Indelicate returns from Taiwan

By Pauline G. Morris III

On Monday, March 2, President Gerald Indelicato traveled to Taipei, Taiwan, for the official opening of the National Student Community General Assembly. The trip was to mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the National Student Community General Assembly. The president, in his address to the assembly, said that he was looking forward to a successful trip and to the opportunity to represent the United States at this important event.

The trip was sponsored by the National Student Community General Assembly, which is the largest student organization in the world. The assembly is composed of representatives from over 1,000 student organizations from across the United States and other countries.

During his visit, President Indelicato spoke with students about the importance of education and the role of students in society. He also had the opportunity to meet with President Chen, who is the president of the University of Taiwan. The two presidents discussed issues of mutual concern, including the importance of free speech and the role of students in promoting democracy.

The trip was well-received by the students, who were enthusiastic about the opportunity to meet with the president of the United States. They were particularly impressed with the president's knowledge of their country and their commitment to education.

In conclusion, President Indelicato's trip to Taiwan was a success. He was able to meet with students and gain a better understanding of the issues facing them. He also had the opportunity to promote the importance of education and to highlight the role of students in society.

MassPIRG holds food drive

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week, MassPIRG held a food drive on campus. The drive was successful, with over 1,000 pounds of food collected. The proceeds of the drive were donated to the Brockton Food Pantry, which helps local families in need.

The drive was organized by MassPIRG, a campus student organization that works to promote social justice and environmental sustainability. The organization has been active on campus for several years, and this was its first food drive.

The drive was held in the cafeteria during lunch hours, and students were encouraged to donate food items. The organization also solicited donations from local businesses and organizations, which were able to contribute to the overall success of the drive.

In conclusion, the MassPIRG food drive was a success. It was able to collect over 1,000 pounds of food, which will be donated to a local food pantry. The organization did a great job in organizing the drive, and we are proud to have been able to contribute to its success.

Poor conditions in Lower Great Lawt hill cause trouble

By Silas North

This past winter, students commuting to BSC have had problems attempting to commute and drive in the Class of 1987 Lower Great Lawt hill parking lot. A number of students have been involved in traffic accidents and other problems, and have lost valuable time waiting for students to open the gate and drive onto the parking lot.

Another complaint was the lack of parking spaces and a safe drop-off point in the area. Many students have complained that there are not enough parking spots and a safe place to drop off their cars.

As the weather improves, more people will be using the parking lot, and we must find a solution to these problems before it is too late.

In conclusion, the conditions in the Lower Great Lawt hill parking lot are unacceptable. We must find a solution to these problems before it is too late, or we will continue to have problems with traffic accidents and other complications.

By Paul O'Toole

This past winter, students were faced with the challenge of commuting to BSC. The parking lot in Lower Great Lawt hill was a constant source of frustration and inconvenience. This year, the parking lot is scheduled to be open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. If you have any comments or suggestions, please contact the Department of Parking and Transportation.

In conclusion, the commute to Lower Great Lawt hill parking lot can be challenging, but we must find a solution to these problems before it is too late. We must work together to ensure that the parking lot is safe and convenient for all students.

The Lower Great Lawt hill Parking lot during its peak hours of operation: space to be found!

The Lower Great Lawt hill parking lot is one of the busiest parking lots on campus. During peak hours, the parking lot is often packed with cars, and it can be difficult to find a space to park.

In conclusion, finding a parking space during peak hours can be a challenge. We hope that these suggestions will help students find a spot to park and enjoy the beauty of the campus.

Student government

By Ed Wilcox

The General Assembly meeting began at 6:55 p.m. with nearly 40 students in attendance. The executive report before the meeting, which was written by the student government's office manager, was read aloud. During the meeting, several issues were discussed, including funding for student organizations and the budget. It was decided to keep the budget fairly consistent with previous years.

Who's at fault? ECAc

By Tim Sliney

The event of the last few weeks that has led to the discussion of blame is the controversy surrounding the SGA presidential election. During that time, there has been much controversy, some name-calling, and a lot of finger-pointing over those charges.

Out of all that has come a chance for the SGA to begin to overcome the stagnation that has set in over the last few years. The current slate of officers is made up of former candidates and those who were active in the past. It is a chance to infuse some new blood into this body. It’s not merely the possibility of some new excitements that is exciting, but the potential to generate some fresh ideas.

The SGA exists for three basic reasons: to be the instrument by which some organizations are funded; to give students involved in it a chance to see what government is all about; and to legally represent the students of the university. Unfortunately, it appears that the SGA has far too successfully served the second of these aspects of purpose, and not successfully enough in the last.

Let’s hope that they make the opportunity being provided and revive that trend in the near future.

Tassinari was way off

The student SGA elections are finally over. Nearly two months have passed since the presidential race of Dilip Vyas and Daniel Darcy turned that race into a mud-slinging mess.

The election was held on Tuesday, October 18th, with nearly 220 votes cast. Darcy placed first with 114 votes, followed by Vyas with 106 votes. SGA Senator Edward Clark and Dilip Vyas won the election.

President Frank S. Lewis administered the election, which was approved by the student government and approved by the student senate. The election for president was

Snow, darkness, and footbridge concern students

By Richard Richardson

Students expressed concern about the footbridge near Campus Police. They felt that the path was in a dire state of disrepair and that something needed to be done about it. Some students suggested that the path be re-paved or that it be closed off to vehicular traffic.

Bill Parker, a student senator, said that he had spoken to Campus Police about the issue. Campus Police had indicated that they would look into the matter and possibly look for funds to repair the bridge.

In conclusion, I know that the SGA will do its best to see that this path is taken care of as soon as possible. I will be sure to keep you all informed on this subject.

In response to Larry Richardson - the first of many

By Richard Richardson

In response to last week's article, I would like to clarify a few points. First of all, I think that the Campus Comment is important. It provides a place for students to express their opinions and share their thoughts. It is a forum for students to engage in open and honest conversation.

Secondly, I believe that it is important for students to be aware of the recent events. The horse that was created to allow students to express their feelings about their favorite student was a huge success. However, as the horse began to die, it was clear that something needed to be done about it.

In conclusion, I think that the Campus Comment is important and that it should continue to be available for students to use. I hope that everyone will continue to participate and contribute to this valuable resource.

A ‘true individual’ speaks out

To the Editor:

The letter from Mr. Richardson, which appeared in last week’s BSC, is the quintessential example of what is wrong with the Greek system of our school.

As a student and class representative, I must express my sincere disappointment and disapproval of the letter from Mr. Richardson.

I believe that the Greek system, as it exists today, is detrimental to the growth and development of its members.

I have found them to be a source of both inspiration and frustration. I believe that the Greek system should be reformed in order to better serve the needs of its members.

Sincerely,

I am writing this letter in response to the recent article concerning Bridgewater State College and the Greek system.

I agree with most of the points made in the article, and I would like to add a few more.

First, I believe that the Greek system is outdated and does not serve the needs of today’s students.

Second, I think that the Greek system is exclusive, and it does not include all students.

Finally, I believe that the Greek system is harmful to students, and it should be abolished.

Sincerely,

I am writing this letter to express my support for the Greek system at our college.

I think that the Greek system is a valuable part of our college community, and it provides students with many benefits.

First, I believe that the Greek system helps students to develop important social skills, such as communication and leadership.

Second, I think that the Greek system helps students to develop a sense of belonging and community.

Finally, I believe that the Greek system helps students to have fun and enjoy their college experience.

I am writing this letter to express my concern about the growing problem of hazing in our college community.

I think that hazing is a serious problem, and it should be stopped.

First, I believe that hazing is harmful to students, and it can cause physical and emotional harm.

Second, I think that hazing is wrong, and it goes against the values of our college community.

Finally, I believe that hazing should be strictly punished by our college administration.

"I think they did a great job," said one student. "I was surprised at how well they played." "The band really came together and put on a great show," said another.

Many of the numbers have been choreographed by stu-

Among the dances will be an ab initio dance choreo-

A kaleidoscope of dance this spring

On April 3 and 4, the Bridge­water State College Dance Corps will be performing an exciting, unusual and amaz­ing weekend of dance entitled "Dance Kaleidoscope" which represents a wide variety of dance forms.

Many of the numbers have been choreographed by stu­dents, Dr. Nancy Bose and guest choreographer, Linda Turner. The show also includes modern, abstract, tap and contemporary.

Among the dance numbers will be anabinet dance choreo­graphed by alumsay Rose, similar in tone but lighter style than Bethany Geraty’s number of"Dance Kaleidoscope" from the stock of the early 1960’s.

Bass Becker, a three-year­old member of the Dance Corps, will perform a dance based on a post war era aria. "Amelia" Two tone and Laurel Bichard have choreographed a very energetic and electric dance entitled "Supreme".

The first of two numbers based on the rock and roll theme is a real album that you guys put out last year. I have done every one of your albums. Everyone asks, ‘Oh, you must be huge fans of Jimmy Swaggart and Michael Sweet, isn’t there something like that going on your albums? Really, you know?'

T.G., I mean, whether you’re Christian or not, that’s the whole thing that Stinger’s trying to tell you, you see, you have a good message, you have a fun and still rock and roll. It seems like these days are so down on heavy metal, you know, there’s so much misunder­standing about these people.

M.O.C.: I think it’s worse now, the way people are really down on heavy metal and Chris­tianity, ’cause it was really.

T.G.: And they are, too. I think the church is trying to do something about making society downhill, I mean, everybody has a responsibility, if you’re in the limelight, to your listeners or audience.

M.O.C.: I kind of like the com­bination, heavy metal and Chris­tianity, ’cause it was really good together, not like now. We have a lot of people who are skeptical about us.

T.G.: Well, for me, I listen to music more than I listen to my God. I probably have probably my biggest influ­ence, and it’s loud.

M.O.C.: I think it’s loud, too, and full of energy. I think people were skeptical about us.

M.O.C.: I've had the original version of 'The Call' and when I listen to my God, there’s something about it.

T.G.: Oh, yeah, I mean, whether you’re Christian or not, that’s the whole thing that Stinger’s trying to tell you, you see, you have a good message, you have a fun and still rock and roll. It seems like these days are so down on heavy metal and Christianity, you know, there’s so much misunder­standing about these people.

T.G.: I mean, you don’t need to mention it to people. You’re just to talk to people about like dropping the pentagram.

M.O.C.: We’ve never, we’ve never mentioned it to Bob Emery at the Church. He thinks the music that we’re doing is a lot of stuff.

T.G.: No, they weren’t.

RAPE: some things you should know

By Diane Lautenschlager

RAPE is one of the most serious crimes in our society today. In recent years there has been a startling increase in the reported occurrences of rape. Many microscopics surround this crime. This article is the first of a series which will attempt to clarify some of these misconceptions.

RAPE occurs whenever anyone forces another person to perform sex acts without her consent. Rape is a violent crime. The rapist is driven by a need to dominate and humiliate. Rape is not the result of an uncontrollable sexual desire. Rape is unnecessarily a common crime. One out of every four women will be raped in her lifetime. Approximately 75 percent of these women will be raped by an acquaintance. Most rapists occur within the same race and class. White men rape white women, black men rape black women.

The "dark alley" type is not most. Most rapes occur in the victim's own home. Most rapists are under the age of 25 years. Because of the nature of the crime, rape is not easily experienced. It is rumored that only one-fifth of all rapists and attempted rapists are reported to the police. It is important to remember that a violent crime is not an "accident." Not by dress, environment, nor by reputation. Perhaps if we remember that it is the rapist who has committed the crime the incident of reporting rape will end.

There is no way to prevent rape, but there are preventative measures a person can take. Some of these are as follows:

1) Stay alert, alone, but if you MUST, stay in well-lighted areas, and try to stay near people. Walk at a steady pace, look like you know where you are going. If possible, walk in the middle of the street to avoid trouble.

2) If you're driving, be extra cautious, also the sound and stay inside the car with the doors locked. If someone stops ask to report your problem to the nearest service station.

It is advisable not to carry weapons such as knives or mace, as they could be taken and used against you. It is better to use "improvised" weapons such as courageous expressions or paws.

Libby labels first week of Spring

Mass. Sexologist declares National Orgasm Week

By John Burns, III

For years, Americans have held festivals, celebrations, and days of general partying for almost any excuse under the sun. We have Βεν’t Day. We have Mother’s Day. We have Columbus Day. Cleveland didn’t have enough days of general partying so they created the Cherry Blossom Festival; and, of course Fort Totten Days.

According to sexologist Dr. Libby, Mass. has now declared the first week of Spring, March 21 to 28, (that’s right, what would have been the second week of our Break) to be National Orgasm Week.

"It is time for some good news right now, Libby claims. The first day of Spring is when a young person’s fancy turns to love. Libby advises adding a few dashes of laughter and a few dashes of loving each other. Libby disagrees that abstinence makes the heart grow fonder. He recommends sexual observance to add to this list. Libby’s assistant is a five-foot-ten sculptural frog (horny toad), Libby has been invited to the White House Conference on AIDS, on the opening day of Spring.

Libby is a popular guest lecturing from his book of popular lectures ranging from Mt. Weatherfield to Spring and Weightfield State to Tulips and Rogers. Libby, an assistant professor of Human Sexuality and Marriage at the University of Massachusetts, is an expert in the field of pornography at ob­scene bookstores. Libby has been a consultant for the National Institute for Sex and Their organizations. Libby believes that "sexual desire and caring overlap, in spite of AIDS, herpes and other diseases," and stresses the importance of "safe sex-for men and women," and opens discussion to the topic of pregnancies.

In addition to his "beautiful purposes," National Orgasm Week is meant to be a means to the so-called "sexual bashes," a new fashion in the nation today. Libby was also featured at the Kingston Institute for Sex, Research, and at the Institute for the Advanced Study in Human Sexuality. He was invited to the dedication by Dr. Wardell Pomeroy, the author of the book, "The Kinsey Institute for Sex." Your Stars This Week

By Senta Wilser

The coming week offers rich rewards to those who are willing to make every opportunity count and those who don’t "who this" as an answer. "No" may indeed be heard a great deal this week, though it will usually be from the mouths of those who haven’t the courage or the foresight to stick their necks out. Those who do stick their necks out, however, will certainly have the laugh—and quite possibly the most money by week’s end.

The young can expect to realize a rich education this week, and parents and other adults must take an active part in the process. It is important that the right questions be asked; it is even more important that they are asked by the right people! Children develop so fast this week, for knowing where to turn.

PCBIS (Fish, March 19)—Recognize the natural function of things and put for your own enjoyment accordingly. A healthy week, the PCBIS birthday brings change, whether at home or at work. Enjoy your birthday celebration.

ARES (March 21—April 6)—Personal life and business goals must generate strong points this week. New situations are avoided. (April 5—April 10)—You may have been hiding yourself responsible for problems of others. Work for yourself instead.

For years, Americans have held festivals, conventions, and days of general publicizing for almost any conceivable subject. We have Broom Day! We have Motorcycling Day! We have National Discount Day! Cleveland didn't have enough holidays, so it invented Living in Labor Day and the Spring Sale Day.

Libby Bloom, the college's sexual expert, designed a new holiday for Boston: National Orgasm Week.

Libby, who is the college's resident expert on the subject, is also the female member of a Sexology Department.

Libby claims that many women are not able to experience the actual sexual climax, which she terms "orgasms." Her new concept came into play after a recent trip to San Francisco.

"San Francisco is a very interesting city," Libby said. "There are many women there who can't have orgasms."

According to Libby, many of the women in San Francisco have never had sex. This is due to the fact that San Francisco is a city where people can get married and still have sex.

Libby believes that this is a problem that needs to be solved. She plans to set up a week of workshops in the Spring to teach women how to have orgasms.

Libby claims that women who have orgasms tend to be happier and more satisfied with their sex lives.

Libby also said that she plans to set up a week of workshops for men to learn how to give their wives orgasms.

Libby plans to set up workshops in the Spring to teach men and women how to have orgasms.

"I believe that everyone should be able to have orgasms," Libby said. "It is a basic human right that everyone should be able to experience it."

were interviewed. Of those surveyed, 39 (22%) said they would use these services at times, 35 (23%) would prefer a deli bar service while 35 (21%) would prefer using sandwich machines. Students/faculty/staff also expressed a desire for other foods/drinks to be available in the lounge. Cigarette smokers, 34 (20%) said that they did not respond to this question. A "casual" response was also used in survey. Of those surveyed, 35 (21%) said they would prefer to have a non-smoking area in the lounge. Other comments included:

"Long overdue", "Willing to help serve the food", and "Machines that are working"

The results of this survey will be shared with the Student Services and the College’s Planning Committee.

The survey was conducted in the student lounge at the beginning of the fall semester.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) - A new star is born.

You have plenty of time for upper-level learning this week. Your academic performance from one-on-one situations, don’t depend on another. To keep up, you have to keep moving forward. "Always be thinking about what’s next",

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) - A tendency to believe your own words.

With spring finally arriving, this is not the time to be sitting on the fence. You may be tempted to second-guess your abilities. Keep up your self-confidence and you are sure to have a successful week.

LUTHER (May 21-June 20)

"Deadlines near", "Time running out", "The world is waiting for you to do your part".

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

"We need assistance", "Let’s get this done right the first time", "We need to start planning for the future."

Rugby is back at BSC team to be sanctioned by the school

F. Scott Longe

There will be less changes on the rugby field this spring than last fall. First of all, the team will be rugby, the Bridgewater State College Rugby Football Volunteers will get their season started.

The Virginians red and white will replace the old Killer Bees in black and yellow who were later coed rugby team in the state of Florida as both black and yellow and red and white are coed teams. The Virginians are being back at BSC due to the change of the Board of Directors and the Board of Directors wanted to change it so we will have a men’s team and a women’s team in order to have a fair competition. Rutgers University Students

The Rutgers University students who are participating in the 1987 spring break trip to the Caribbean and the Middle East have been discussing their experiences.

One student, who prefers to remain anonymous, said: "I've been to the Caribbean before, but this trip is different. The people are more welcoming, and the weather is much warmer."

Another student, who is participating in the trip to the Middle East, said: "I'm excited to learn about the culture and history of the region. It's a great opportunity to see the world and meet new people."

Despite the positive feedback, some students have expressed concerns about the safety and security of the trip. One student, who did not want to be identified, said: "I'm worried about the political situation in the Middle East. I don't want to be caught up in any conflict or violence."
