Sigma Chi anniversary

The Skipper Fraternity at Bridgewater College celebrated its 100-year anniversary on April 11, 1986, in honor of two Sigma Chi members who graduated from this college: Kenneth Ford, Class of 1936, and John Burns, Class of 1966.

The Sigma Chi Fraternity at Bridgewater College was chartered on April 11, 1986. During the past three years, the chapter has been involved in numerous activities, including hosting a variety of speakers, inaugurating a new scholarship program, and supporting various local groups and organizations.

The event included speeches, songs, and a special presentation by the fraternity members, who shared their experiences and memories of their time at Bridgewater College.

At the end of the event, the fraternity members were presented with a special plaque to commemorate their 100-year anniversary.

The Sigma Chi Fraternity at Bridgewater College continues to be an active and vibrant organization on campus, and its members look forward to continuing their traditions and celebrating their shared history for many years to come.
Dunfrey's necessary

To the Editor:

I'm addressing the flyer that was going around campus which was headed, "Stop Abortion Against Power." Surely this looks bad, if I were to mention or even speak the name of the individuals on this flyer. The only line I've found is that the writer of the flyer ap- pears in the SGA Chamber where the students are concerned about as much as they possibly feel that we broke the students' money. I disagree. The Administration is supposed to be there watching over what we do.

I refer to you as the SGA and this is the "rewriting weekend" consid- ered as not to be too important? If you had been attending the Senate meetings, you would not have known that this didn't come up "all of a sudden." The flyer questions the productivity of the weekend. How can you question what our productivity was when you weren't even there? You have effect say in the matter of S.G.A. matters. Nothing will be done until the Senate approves it. Producers must be able to see and not just hear the Constitution. We went to the Cape. Nothing is cheaper to go to the Cape. Heaven is half the cost. This is what this tells me is that we went to the Cape. Is this the way we want to go to the Cape. Heaven is half the cost. This is what this tells me is that we went to the Cape. Is there or cannot rewrite the constitution? We did in fact act in the best interest of the students. I'm just quoting what she said. Came and would have signed up or voiced her concern in the Senate. I've been supposed to be there. As for wasting time and money, it is. I believe that this is the way this was to be. After reading Pam Sweaney's article on the Student Senate in Washington, which appeared in your April 3, 1986 issue, I felt compelled to correct several inaccuracies.

The Production movement and its various organizations have taken to the Senate and solicited the support of the students, which I believe to be totally separate from the students. Nobody is the author of that life and you can interrupt. Front page stories and marches in Washington can never change that.

SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER Eduard Shevardnadze will travel to Washington in mid-May to fix a time and agenda for a summit meeting this year between President Reagan and Premier Mikhail Gorbachev, sources in the State House said yesterday.

THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION said yesterday that it will sell $300 million in military electronics equipment to China to help modernize that country's Air Force, the fighter-interceptor. The first step by Washington to shore down ties with Peking will go through automatically unless Congress acts on it. Senate on Tuesday, at 23, is a supporter at the national leadership, Barnicle left then the FBI and serves as an Assistant United States Attorney in New York and for the readers of the Los Angeles Times. The Reagan administration is to send two people to the Bosphorus in Europe for emergency aid.

C. KHALDAK has ordered Western business's to move their workers into the North after an apparent effort to ease U.S. retaliation strikes on the installations. The United States is considering military action.

Japan's Prime Minister, Yasuhiro Nakasone, told President Reagan at Camp David yesterday that he was "determined to ensure our safety" in Japanese and in culture in order to accommodate Western markets and business interests. The United States is a major economic partner.

ACTING TO "PRE-EMP'T [sic] AND DISCOURAGE" Libyan terrorism, the United States carried out a series of middle-of-the-night air strikes against Libya, the White House announced yesterday. Advising the news media that over Libya. Mandates were obtained.

THE POLITICAL LEADERS that Barnicle F. Marcus left behind launched a major press campaign yesterday against the new Philippine government of Corazon Aquino. The campaign was designed to be a "rehabilitation" of the "protracted" administration of former President Ferdinand E. Marcos. The Marcos administration was "elected" by the Filipino people.

Gordon Liddy packs S.U. Ballroom

By John Reagan, Jr.

G. Gordon Liddy lectured and answered questions of a gathering of about 500 people yesterday in the New South Building at the University of Massachusetts-Amherst. Liddy holds a dissertation in law from Fordham University and served as a major in the United States Army before entering the law school at the University of Virginia. He served as an aide to the CIA, a supporter at the national leadership, Barnicle left then the FBI and serves as an Assistant United States Attorney in New York and for the readers of the Los Angeles Times. SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER Eduard Shevardnadze will travel to Washington in mid-May to fix a date and agenda for a summit meeting this year. Shevardnadze is in the United States for a three-day visit, beginning Monday, and will be in Washington March 30 and April 1.

The Reagan administration said yesterday that it will send 500 military electronics equipment to China to help modernize that country's Army Air Force fighter interceptors. This move by Washington to strengthen its ties with China is aimed at countering the Soviet buildup.

Liddy defends covert and clandestine activities to protect national interests. He says, "If your nation doesn't possess a strategic nuclear boom and something occurs elsewhere in the world, your national interests are endangered."

According to Liddy, from his past activities he appears to be a more precise and intellectual man. He has been an expert in government policy and national security for nearly five before being pardoned by President Ford.

THE UN House of Representatives yesterday overwhelmingly approved legislation providing for the reconvening of the U.S. Senate.

Liddy claims that the Freedom of Information Act has taken the drain, carrying with it your national interests. He says, "If your nation does not possess a strategic nuclear boom and something occurs elsewhere in the world, your national interests are endangered."

Bernard Cardinal Law visits BSC's Catholic Center

By Janice Webster

Thursday, April 10, Bernard Cardinal Law visited Bridgewater State College with his province. A large number of students and faculty performed for the congregation and its entertainment.

Father Joseph McNamara, O.M.I. and Sister Jo Ann Veillette, consecrated Mass with the Cardinal. He mentioned his own realization of the lack of understanding among the many people here for the Mystery of Easter. He spoke of the sacrifice which Our Lord Jesus Christ made for us so that we might enter into the story of the world. In Resurrection Jesus Christ was made for us to cleanse a way the sins of the world. In Ressurection Jesus Christ was made for us to cleanse us from the Kingdom of God just as no one is excluded from the brotherhood of man. We are all children of God.

Does anyone know the history of the Catholic Church? It was begun in honor of His Eminence. Regardless of his busy schedule, His Eminence greeted one and all with warmth and humor.

All you have to do is visit your authorized Apple dealer by June 30th and take advantage of Apple's Student Exchange program. You can trade-in your Mac or Macintosh Plus for a compact version of the Apple IIe, and you'll get back $75. Buy a Macintosh IIIE, the computer you don't have to study to learn, and you'll get a 10% check.

In a Macintosh Plus plan, the computer gives more power to students, and at a cost. You'll get $175 rebate. But you now have to do one thing that you probably pretty good at - write checks.

Ask your parents for the money to buy the computer.

In two rooms on the second floor of Stanford University’s Public Service Center, students from several Stanford faculty and student associations are busy preparing for the annual student elections. The Ballot Box, with its tall, glass-fronted case, is a central feature of the room. Inside, ballots for the various offices are being counted and organized. Posterboards are set up, and a large display case holds the official ballots for the elections.

In the background, a group of students is working on the voter education program. They are preparing handouts and flyers to be distributed at the polling places. A large poster displays the candidates for each position, along with their campaign slogans and platforms.

The atmosphere is lively and enthusiastic, with students from all over campus coming to help. Some are busy stuffing envelopes, while others are registering voters. The mood is one of excitement and anticipation, as everyone looks forward to the upcoming elections.

The SGA is dedicated to ensuring that all students have a voice in the decision-making process. By participating in the election process, students can help shape the future of their university and have a direct impact on their educational experience.

In the next few weeks, the SGA will continue to work hard to ensure that the election process runs smoothly. We encourage all students to get involved, whether by volunteering, registering to vote, or simply learning more about the candidates.

The SGA thanks all those who have contributed to the success of this year’s election process. We look forward to a strong turnout on election day and to the continued growth and development of the SGA and the Stanford community.

BSC Defeated by the Flu

By Kirb VanDyke

The “flu” has hit another campus, this time at Stanford University. The symptoms are similar to those of a typical flu: fever, headache, body aches, and exhaustion. In some cases, the flu can be more severe, with complications such as pneumonia.

The SGA is working to ensure that students have access to information and resources to help them cope with the flu. They have set up a website with information on symptoms, prevention, and treatment. They have also distributed flyers with tips on how to avoid spreading the flu, such as washing hands frequently and avoiding close contact with ill people.

The SGA urges students to take precautions to prevent the flu. They should wash their hands often, avoid close contact with sick people, and stay home if they are feeling ill. They should also get their flu shot if they haven’t already.

The SGA is committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for all students. We will continue to monitor the situation and provide updates as needed.

In two rooms on the second floor of Stanford University’s Public Service Center, students from several San Francisco area campuses can be seen working about. In the midst of several computer printers, maps spread wide, walls piled with papers, and a solar-powered miniature bicycle, sit a very determined group of people. They are busy answering phone calls, design-procedures. One of the questions that they are asking is something big: "What will it take to end world hunger?"

Dear P.J.

I have a friend who's a tennis star. He wants to sleep with everybody. In Tulsa, he's always saying "look at me" or "look at that" so I can't stop him. Why does he do it? Is it because he's under-sexed or something? It's almost to a point where I'm going to put a muzzle on the obnoxious ass. What can I say to make him slow down?

Feeling like a pimp

Dear Feeling like a pimp,

Just because your friend says things are fine he's not carrying them out. Everyone "cheers" an athlete. It's a part of people's human nature. He does it in his mind. He's being too much. Just tell him he's cheerleading with it and he'll laugh. If he continues to keep it up find someone else to eat dinner with.

Friend of Larry's

I have a friend Donna. She has a plush penguin that is her keepsake. It is a part of people's human nature to have many. If you've heard of penguins before you are interested. In this informal I mean she loves them so much that has a collection of penguin memorabilia even newspaper photographs of penguins. I've heard ofness of treasure. This is not the case.

Dear P.J.

You could say I've sort of a tough time. The reason why I have a problem is because I don't know what I really want to do. I'm a business student. I've been interested in cars since I was young and I had great difficulty growing up. I attempted suicide at the time but give up and made it through the hardest years of my life. I have a friend who is a business student. I was depressed that he's contemplating a way not suicide. He tried to make me to the reason he was never sure he's self-styled an idea. He has not even considered the idea.

Dear P.J.,

It's a part of people's human nature to have many. If you've heard of penguins before you are interested. In this informal I mean she loves them so much that has a collection of penguin memorabilia even newspaper photographs of penguins. I've heard ofness of treasure. This is not the case.

Dear P.J.

You are right. Your friend needs some help. Perhaps your friend needs some professional help. You can't help a friend if you don't know what he's thinking. If your friend is a B.S. student go to the Counseling Center. The counselors are there to help you through the best time for depression. If he doesn't want to talk to you, he needs to talk to a trained counselor. You got to get him to see someone and discuss his problems. And you will find a way to help him get one way or another. Thanks for being such a loving and caring friend.

Dear Fearful friend,

Your friend Donna has this infatuation with penguins. She has to have everywhere in her house. In this informal I mean she loves them so much that has a collection of penguin memorabilia even newspaper photographs of penguins. I've heard ofness of treasure. This is not the case.

Dear Special Report,

I am a friend of Larry's. Your friend Donna is perfectly normal. She is a friend of mine. She is a person who I know. She is a friend of Larry's. Her name is Donna. She is a friend of mine. She is a person who I know.
Dear P.J.

I have a friend who's a train. He wants to sleep with everything he meets. In Tilly, he's always saying "look at me" or "I'm here!" and I get so upset. Why does he do it? Is it because he's underweighted or something? It's almost a postcard where he's putting a message on the obvious专线. What can't I do to make him slow down?

Feeling like a jerk.

Dear P.J.,

Just because your friend says things are nice, you'd carry them out. Everyone "loves" you, but it's part of your human nature. It's a part of everyone's human nature. He's doing it in his own way. If you're training him, be too much, then tell him to be dressed in the outfit and to keep you if he continues to keep it up and find someone else to eat dinner with.

Dear P.J.,

My friend Donna has the initiation with penguins. She has to keep everyone she has access to this. She means love them too much. She's a collection of penguin memories, even newspaper photographs of penguins. I've heard of boundaries, but this is nuts.

Friend of Penguin Lives

Your friend Donna is perfectly normal. Everyone has an interaction with one thing or another happen all the time. Some people are even entertained with another person, in total last. Check some female doom room work and test all the stuffed animals they have. Having an interaction with penguins is not great.

Dear P.J.,

You could say your friend means a lot. He was dead when I was young and I had great difficulties growing up. He attempted suicide the first time at the time but got help and made it through the hard years of my life. I have a friend who is hating very bad. He is so depressed that he's contemplating suicide. I feel he has to tell me he was there, but I can lean him hard. I have no idea what to think.

Encourages him to think his problems if you tell someone what should I do? I think that counseling is a bad thing and he won't go. I really don't want to lose him! Help!

Dear P.J.,

Don't worry if you put a foot. If you don't want to lose them, you may be losing more than you expect. If you put it right again as the week progresses. This does not mean, however, that counselor will be nothing. It means that your future is no longer in your hands. Your new boss is the new entity, the new boss is all involved in every day.

Last Week’s Answer

Aries (March 21-April 19)--Don't allow yourself to become upset simply because friends respond out of the blue.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)--Preparation for any challenge this week is the key. Get set for any challenge that comes your way.

Aquarius (Feb. 18-Mar. 20)--Don't be afraid to take a risk. You will safely scotch damaging ideas from unexpected sources this week.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)--You may have to go over the budget to meet health needs, but you will safely scotch damaging ideas from unexpected sources this week.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)--Don't worry over inconsequential matters early in the week. Week's favorable response.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20)--Useful ideas come from unexpected sources this week. The strong becomes stronger as you work with it (March 5-March 28).

The second in a continuing series

In our recent column, we discussed the importance of a campus environment that fosters positive relationships and a sense of community. We highlighted several initiatives and programs at Bridgewater State College that aim to enhance student well-being and satisfaction. These programs are essential for creating a welcoming and supportive atmosphere for all students.

For our next segment, we will focus on the health state scores of undergraduate respondents. We will examine the findings of interest and discuss how they correlate with alienation or feeling separated from the campus community.

We will also delve into the stress levels of undergraduate respondents, exploring how they vary across different categories of data. We will identify trends and implications for future research.

In this installment, we will feature guest speaker Kathy Crosson, director of health promotion at the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Ms. Crosson will share her insights on how to manage stress and promote mental health.

With these insights, we hope to provide you with a deeper understanding of the challenges faced by undergraduate students and the strategies that can be implemented to address them.

Stay tuned for our upcoming column, which will be released on the first day of the academic year.

BURNELL SCHOOL SOCCER PROGRAM

By Mike L. Storey

The Bears are 2-2-1 in the fracal week (Tuesdays and Thursdays for eight weeks), with emphasis on participation for entering high school students. Coaching experiences with youngsters are intended to be a model youth sports program.

Participation in soccer and/or previous experiences playing soccer would be helpful but are not essential. You must be interested in working with children and helping them enjoy their participation in team sports. If you wish to sign up, look for PE 421 in the registration brochure.

The Bears Club Golf Tournament is scheduled for this weekend, April 22 at River Run Golf Club. The cost is $50. It's been the bears' first time at 12:45 p.m. and 9-10 a.m., and 9-10 a.m. It's all day from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. In the doubles competition, the Bears dropped the no. 1 and no. 2 teams, but senior captain George Torni and partner Dane Davenport came through with a 6-4, 6-4 win to put the Bears in the finals. The Bears springing into action with the women's spring tournament.

The BSC men's spring teams won their season opener with a 3-0 win over Stonehill last Wednesday. The win was the first of Stonehill several years ago.

Freshman sensation, Chris Means took the no. 2 singles 6-4, 6-2, to begin the scoring, and was followed by Dan Fellows 3-1 singles, and sophomore John Ayers 6-1, 6-3, 6-4 over the no. 3 singles. Freshman Dave Davenport took the no. 1 and no. 2 doubles with a 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 win over the no. 1 and no. 2 teams. U.S. warplanes attack Libya

By Patricia Sweeney

On April 14, at about 7:00 p.m. EST, United States warplanes attacked the Libyan capital of Tripoli and other targets in the North African state of Libya. The attack was in response to reports that Libya had sent six planes to bomb Iraq, in support of Iraq's aggression against Kuwait.

On April 15, Libya fired two Scud missiles at Israel, which landed near the Israeli city of Sderot. The Israeli government responded by launching a series of air attacks on Libyan targets.

The attack on Tripoli was a significant escalation of the conflict between the United States and Libya, which had been ongoing since the 1970s. The United States had imposed economic sanctions on Libya in 1977 in response to Libya's support of terrorist groups. The sanctions remained in place until 2011, when they were lifted.
