John Beaton

By Kim Murphy

Now that Bridgewater State's new political climate has set in, the students are running for positions on the All-College Student Government Hearing Committee of the Massachusetts State College Association (Beaton). Beaton is a candidate for student representative to the Board of Regents for Bridgewater State College.

Kerry is Speaker

The process of finding candidates for the three positions of Senator at-Large, Representative, and Senator-at-Large has been very stressful for the candidates. Kerry, a senior political science major, is running for the position of Senator at-Large.

Kerry is a political science major with a minor in history. He has been involved in political activities since high school and has served as a campaign volunteer and voter registration assistant. Kerry has also been involved in voter registration drives on campus and in the community.

By Gregory Mathis

The Board of Regents is in the process of forming a committee of the Massachusetts State College Association (Beaton) to discuss the proposed changes in the All-College Student Government Hearing Committee. The proposed changes include the addition of two new members to the committee, one of whom will be a student representative.

Kerry's campaign platform includes a commitment to improving voter registration efforts on campus and in the community. He plans to work closely with the Student Government Association and the Registrar's office to increase voter registration rates among students.

Voter Registration Conference

March 1, 1984

Vol. LVIII No. 5

In March, Senator Kerry attended a Voter Registration Conference at Harvard University. The conference was held to discuss strategies and methods for increasing voter registration rates. Kerry spoke on the importance of voter registration and the role of the student body in promoting voter participation.

Dear Editor,

As an observer and student of Bridgewater State College, I was greatly disturbed by the behavior of Paul Dobson, the President. I personally saw Mr. Dobson harass one of the IADS candidates during the self-study. Mr. Dobson proceeded to make a series of remarks about this student by bluntly disreputing her appearance and her political beliefs, saying as they please, as if in the sight of all BSC students.

The Massachusetts Legislature has completed the first stage of the legislation that will give the Massachusetts voters the right to vote on the issue of state comprehensive budgeting. On that day constituents will be able to make significant decisions regarding the future of the state. The legislature has already voted to place the abolishment of the special sales tax on the November ballot so that abortion and sterilization would be prohibited. The vote was an overwhelming 2 to 1 in favor of the amendment.

I was hoping I would tell Mr. Dobson at the next edition of the college as a binding referendum to be held in November. Since the amendment becomes law, it will pave the way for the future generation of state funding of abortion. Further, if the US Supreme Court affirms its current position, which gives women the right to decide when and if they will have children, the Massachusetts Legislature could step in and deny ANY woman the right to an abortion unless it is a medical necessity.

I hope everyone understands that the abortion is not optional. It makes me wonder how the turnout was at your SGA election.

I hope you will take this opportunity to support the women's rights movement and help us make the correct decision.

Sincerely,

Nadine Lucas

Dear Editor,

As an observer and student of Bridgewater State College, I was greatly disturbed by the behavior of Paul Dobson, the President. I personally saw Mr. Dobson harass one of our classmates during a meeting of seniors. Mr. Dobson proceeded to ask her about her personal life, and when she did not answer, he asked her the same question about her personal life. The student then walked out of the room.

I believe that this type of behavior is unacceptable and cannot be tolerated within our educational institution. As students, we have the right to be treated with respect and dignity. Mr. Dobson's actions are not reflective of the values and principles that our college holds.

I urge the Administration to take immediate action to address this issue and ensure a safe and respectful learning environment for all students.

Sincerely,

Campaign Letter

Hi, this is Nadine Lucas and I am one of the many students who are excited to see the upcoming election of a new Senator to the Senate. My name is Nadine Lucas and I am the Director of the Student Government Association (SGA) at Bridgewater State University.

I am writing to you today to ask for your support in my election for the position of Senator in the SGA. With your help, I can make a difference for our student body and bring positive change to our campus.

As a member of the SGA, I have been involved in various activities and events that have helped me gain valuable experience and skills. I have been a part of the Student Government Association for the past year and have held various positions, including the Vice President of Internal Affairs and the President of the BSA Student Senate.

As Senator, I will work hard to represent the interests of all students and ensure that their voices are heard. I will work closely with other members of the SGA to develop and implement effective solutions to the problems facing our campus.

Please consider voting for me in the upcoming election and supporting me in my efforts to make a difference for our student body.

Thank you for your support.

Commentary

The Massachusetts Legislature has completed the first step in the process of amending the state constitution. The House of Representatives has approved an amendment that would make it easier to vote on the issue of abortion.

The amendment, which was introduced by Rep. Liz Scroggs (D-Shrewsbury), would allow the Legislature to override a veto by the Governor with a two-thirds majority vote. The current constitution requires a three-fourths majority vote to override a veto.

According to Scroggs, the amendment would give the Legislature more flexibility in addressing important issues, such as abortion. "This amendment would allow the Legislature to act in a more timely and effective manner," she said.

The amendment now goes to the Senate for consideration. If it is approved there, it will then be put to the voters in a referendum.

I was sitting in my office bored out of my skull and killing time.

It was a slow day and nobody had walked through the door once. Unfortunately, you can’t pay bills when that happens. I was sitting with my head on my desk when a silhouette was flicked in the corner. In addition, there was a knock on the door. I couldn’t tell if it was one of those luscious girls that walk in here every once in a while. I opened the door.

She was wearing a very beautiful woman ..

MUSIC SURVEY

Every day people argue that their favorite band or performer is better than the rest. While it's okay to be opinionated, it's important to keep an open mind and consider different perspectives. Here's a sample of recent music reviews from various sources:

Critics' Corner

By John D. Beaton

Broadway Danny Rose — After the success of Woody Allen's "Zelig" it is hard for this critic to accept not low key. Broadway Danny Rose is a Broadway theatrical agent for the comically zany and the pathetically masochistic. His assistants include a skirling rabbie, a balloon designer, and a blind sympathizist. In a days work for the agent, Max Neumann and Nick Arrick, Frank co-star.

The Dresmer — "The Dresmer" is an actor's movie that includes two stars, Albert Finney and Tom Courtemanche. The British actor gives one of the most brilliant performances in a manor captured by the English character. Finney is Sir, an aging Shakespearean actor whose forthcoming performances have been the cause of his career. Compared to the fragility and often funny man behind the scenes who drive Sir for the stage. The Dresmer is a well written and directed film, it must be seen for the two tours de force performances of Albert and Courtemanche.

Do you know the Greek word that means moving in rhythm? The word is "e1eia". It is a word that is well known to many. The new album on RCA is the latest effort for pop music. Dave Stewart's beautiful production and Annie Lennox's singing and playing is a revelation until the perfect romantic point is reached. Here Comes The Rain Again, their current single, picks up where Sweet Dreams Are Made Of This left off. The lyric content is simple and repetitious, but it all makes sense and flows like poetry. The LP is so well done, that you can feel the passion and is a great effort. The last two songs of the record are a drum and lead vocal, and "It's Just Like That" is a great effort. The album is a great effort and flows like poetry. The LP is so well done, that you can feel the passion and is a great effort. The last two songs of the record are a drum and lead vocal, and "It's Just Like That" is a great effort. The album is a great effort and flows like poetry.

The Right Stuff — Based on the best-selling novel by Tom Wolfe. "The Right Stuff" is a story of the American Aviators who went on to become the first men in space. This is a story of how the American Aviators have made the impossible possible. It is a story of the people who were involved in the flight. Sam Shepard plays Chuck Yeager, Ed Harris plays John Glenn, and Scott Glenn as Alan Shepard were only a few of the actors that made this film spectacular. Don't miss it!

Footloose — "Footloose" is pure fluff. However, it is fun, energetic, and quick-paced, which makes an otherwise dull film entertaining and enjoyable. Bruce MacKinnon teams up with the writers of "Footloose" and the two try to fight the system. Too much time is spent focusing on the minister (John Lithgow) and not enough time focusing on the dancing.

Broadway Denny Rose — After the success of Woody Allen's "Zelig" it is hard to criticize his recent film "Broadway Denny Rose." Allert force feeds the gav in 'Denny Rose' instead of letting them dance. Denny Rose (Allen) is a Broadway theatrical agent for the comically axed and the relentlessly masturbous. His acts include a skating rabbid, a balloon designer, and a blind sopranoist in a day's work for the agent. Miss Farrow and Nick Nolte go coast-to-coast.

The Dresser — "The Dresser" is an actor's movie that features two stars, Albert Finney and Tom Courtenay. The British actor plays the part of the most brilliant playwright in London, a man so troubled by his neurosis that he is forced to rely on the dressing room of his dressing room. Sidney Florentine (Finney) is a sleeping-at-dawn actor whose touring performances have been the very best of his career. He is a fragile and often funny man behind the scenes who pleases Sir for the show. The two actors interplay the fragility and company of each other during the course of a day. Despite the fact that "The Dresser" is well written and directed film, it is not seen to be too fine a performance of Albert and Courtenay.

Do you know the Greek word that means moving in rhythm? The word is "kata" and it is a word that will profoundly affect your ears. Their new album on RCA is a worthy effort for pop music. Dave Stivell's beautiful and production are handsomely tied together. Until the perfect rhythmic pattern is proved, here comes the Rain Again. Their current single, picture it where Sweet Dreams Are Made Of Those Kisses, is a lyrically correct and repetitious dance. LPA is not, of course, but it will rise above the role of a dance. The song's theme is that you are feeling cold and lonely. We have a blanket of song with Stivell's music and lyrics are catchy but Grover's feeling voice is unimportant. I think Grover has been trying to say "day as a lead singer. The first three songs of the record are dreadful and remind me of Honeys Rainbow with a smile." The last three songs sound like a groove. "Silkwood" sounds all right. It is the "hit of the black vinyl genre. The lyrics of the past future and the present are okay at Grover's grace makes excuses when she says "I'm so hard to change if you know what I mean." Walt Disney fantasies are "the kiss of fate." The year was 1982 and you could not put this album for a dollar. Put Machata with the name of a young German man who records tapes in his basement in Brighton. His latest tape has a soft dreamy tone that will always be the finest. You will want to go to Boston to find it. Rosemary SDL's album called "A Woman" on the Geisel label, should have been Pat Benatar written all the top. Linda Ronstadt and Nicolette Laron sing a great backup in just Can't Get It Right. I would simply be sorry if this album should be lost by the dark. Who, in the hell, could have something so sweet and beautiful that I could not get it? "Maniac" is the most important record of song. The LaFontaines, "Fanny" and "The Dresser." Really Rosie is a woman of song. "The Dresser" and "Terms of Endearment" are terms of endearment.

People in PIRG

When PIRG was just a tiny flicker of an idea two spring ago, one of the people responsible for making a BSC chapter a reality was Chuck Phillips. Chuck was co-current President at the time and was a dual major in ecology and urban studies. He is also 00 a veteran of the Central American war. Chuck has been an active member of the Connecticut Citizen Action Group, a co-founder of the Massachusetts Public Interest Research Group, and is presently a member of the Massachusetts Anti-Defamation League. Chuck's work with PIRG has been characterized by his dedication to a wide range of issues, including civil rights, environment, and economic justice.

PIRG realizes that they cannot just sit back and watch the world go by. Chuck believes that PIRG must be involved in the world around them. He feels that PIRG must do more than just create awareness. PIRG must be involved in the issues that affect their community.

The concept of a citizen action group is one that appeals to Chuck. He believes that if people can be made aware of the issues, they will be more likely to become involved in the community. Chuck believes that PIRG can play an important role in taking the first steps towards the elimination of dangerous problems like nuclear waste.

People in PIRG

When PIRG was just a tiny flicker of an idea two springs ago, one of the people responsible for making a BSC chapter a reality was Chuck Phillips. Chuck is now an undergraduate student who has long been involved in working with citizen action groups. Besides writing with PIRG, he has also been an active member in Connecticut Citizen Action Group, MASS I Kill On PE and Florida PIRG. It was past experiences and continued interest in the environment that led him to his current job at BSC PIRG. His next job is to move to the Massachusetts Educational Reform Coalition, a job he hopes to be taking this summer.

The concept of a citizen action group is one that appeals to Chuck as he believes that they can effectively lobby for positive social change.

The idea of the Public Interest Research Groupsi.e. run by students and citizens to combat the bureaucratic system to change the bureaucratic system. One of PIRG's main tasks is to gather information and present it to government officials. It is important for Chuck to be able to present his ideas in a clear and concise manner to help change the current political climate. The PIRG group is made up of individuals who are passionate about making a difference in their community and are willing to work together to achieve their goals.

Seniors Who's Hiring in 1984

The February 1984 issue of Changing Times Magazine lists 100 companies with jobs for 1984 graduates. Three of these companies are located in the Massachusetts area. The following are quotes from the magazine:

"Almost 40% say they plan to hire the same number of graduates as they did last year, and that's a major change from last year. Only 15% report they will hire few if any graduates this year. About 40% say they are having difficulty finding qualified candidates for certain kinds of jobs. You'll find themselves in the 'candidates in short supply' column. Those job openings are more in the areas of engineering, physics, chemistry and manufacturing. But some organizations report shortages of applicants for such diverse jobs as economists, linguists, restaurant managers, retail store owners, and lawyers."

College students planning on going to law school can find out what they may be getting into from the "Law Package." A collection of books on the admission process, the curriculum, and the legal profession.

The package has been developed by the Law School Admission Council and the Law School Admission Services, the organizations that administer the law school entrance examination.

"The $10 includes a booklet entitled "You, the Law, and Law School," which tells students what to expect from a legal career. You can take a sample admission test, which will be scored and analyzed so they can see their strong and weak points. As a separate guide explains admission standards and financial-aid procedures."

The Law Package is available for $10 from Law School Admission Services, Inc., 201-190, Newton, Pa. 19840.

Heritage Day Parade!

Spring weather will soon be upon New England, if it hasn't already, and with it will come the Heritage Day Parade at BSC. This year the parade will coincide with President's Weekend, an event that includes a variety of activities.

A group of students, a few members of the staff and administration got together on February 9 and February 23 to put together ideas for what David Wilson, Director of Community Services, said could be the biggest college parade in all of New England.

The parade, scheduled for May 5 at 11 a.m., will feature different floats this year. Wilson said that the outlying Residents Selectmen have suggested that the parade go through the center of town. One possible route would have the parade start at the Campus Plaza and then move through the center of town, somehow ending up at the BSC Disharmonica. Several people at the meeting voiced their concern whether the parade would disrupt a very busy business day. A final plan has yet to be decided.

SFA First Vice-President David Kutcher, along with President Paul Dobson, will be parade marshals. Kutcher said the SFA has already budgeted $3,000 for the event.

Voter (op p.1)

Son drives on campus and in the community, and student leadership development and student skills workshops were the central focus of last year's HFC Public Relations and Entertainment (S) (PRE) and sponsored by the Student Activity Fund (USA). By attending this conference students proved they are active, concerned citizens who can and will make a difference in the future of society.

The 1984 elections may well be the most crucial political event of the decade. The course of our nation and state, regarding the issues of abortion, civil rights, the economy, the arms race, the environment, U.S. policy and the changing role of women, will be determined by the result of the Presidential elections on November 6, 1984. We may not agree on all of the particulars of the issues, but we can act together as a greater voice in determining the outcome. All of these issues affect us, citizens of this nation. The most important impact we can have in this election is to demonstrate our right to vote. We must remember that voting is our constitutional right and if we don't use it, we make a mistake in the election process, but we must also be very careful in the only registry — we must vote.

There are at least seven million registered voters in Illinois and if 1 million are between the ages of 18 and 24, Many are dropouts. Something is wrong, creativity with this and we must take action to change the situation. As, we students, have the power to create a better society, more so than virtually any other group in this country. We must put our words into action and allow our voices to be heard at the national and state level. We cannot dramatize our power, not be heard unless we take responsibility to register and to vote. We are the "elders of tomorrow" and we have the power to determine our "morning."

Teacher's Salaries Up!!

By Lawrence Allen

Some good news for education majors: According to a U.P.I. article this week, teachers are up 8.5 percent from last year. The average salary rose to $10,000 and 70 percent of the state's 1,100 public schools have raised teacher salaries. It is hoped that this trend will continue across the nation. Although the state of Massachusetts is the highest in salaries, the cost of living in the Northeast is the highest too.

WGA: Headlines

The Department of Black Studies was eliminated at Bridgewater last week, and the students in the Department were met with a very strong response. The winds of change have not been lost on the campus of Bridgewater State College, where student activism is the norm. The members of the student group Black Studies will continue to fight for their goals.

They met with the lowest teacher salary in the state of Massachusetts, with an average salary of $14,320.

Finally, Pothke said that competing for the position of Student Union President is a great challenge. He feels that if he is selected, his goals will be met and the position will be used as a vehicle to benefit the Student Union.

Students can vote in the election on Tuesday, March 10th from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
