education

The Clinic is going into its tenth year of operation here at Bridgewater, and is one of 40 in the country but the only one in New England. It was founded by Dr. Joe Huber, who is its director; he is also a professor of Adapted Physical Education and Motor Development Therapy.

The Clinic program is devoted to the psycho-motor needs (play, sport and leisure time activities) and social improvement of special needs children and young adults ranging in age from 18 months through 22 years. Clinicians work with a specific child to whom they have been assigned on a one-to-one basis for a period of 8 weeks. Clinicians start their Saturday mornings with coffee and donuts (courtesy of the director) at about 7:30 a.m., and by noon time are on their way to their other weekend activities. The Clinic experience is a unique one. It is an experience to be remembered forever, involving the recognition of one's own facilities as well as the gratification that comes from helping others achieve a more enjoyable and meaningful life despite their disabilities and handicaps. It is truly a great learning experience, and for some, it may be the only "hands on" (practical) learning they will experience during their college years. Many clinicians who have graduated from BSC have commented on the value of their Clinic experience in acquiring jobs in their chosen field after graduation.

Deadline for application is May 26, 1983

Members of the Russian Club recently joined the Art Club for a memorable weekend in New York City, April 15-17. Leaving B.U. with ready bags, they arrived in Manhattan hungry and ready to explore. They were headed for lunch at the popular Russian Tea Room where they enjoyed such classic gat s as Borscht and Chicken Kiev, Smirnoff, Beef Stroganoff (a la Dobson), and Russian Tea and Pastries. They were also free to order the many other delicacies offered on the menu. This was a unique experience for the group as many of them had never been to a Russian restaurant before.

The group traveled to the United Nations, the site of the famous UN

Dobson's campaign, while still being active. Some, however, have moved on in their political careers, leaving the political scene.

Two weeks ago, a lawsuit was filed against B.U. by an undergraduate who has been denied financial aid.

The suit, filed by the attorney for the B.U. student, claims that the university's refusal to award financial aid violates the student's constitutional rights. The university has not commented on the suit.

Russian Club Weekends in Manhattan

Impressions of Sigma Chi

By Audrey Ziegler

Members of the Russian Club of the University of Pennsylvania recently joined the Art Club for a memorable weekend in New York City, April 15-17. Leaving for New York with Sigma Chi, an official fraternity, they arrived in Manhattan hungry and well-rested. The club had planned to head for lunch at the popular Russian Teas Room, but it was closed due to a religious observance. The club instead enjoyed some delicious Japanese food and then continued to the movie theater, which showed a film about Russian culture. Afterwards, the group attended a private reception at the Russian Embassy, where they were able to meet with members of the Russian diplomatic corps.

Saturday, a bad rainstorm in the weather, the group was surprised by an unexpected development at the Russian Tea Room, where they had been scheduled to have lunch. The restaurant was closed during their visit due to a scheduled renovation, so the club members had to improvise and find another location for their meal.

Sunday, besides a bad rainstorm in the weather, the group was surprised by an unexpected development at the USSR-sponsored Four Continents Bookstore, which was closed all of the second day because of a management/abor dispute. The club members pitched in and helped to settle the dispute, which was eventually settled by the Soviet Union, and the relations between the club and the bookstore improved.

The trip was a success, and the club members were grateful for the opportunity to experience Russian culture and to meet with members of the Russian diplomatic corps. They look forward to future trips and to the opportunity to continue to learn more about Russian culture.

Talk about dandy weather! The story about April shows why they call it the glory days of Bridgeport State. While most of our spring sports have already been canceled due to the weather, the baseball team is still playing. They began the weekend with a 9-5 loss to Springfield College, but came back to win on Sunday. The team had probably their best game of the season and defeated the Wildcats 14-2, with Rick Denny picking up the win and Belatire each had two hits for BSC.

Bridgewater beat Wentworth in the first game, Kevin Simpson picked up the win and went the distance. McCue is third in hitting with a .148 average. The Bears are as a doubleheader sweep. Mass. Fitchburg Academy and were handed a 14-2 victory over the locals. Upcoming games for the Bears are as follows: April 27, at home against S.M.U. April 30, a doubleheader against Worcester State, May 1, against Division II (Springfield College) May 2, and May 4, against an unknown opponent. The Bears are leading the League with two games.

The game of Lacrosse is fast and exciting, for both the players and the spectators. For many years, it has been a popular sport in the state. Unfortunately, our girls came up on the short end of the game (10-6), and (19-8). Pitching has been the big problem this season. The loss of Steve O'Connell for the season with a rotator cuff injury, has been a blow to the team. Hopefully, he will return soon.

By Mike Storey

Talk about busy weeks! The story about April shows that this season’s activity around Bridgewater State College has been no exception. Many of our spring sports have been pushed back due to the weather, so they have no choice but to play in this season.

The baseball team has been playing probably their best baseball of the season, leading into the weekend (5-0) losses to the University of Maine. The team could and should have scored more runs, but lost their record, and still consider it a victory. The team ends the season as the last game, the team could still lose if they win the last game. Of course, the ladies won’t settle with that, though. The team will have to go for it again today against New Hampshire at 1:00.

There are many stories about the breaking of the 500 win streak, but the first one is the real story. The team made it on their own and got the team to win and the streak away in a doubleheader.

The team’s week so far has been an outstanding season. Three members have already qualified for the NCAA Championship in bowling, and won the tournament May 25-26. They are: Karen Par- thia, Stephanie Keefe, and Ben Newcomb in Bowling (147) and Wally Keefe in Bowling (137.7). Another story to remember is the win of the week, in the first quarter of the hour, in the third quarter of the hour, and in the half hour.

Bears Looking to Even Record

By Gregory Mathis

Boston University Bears Baseball team is head- ing to a new level of play this season with a 5-7 mark. The team’s heyday was in 1986 when they won the state College League, and they ended the season in the middle part of the NCAA Division.

Bridgewater beat South- ern Maine in Bowdoin College, University back on April 14th and again on April 19th. Bridgewater won the first game 1-0 and the second game 4-2.

BSC followed by splitting a doubleheader against Fran- klin & Marshall on April 18th. The Bears took the first game 3-0 and handed the BSC second-straight loss in the second game.

Bridgewater took a tough loss in the second game, 5-4. Bridgewater never gave up in the game, but only in the last inning.

Bridgewater has had a tough season, but this team has had the chance to prove themselves. As Coach Ben DeMotto, who made a long time on the team a reality, said that Bridgewater has had a tough season, but this team has had the chance to prove themselves.

Another bright spot, and the last game on home, is the 3 singles players. Eric Mortensen has had a tough schedule this season and as far as Briggs is concerned, "We've had a lot of pressure up there. Montgomery seems to do a better job in double play with a lot of people."

Liquor Servers Liability Conference Planned

Drunk driving accidents kill 26,000 people each year. In response to a national movement "outraged" at the carnage on the roads, President Reagan has created a commission to combat drunk driving. In its most recent report, this commission recommended development and enforcement of dram shop laws.

New shops have been opened in such states as Vermont, Massachusetts, and Vermont, where laws were recently adopted. In Vermont, bars are being licensed to serve alcohol to the Hobby Shop. The Hobby Shop, a national chain that sells auto parts and accessories, has implemented a "No Drunks" policy in its stores.

Dobson Clinches SGA Presidency

Matt Regan returns for second term as Student Trustee

By Brett Persul

and Robert Flynn

After a hard-fought campaign, Paul Dobson defeated Matt Regan by a margin of 1,900 votes to 1,300 in the SGA presidency race. Dobson's victory was achieved after losing last year to former SGA President Bob Bergher.

Dobson, who campaigned extensively on campus, won over numerous student groups with his promises of increased funding for student groups, better relations with the administration, and a focus on improving student life. His campaign slogan, "Dobson: A Stronger Voice for Student Rights," resonated with students who felt that the previous administration had neglected their needs.

Dobson's biggest challenge was to win the support of the student body in general. He worked hard to build a broad coalition of support, with the help of his campaign manager, Carole Kulick. Kulick was instrumental in organizing rallies and events to mobilize support for Dobson's candidacy.

The race was closely contested, with Regan running a campaign of grassroots organizing. Regan's strength lay in his ability to connect with students on a personal level, and his promise to continue the work of the previous administration.

In the end, Dobson emerged victorious, with a margin of 1,900 to 1,300 votes. The election results were announced shortly after the polls closed, with Dobson declaring victory and Regan congratulating him on a hard-fought campaign.

Dobson's victory is significant, as it marks the return of a familiar face to the SGA presidency. Last year, Regan was the first Student Trustee at BSC to win re-election, achieving a narrow victory over SGA Senator Chris Hahnauer. In that race, Dobson was one of the candidates who lost.

This year, Dobson was able to build on his previous campaign, with a strong showing in the primaries and a focused effort in the general election. His victory is a testament to the power of organizing and the importance of connecting with students on a personal level.

Dobson's plan for the SGA presidency includes a focus on increased funding for student groups, better relations with the administration, and a focus on improving student life. He plans to work closely with the student body to make sure that their voices are heard, and that their needs are met.

Behind The Election Scenes

Charges Fly From Both Sides

By Robert Flynn

and Paul Dobson

It happens in every election, and last week's SGA election was no exception. People on both sides of the election hurt feelings and accusations, tamped tempers.

Student morale is at an all-time low, with many students feeling frustrated and disheartened by the election.

Work Study Funds Run Out

Due to lack of funds, BSC's work study program will be suspended for the week of May 15th. In previous years, the program was available for students to work and earn money during the summer months.

The work study program provides an opportunity for students to work and earn money during the summer months. The program is funded by the state, and students are eligible to participate if they meet certain eligibility criteria.

In recent years, the program has been in jeopardy due to a lack of funds. As a result, the program has been suspended for the past three years.

In order to continue the program, the state has been asked to provide additional funding. However, the request has not been met with funding, and the program has been suspended for the past three years.
