BIRTHRIGHT VISITS WOOD HALL STUDENTS

By Bern F. Rossi

Kaye Poirior, of the Thomas chapter of Birthright, visited students at Woodward Hall on the campus of Bridgewater State College and provided information. At the Oct. 23rd seminar, Poirior addressed several topics: including adoption, rape, and pregnancy.

FOOD WORLD FARE

Last Wednesday (Oct. 5th) and Thursday, October 6th, BSCHIP's World Food Day Seminar was held in the Great Hall of the Student Union. The seminar was sponsored by the Forensic Society. Two students dressed as the Star Shots exhibition team in the Student Union with their star-shaped wigs and clothing to imitate their favorite rock stars. Photographs were taken.

For further details, interested parties can contact the Forensic Society.

For Birthright, the right of every baby to be loved is the foundation of their philosophy. They believe that some babies are not wanted and that the right of the child to a healthy, loving home should be respected. The organization receives requests from many places and helps birthright representatives visit schools and arrange seminars. Birthright also provides free, confidential services to women who want to keep their babies. The organization’s goal is to provide birthright representatives who are experts in their fields to physicians if the mother decides to have an abortion.

For further details, interested parties can contact Birthright at 1024 North Main St., Boston, MA 02215 or call 425-2853.

An invitation to everyone to Walk for Peace in Boston

Several area residents will participate in the annual Walk for Peace Monday that will take place in Boston on Sunday. The walk will start outside of the Peace House at 8 a.m. and continue throughout the day. The event is open to all who wish to participate. The walk is sponsored by the Boston City Council, the Boston Peace Committee, and the Boston Peace Fund.

B.A.N.D. (Boston Area Nurturing for Alternative Disarmament) will be the focus of the event. B.A.N.D. is an organization dedicated to promoting nonviolent solutions to social and political problems.

Please join us in the Centrum, and I will be in touch soon. I am very excited about this opportunity to meet in college. Back then we were friends, and I couldn't have been happier.

There are four and a half billion people in the world, and it seems easy in this right. But tomorrow never seemed to come.

My letter-writing has really picked up. I'm still getting in touch with people I used to write to. I didn't make plans with him either. He stopped writing a few years ago at his apartment in Brewster. I knew that he was going to be in touch. After I bought his own ticket, I could have talked to him on the phone before the show. But I didn't.

I'm always too busy. At least that's how I justified it to myself.

But tomorrow never seemed to come.

I was at the Billy Joel concert last Tuesday, and I saw Jim about two months ago at his apartment in Boston College. I knew that he was going to be at the concert. After I bought my own tickets, I could have talked to him on the phone before the show. But I didn't. I didn't have time.

An invitation to everyone to Walk for Peace in Boston

Several area residents will participate in the annual Walk for Peace in Boston on Sunday, Oct. 20. The event is a fundraiser for the Massachusetts Peace Action Foundation, which supports nonviolent activities around the world. The walk begins at 11 a.m. at the Boston Common, and anyone is welcome to participate. For more information, contact Jorie Watson at 617-427-1183 or jorie@masspeace.org.

B.A.N.D., the marchers are calling for an end to the nuclear arms race and for a movement for a nuclear weapons freeze before the United Nations Conference on Disarmament. B.A.N.D.'s slogan is a call for a freeze on the production of nuclear weapons and an end to the nuclear arms race, according to a spokesperson for B.A.N.D.

The walk will be led by members of B.A.N.D., who will carry signs and banners. Some will wear white clothing to symbolize peace. After the walk, a rally will be held at the Boston Common, where speakers will address the crowd. The event is expected to last until 4 p.m.

The walk is sponsored by the Massachusetts Peace Action Foundation, which has been organizing similar events for over 20 years. They hope to bring attention to the issue of nuclear disarmament and to raise funds to support their work. The event is open to the public and is free to attend.

The walk starts at the Boston Common at 11 a.m. and goes through the streets of Back Bay, the North End, and Charlestown. The event is expected to last until 4 p.m., and is open to all ages and backgrounds.

For more information or to participate, contact Jorie Watson at 617-427-1183 or jorie@masspeace.org.

Student visits King Richard’s Faire

By Jeanne Basset

Welcome back to the 16th century. Last week we dove deep into the mysterious world of jousting and the many new attractions that draw crowds. This week we will revisit the many new attractions that draw thousands of visitors every year. With mounds of popcorn in the backgarden, there is plenty of food and drink. Astin visits again.

The Chamber of Horrors has been a new attraction that attracts many. With mounds of popcorn in the backgarden, there is plenty of food and drink.

TV Graveyard

By Scott Gagnon

The other night my television set was speaking to me. Not to me, mind you, but with my son, so I was not under the influence of anything in particular, nor was I that tired. It had been a long time since my wife and I had a chance to watch the ratings of picture tubes and the shining screens which emerged. I am no ghost of the past, she said, her voice still as annoying as ever in its raspy tone, with wearing habits in combat, and Highway Robbers ambush and pin down cantankerous old gentry.

The set itself sets the stage for the student's rendition of "Nunsense". Students are currently residing in a Catholic fundraiser. The show was written and directed by Scott Esau. The show's success is due to the intelligent script if such a thing is possible. It didn't rely on humor. Even the most finicky mud fight at the mud pit.

"You have ever gone to the theater and let too much time go by without getting a drink or something to eat? You have ever seen a musical comedy created by Dan Coggin, a former student, that really could make a Catholic church that generally supports the Catholic church. Student visits King Richard's Faire

By Jeannine Beaton

Welcome back to the 14th year. Last week we devoted the highlighted murder mystery. This week we will revisit the many new attractions to attract events and the many shows and festivities at King Richard's Faire. The dragon, Atlantis, is so vividly realistic, it's hard to believe anyone would dare to challenge the fact that they actually appeared on the audience. The dragon's performance was again. Sticky and the boys have released "Fire With Fire." Not only is this their first release, but it is also their first single. The song has already been selected as the leadoff song for their upcoming album, which is due out in November. The band's current lineup consists of lead vocalist Danny Seraphine, keyboardist Joe Pulver, drummer John C. Bales, and bassist Tim Gaines. The album is being produced by Keith Olsen and is expected to feature a mix of rock and roll, blues, and soul influences. The band is currently touring the United States in support of the album, and fans can expect to see them perform at various venues throughout the fall season.

A free will offering will be taken to support the Ensemble's scholarship fund.

The road to Chicago 18

by David Sleicher

When Peter Cetera left Chicago in 1985 to pursue a solo career, many thought the band would limp along for a few more years before calling it quits. However, the band has continued to thrive, releasing hit albums and touring extensively. In fact, they even toured with the legendary rock band Rush in 2022.

The band's current lineup consists of lead vocalist and keyboardist Peter Cetera, lead singer and guitarist Horacio Pagé, bassist Lee Loughnane, and drummer mosque. The band's most recent album, "Sweet Home Chicago," was released in 2018 and包含了10首歌曲，其中包括oversung hits like "If I Could Only Win" and "Last Goodbye." The band is currently preparing for their next album, which they hope to release in 2024.

Jazz Butcher

The Jazz Butcher emerged from London in 1983 as a cult band, but their success is anything but cultish. Their 1985 release "Lonely" is a defining work and has since been recognized as a classic. The band's sound is unique, blending rock, pop, and experimental elements. Their music is often characterized by its complex arrangements and poetic lyrics. Jazz Butcher's live performances are known for their energy and raw Piedmont nationality, which has earned them a dedicated following. With a discography that spans several albums, the band continues to influence and inspire music lovers worldwide.

The Livingroom of BSC

By Karen Melanson

There is always something to do at the Student Union, and I'm not talking about just sitting on the lounge area and chat. The Student Union is a place where students can find a variety of services and resources to help them succeed in their academic and personal lives.

The Union is divided into distinct areas: an auditorium, lounge, study rooms, general information, and placement center. These areas serve different needs of students.

The auditorium is equipped with audiovisual equipment, tables, and chairs, allowing students to host events such as lectures, concerts, and workshops.

The lounge is a comfortable area with couches and chairs where students can relax, study, or socialize. It is decorated with student art and features a piano, which is used for recitals and concerts.

Study rooms are available for students who need a quiet space to study or work on assignments.

The general information center offers assistance with academic advising, registration, and other administrative tasks.

The placement center assists students in finding internships, part-time or full-time jobs, and careers. It also provides resources for students who need help with writing resumes and job search strategies.

The Student Union is a place where students can find resources to help them succeed in their academic and personal lives. Whether you need help with a project, are looking for a job, or just need a place to relax, the Student Union has something for everyone.

The Livingroom of BSC

By Karen Melason

There is always something to do at the Student Union. It is happening. Through many years of perusing the hard workers, the S.U. has proven itself to be the center of student activity on BSC's campus.

Being equipped with a game room, numerous lounge areas, ballroom, conference and reception rooms, beauty parlors, and a coffee shop, it makes almost impossible for someone enrolled at BSC to avoid the popular building. If there is nothing going on at the moment, a walk through the halls and lobby areas will introduce a vast number of signs and bulletin boards filled with advertisements of events coming up soon. The S.U. is a place for both amusement and recreation because of its various facilities.

The seven million dollar complex partially opened in 1970. It was the result of a decade of effort by students, faculty, alumni, and staff officials. Even back in the 1960's, students, staff, and faculty members worked together to build the complex for a combination Alumni Center and Student Union Center. However, nothing was accomplished until 1969 when student leaders and the president of the student government began asking for legislative approval of a renewal to plan and construct a student center. In 1962, 700 students joined to form the Student Union Association that would later become the Student Union. The Student Union was organized to create a facility that would benefit the students of BSC. It was a campaign to demonstrate that the students of BSC could accomplish that goal. The result was the building of the "living room of BSC."

Planning for the Future

By Kerri Van Dyke

The Career Planning and Placement Center of BSC is located in the basement of the Student Union. It is the center for interested students, offering career planning and placement services. This center serves as a repository for all their needs.

The Career Planning and Placement Center welcomes all students, even alumni, seeking career or academic advice. The center is open Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and the staff members are always willing to help you.

The Career Planning and Placement Center offers a great many services to students, as well as employers. They have the advantage of preparing for their careers ahead of time through job-seeking, part-time jobs, work study, or even volunteer work. The center can be of assistance to many students.

Masterpieces about the offer from working with their resumes and job search. However, the Career Planning and Placement Center offers a great many services to students.

Two in a row for the football Bears. This past Saturday BSC played its second consecutive tie.

Bridgewater played a 1-1 tie in its first college bowl game of the year, the Cranberry Bowl, against Mass Maritime Academy in Buzzards Bay.

The Bears scored two touchdowns, passed for 220 yards, and rushed for 170 yards. They are ranked 5th in the NEFC in total defense and are led by Roger Lopresti and co-captains Doug Barrow and Bob Foss. Offensively, the Bears, who two weeks ago were number one in the conference, dropped to number two by only upsetting 155 yards total offense, 80 yards on the ground and 73 in the air. The Bears weren't allowed to score points in the first three quarters and only put the Bears up at the end of the third quarter. The Bears opened up a 1-1 halftime lead, beginning in the first quarter when quarterback Mike Waller scooped around the left end and for a one yard jaunt.

Tom Egans' score before the half on a two yard run, Gary Cattaneo added both extra points to put the Bears up 14-0. The Bears defense, which had only let up one touchdown in eleven quarters, held Mass Maritime for the second straight game, 1-1 for three quarters, almost four touchdowns from the Bears. Football ties... by Bob Pattison

The old adage has it: "A tie is like kissing your sister." But after a 7-7 tie with the Plymouth State Panthers, the Bridgewater State Bears football team can walk away with a little more pride than the old adage suggests.

Defensively was the football played Saturday at Swenson Field. The BSC defense came into the game following a stand-out performance last week against Nichols College, giving up just 66 yards of total offense. On the other side of the ball, the Panthers' defense had given up just 10 points all season. So defense was pride than the old adage.

BSC quarterback Mike Wallace and sophomore running backs Tom Egan and Frank Dennison, who barely got the ball off, resulted in an unnecessary penalty. The effort was commendable but, the score makes the difference. "We're never pleased with the defense," said head coach Tom Egan.

This is for all of you who have been so involved in your studies that you have lost contact with the real world. If you have been uninformed since the start of the semester, here is what you've missed in pro sports.

The semester opened on September 3 with the Red Sox in first place by 4½ games. On Sunday, the seventh, Ivan Lendy and Matin Maslowsky scored the two goals in the 1-0 loss to the Minnesota Twins. That same day the N.F.L. kicked off its 1986 season. The Patriots were beaten by the Bills, but beating the Bills isn't enough to keep the team in the running for the playoffs.

On Sept. 11, the Red Sox won their eighth straight to boost their lead over Toronto to 3½ games. Meanwhile, the Pirates were beating, and beating up on, the N.Y. Fans. The Pats-Senury-AAL game was a 2-0 record. The next day, the National Hockey League training camps got underway.

On Sept. 17, the New York Mets became the first team to clinch their division championship by defeating the San Diego Padres, 5-3.

On Sept. 19, nearly one thousand California "fans" walked in the last inning of a no-hitter pitched against the Angels by Chicago's Joe Carter.

Two days later, the Pirates' bullpen was burst when Seattle scored 17 points in the first two minutes of the game. The Pirates were eliminated from the playoffs.

On Sept. 21, the Houston Astros Mike Scott pitched a no-hitter in the N.L. West title game.

On Sept. 25, the Chicago Angels clinched the American League Western Division title, and the Red Sox clinched the A.L. East title. In Sept. 26, that day the Patroits dropped their second straight, losing to Denver 27-20.

On Oct. 1, the Red Sox had a scare when Roger Clemens was hit by a line drive off the bat of Baltimore's John Stefano. Despite the hit, Clemens didn't miss a start.

On Oct. 2, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2. The Major League Baseball season ended that day.

The American League's playoff season began on Oct. 1. The Boston Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees 4-2 in the first game of the series. The Red Sox went on to win the American League Division Series, 3-1.

The Boston Red Sox defeated the A.L. East title on Sept. 26. That day, the Red Sox beat the Minnesota Twins 2-1. The game was a beauty. The Red Sox won the game 5-2, 1-0. Teufel error allowed the only run of the game to score. Breaking up a pitch by Jack Morris, Teufel chose to sacrifice and scored on the play. The game went on to be the longest game in Red Sox history.

The World Series participants were decided on October 15. The Mets beat the Astros 4-3 in seven innings - the longest game in the 1986 playoffs. The Mets went on to win the World Series.

The Mets beat the Angels 3-2 in seven innings - the longest game in the 1986 playoffs. The Mets went on to win the World Series.

Glascier's Control Theory in the Classroom

By Dr. William Glascier

Glascier's Control Theory in the Classroom is a new book that explores the integration of control theory concepts into the educational curriculum. The book is based on the author's experience teaching control theory at several universities and is designed to help instructors introduce these concepts into their courses.

Forensic Science Takes Six Awards at URI

Next tour at West Point

On the week of September 26-28, the BSC Forensic Science Society traveled to the United States to participate in the annual Forensic Science Symposium at West Point. The team, led by Professor Sarah Grey, presented a series of research papers and workshops on various aspects of forensic science.

In addition to the research presentations, the team also visited the United States Military Academy at West Point. They had the opportunity to tour the campus, meet with faculty members, and participate in a special workshop on forensic science.

The team was honored with several awards, including Best Poster and Best Presentation. They also received recognition for their contributions to the conference and for their innovative research projects.
