BSC Saddened By Loss
By Mary McGaughan
Contributing Writer

For many of us, a part of him will always be deeply interred inside our hearts, as we carry on with the benefits of the knowledge he instilled within us. He leaves as his legacy a multitude of present and previous students whose beliefs and knowledge are based in part on Dr. Larson's teachings. We are grateful for the time he had to share himself with us. He will never be forgotten.

Singers Lauded

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the Managing Editor’s article in the Spring 1985 edition of the Alumni Association Newsletter, entitled “Singers Lauded.”

I am a member of the alumni association and was pleased to read about the recognition of the Bridgewater State College Ensemble Theatre. I would like to comment on the statement that the group’s success was due to the efforts of the music students.

In my experience, the success of a performing arts group is dependent on the participation and support of all members, not just the music students. The efforts of the theater students, stage managers, designers, and crew members are just as important as those of the performers. The ensemble theatre production is a product of the collaboration of many people, and I believe that the credit for its success should be shared with all.

Sincerely,

Joanne Pasquinelli

Editorial: Total Agreement ???

By Michael Lombardo

Editorial Writer

To the Editor:

I read with great interest the editorial in the April 20, 1985 edition of the Newspaper, entitled “Total Agreement.”

I agree with the sentiment expressed in the editorial, that there is a need for a more collaborative approach to solving the issues facing our community. I believe that by working together, we can address the challenges we face and find solutions that benefit everyone.

I applaud the efforts of those who are already taking steps to bridge the gaps between different groups. It is important that we continue to build on these efforts and work towards a more inclusive and united community.

Sincerely,

Michelle Lombardo

Editorial: Classes Closed?

By Richard Wight

Editorial Writer

To the Editor:

I read with interest the editorial in the April 20, 1985 edition of the Newspaper, entitled “Classes Closed?”

I believe that the decision to close classes is a justified measure to ensure the safety and well-being of our students. I agree that the cost of living and tuition fees can be a significant burden, but we must prioritize the health and education of our students.

I support the efforts of those who are working to address the root causes of these issues and find sustainable solutions for the future. Let us work together to create a better tomorrow.

Sincerely,

Barbara Johnson

The United Nations Year of the Child/USA & USSR Unite

On the occasion of the United Nations Year of the Child, USA & USSR agreed to cooperate in the promotion of children’s rights and welfare. This agreement was signed on 15 March 1985.

As part of this agreement, an exhibition was held in New York City to raise awareness about children’s issues and to promote understanding between the two nations. The exhibition featured various artworks, photographs, and multimedia presentations, highlighting the similarities and differences between children’s experiences in the USA and USSR.

The exhibition was well-received by visitors, who expressed appreciation for the opportunity to learn more about children’s lives in different countries and to promote understanding and cooperation. USA & USSR continue to work together on various initiatives to support children’s rights and welfare.

Sincerely,

At the March meeting the students that occurred which excited our position in the '82-'83 year, Prof. Christina Ryan gave a report on her six-month visits to the Soviet Union. From the USSR, Prof. Ryan brought back pictures of children's paintings. These paintings were exhibited in the college until only a few months ago.

Now, children of the world have had their school paintings completed and the chief of the children of the USSR. This effort is being encouraged by teachers as well as government officials. A Soviet film was subtitled by the United States State Department and it was shown in D.C. on the air.

To the Class of 1987,
To the editor:

I feel we should sit back and look at what our class has done over the past two years. If nothing immediately comes to mind, don’t feel frustrated, it is nothing to look back upon. It is time for a change!

Our junior year was a very important one socially as well as academically. It is my opinion that we as a class could spend many campaign meetings which could benefit ourselves and the college community. This activity would not only draw our class together but would create new memories of our college experience.

Currently I am Class Senator in the S.G.A. I have enjoyed being a student leader for you. I would like to continue to do so as your President.

On May 2nd and 3rd, please take the time to vote through your concern that competent leaders will be placed in office.

I ask you for your time and I hope you will consider me as your choice for President.

Sincerely,

Alligator is known for putting out some of the most well-received artists in the blues genre. From Fenton Robinson's soulful voice to Prince's electric guitar, these artists have contributed to the rich history of black music.

But music is more than just entertainment; it's also a powerful tool for political and social change. The music of these artists speaks to the struggles of our time and offers a glimpse of hope for the future.

When you support independent music, you're supporting artists who are creating music that matters. So the next time you're at a concert or a festival, remember that you're not just enjoying the music— you're also helping to create a better world.

Alligator is known for putting out some of the most rewarding music of the younger blues artists. And Fenton Robinson, editor of Alligator Records, is one of the best at this. Among the many highlights of this batch of releases is the music of Fenton Robinson himself. This young and talented musician has been able to collect some excellent artists and put them together in a way that is both enjoyable and rewarding.

I would feel bored if I said that from this record, but I can tell you that the music is fantastic. It has that moody and mysterious atmosphere that is characteristic of Mother Russia. The Stones of Mercy also managed to create a cohesive and well-produced album. The First and Last and Always sound provides a unique and refreshing experience.

The debate continues in the classroom and in curriculum committees regarding whether the school should adopt a new text. One thing I can tell you is that the debate is vital to the future of our students. It is a matter of whether our students will receive the best education possible. I am not a student of the future, but I believe that the debate is an important one.

The Children's Physical Developmental Clinic is a unique program serving special needs children ranging in age from eighteen months to twenty-two years. It is divided into three separate sections: (play/ sport/recreation) and (social improvement of the children. The clinic hosts eight Saturday morning sessions each semester from 7:30 a.m. until noon. Students in most majors and concentrations from Bridgewater State College participate in the program as clinicians working on a one-to-one basis with a child in the areas of:
- Early intervention
- Physical Fitness
- Perceptual Motor Development
- Basic Motor Skills and Patterns
- Individual and Small Group Games
- Aquatic Skills
- Rhythmic and Dance Skills
- Recreation and Sport Activity

A Clinician's day begins at 7:30 a.m. when he or she arrives at the Kelly Gymnasium and pool to help set up equipment. Coffee and donuts are then served to all clinicians followed by small group meetings with their group leader. At 8:15 a.m., clinicians have an opportunity to hear a guest speaker addressing medical, psychological and educational needs of the children. By 9:00 a.m., the children begin to arrive.

There is nothing more delightful and satisfying than to watch and greet the children as they come to the program on Saturday morning. It is fulfilling to see their happy faces and to know that they are eagerly looking forward to coming to work and play with their clinicians.

By 9:30 a.m., things have begun to roll. Each clinician is with his or her child working on activities planned by the clinicians (with the help of his/her group leader) for the day. And before most clinicians can realize the time, it is 11:15 and time for the children to depart. By 11:30 the equipment is put away and the clinicians gather in the gymnasium for meetings in which they review the success with their child and to plan for the forthcoming work with their group leader (a senior student).

The Clinic program is directed by Dr. Joseph Hirsch with the help of Prince Snow and Nancie Smith and ten to twelve student group leaders. It is supported on campus with over 60 student clinicians and over 70 special needs children enrolled. The Clinic has proved to be a satisfying experience for students knowing that they are helping a child to reach his or her fullest potential, physically, intellectually, emotionally, and socially.

Clinicians represent most majors of the Bridgewater State Campus. These include the following:
- Art
- Biology
- Computer Science
- Early Childhood Education
- Elementary Education
- Health Education
- Management Science
- Music
- Physical Education
- Psychology
- Recreation
- Science
- Secondary Education
- Social Work
- Sociology
- Special Education
- Speech Communications
- Communications Disorders

The Clinic is now accepting applications from all students interested in applying. Applications may be obtained at Dr. Hirsch's office, rm. 103 in the Kelly Gymnasium.

Won't you come down and join us in our effort to make a difference in the lives of the special needs children we serve? We guarantee it will be one of the most rewarding and exciting experiences of your college career.

From the Manager's Desk

By Mike Seyer

Today is Friday, the 28th, the final day of April. It's been a rather eventful month, filled with interesting activities and challenges. As the saying goes, "April showers bring May flowers," and I think we've had our share of both this month.

The month has been highlighted by various sporting events, such as the annual track meet and the upcoming basketball playoffs. The track team has done exceptionally well, breaking several personal records and qualifying for the state championships. Our basketball team has also been successful, winning several games and advancing to the sectional playoffs.

However, April hasn't been without its challenges. We've faced some tough competition and had to work hard to achieve our goals. But with every challenge comes an opportunity to learn and grow.

Looking ahead to May, we have an exciting slate of events planned. The track team will be competing in the state championships, and our basketball team will be vying for a spot in the state finals. We're also excited about the upcoming soccer and volleyball tournaments.

In addition to these sports, we're also holding various community events, such as the annual fundraiser and the citywide reading challenge. These events bring our community together and help us raise funds for important causes.

As we move into May, we'll continue to focus on both academic and extracurricular activities. We're proud of our students and the hard work they put into their studies and their athletic endeavors. We're committed to supporting them every step of the way.

Thank you for your support and your continued involvement in our school community. We look forward to an exciting May filled with opportunities for growth and learning.

Today is Friday, the day we're all supposed to be feeling great. It's been a tough week for the Bears, losing to the Celtics in the first round of the playoffs. However, we're still in the playoffs, and there's still hope. The Bears have a chance to win the series against the Celtics in the first round. The game against the Celtics is on Saturday night, and we need to come out with a lot of energy and a lot of heart.

The sun poked through the clouds at noon on Saturday and, right on time, the fourth annual Heritage Day Parade stepped off, with bands playing, floats moving, and sirens and horns wailing.

Led by BSC cheerleaders and members of the football team, and followed by dozens of antique automobiles and the Glover Ames High School "Tiger Band" (the first of three bands), the parade left the lower parking lot at Great Hill heading for the center of town where large and enthusiastic crowds of spectators awaited them.

It was the largest Heritage Day Parade so far at Bridgewater State College -- 19 floats were entered by various student groups and organizations in a lively competition for trophies and prizes, and when it was all over, here were the results:

- President's Cup Grand Prize and $150 cash went to Chi Alpha, the Christian Fellowship organization which put together an imaginative float that included live doves.
- Second Place and $100 cash went to Pope Hall for the "There's No Place Like Pope" float. Dorm President Lauree Morency and her team worked hard on this entry.
- Third Place and $75.00 cash went to Sigma Chi Fraternity whose "Born in the USA" float featured important historical events in American history.

Those were the overall winners; in addition, each of the four divisions had individual awards, and those were:

- Division I - Greek Organizations: Division II - Greek Organizations: Sigma Chi beat out very tough competition from Kappa Phi Omega (who took first place last fall in the Homecoming competition). Kappa's float, developed under the leadership of President Jeanette Humphreys, highlighted the history of sororities at BSC. "It was a real tough choice," admitted the judges. "Very, very close." The judges also had kind words to say about Alpha Upsilon's entry as well, and they enjoyed Phi Beta Sigma's entry too.

- Division III - Residence Halls trophy went to Pope Hall, which had to fend off stiff competition from Woodward Hall, Scott Hall (the "Scott Hall Clown Patrol") and Shea/Durgin (whose float featured beds crowded together, illustrating quite graphically how Shea/Durgin is when school opens each fall).

- Division IV - Clubs and Organizations - The Student Union Program Committee put together a show and imaginatively which looked like a sing-along in the Rathskeller that had everyone along the route stamping their feet (including the judges).

Other entries in the two divisions for clubs and organizations included great floats from the Class of 1984, the Chase Club, S.A.M.S., the Basketball Cheerleaders, and BSC Athletics.

Parade Coordinator Anita Kaufman, Class of 1985, said, "I don't think we can say enough about how hard all the students worked on this year's parade and what a terrific job they did. The quality of the floats and the imagination they displayed were very impressive.

This was the fourth annual parade, and over the years the entry gets better and better. And so do the crowds watching the parade -- we estimate about 3,000 people turned out along the route to enjoy it."

The Heritage Day Parade Committee expressed its thanks to Denis Lawn, Jr., Student Government President and Parade Marshal, for his "outstanding" service, and to the Student Government Association, which provides the funding and is instrumental in the planning each year.

This year's Honorary Parade Marshal was Mr. Harold Goodworth, Class of 1947, who with his wife rode in the parade with Denis Lawn.

Miss Kaufman, on behalf of the Committee, expressed her thanks to all of the organizations which participated, and also to key members of the College staff, including Mr. Joseph Perry who made such a bush as he put it, "in a hundred different ways," and Mr. Louis Perry who employs his good relations with area contractors and businesspeople to help acquire trailers and trucks for floats and works with town officials to enlist their cooperation with many details which go into the parade.

"We also like to express special thanks to these businesses that provide the trucks and trailers -- such as Silvon Trucking of West Bridgewater, Gabriel Trucking of Bridgewater, Collins Rigging of East Bridgewater, Prenger's Equipment of Bridgewater, from Mitchell of Brockton, Century Lumber Company, and Parker's Garage. Their cooperation is just tremendous."

Miss Kaufman also singled out for special praise Miss Rae Martin, secretary in the SGA office, who personally makes many telephone calls to acquire trailers for the parade."
The sun peeked through the clouds at noon on Saturday, April 27, and by nine o'clock, the fourth annual Heritage Day Parade started off, with bands playing, floats moving, and semi-trucks and buses rolling.

Led by SCS cheerleaders and members of the football team, and followed by dozens of antique automobiles and the Greek Aries High School Tiger Band (in their Cap and Gown), the parade left the lower parking lot at Great Hill heading for the center of town where a large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators awaited them.

  - Division IV - Clubs and Organizations: The Student Union Program Committee put together a clever and imaginative float which looked like a snowglobe in the Babushka that had everyone along the route eating their food (including the judges).

Division V - Clubs and Organizations II - top prize in this division went to the Ensemble Theatre for its rendition of the upcoming Irish program the group is hosting. The scene was an Irish pub, and the judges liked it a lot.

Other entries in the two divisions for clubs and organizations included great floats from the Class of 1984, the Chess Club, S.A.M.S., the Basketball Cheerleaders, and BSC Athletics.

Parade Coordinator Andrea Kaufman, Class of 1983, said, "I don't think we can say enough about how hard all the students worked on this year's parade and what a terrific job they did. Dear P.J.

I received your letter about the nature of the relationship between you and your partner. I appreciate your willingness to discuss this sensitive issue.

As you mentioned, relationships are complex and involve a lot of give and take. It's important to communicate openly and honestly about your expectations and feelings. It's also important to consider the impact of your actions on others, especially those who may be affected by your decisions.

In your letter, you mentioned that your partner has been having affairs. While this can be a difficult situation, it's important to remember that ultimately, the decision to stay or leave a relationship is yours to make.

It's understandable that you might be feeling upset and hurt. However, it's important to remember that you have the power to protect yourself emotionally. If you feel that you can't keep going in the current relationship, it might be time to consider ending it.

On the other hand, if you still want to work things out with your partner, it might be helpful to have clear boundaries and expectations. You might want to talk to your partner about what you need from the relationship and what you're willing to do to make it work.

In addition, it might be helpful to consider seeking support from friends, family, or a counselor. Talking to others can provide perspective and help you navigate your feelings.

Ultimately, it's up to you to decide what's best for you. I hope you find the support you need and that you can make a decision that feels right for you.

Sincerely,
Donald Haggie

Dear PJ,

I appreciate you coming to me for advice on this matter. However, it seems that you may have misunderstood my previous response.

I did not mean to imply that your current relationship was the cause of your roommate's actions. Instead, I was suggesting that you should take the initiative and talk to her about your concerns. If she starts behaving inappropriately again, you should consider ending the relationship.

Additionally, I do not believe that it is the best course of action to break up with her right away. This could be a difficult decision and it may be better to work through the issues with her. If she does not change her behavior, then it may be necessary to end the relationship.

I hope this clarifies my previous advice. Let me know if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

R.R.
