Health Services restructured

which Health Services is not open. According to David Wilkes, Director, Office of Public Affairs, "The changes have been made to provide better care and safety of our students. A designated nurse is on call at all times, and a nurse is on call to form a committee to deal with Health Service problems."

None of the motions were dealt with because the meeting never achieved quorum. Only eight members were present for the meeting, two of the activities would have been an agenda for the next meeting. All of the business of the meeting was not accomplished.

Baystate Sunday bus route cancelled

By Chris Pers

Students waiting for the Sunday night Boston-Bridgeport bus found out the hard way that the route was cancelled. Effective in September, the Sunday night route was cancelled due to lack of use.

Kevin Mullins of Baystate Bus Lines said that the company lost $32,000 lost last year because of the route.

Finding the most profitable, he sent a letter to the college in June of this year informing them of the problem, and asking for input into a possible solution.

Mullins said that students who were scheduled to go home on August 27 giving formal notice of the route cancellation.

"It was not aware of any letter received in the matter," Mullins said that the company only received the letter of cancellation. He was never contacted, the campus Police have been and are being trained to handle some emergencies and accidents due to insufficient attendance.

The B.S.C. lecture series moved into full swing on Thursday, September 24, when conservative commentator Patrick Buchanan opened the series with a lecture titled "A View of Politics from Washington." Buchanan is known for his sharp insights into the political arena and his ability to dissect complex issues with clarity and precision. His lecture provided guests with an enlightening perspective on the political landscape, drawing on his extensive experience as a journalist, author, and political consultant. Buchanan's articulate delivery and incisive analysis captivated the audience, who found themselves engaged in a thought-provoking discussion of contemporary political issues. The B.S.C. lecture series continues to be a highlight of the academic year, attracting speakers from diverse backgrounds who challenge and inspire the student body.
“HOW I MADE $18,000 FOR COLLEGE
BY WORKING WEEKENDS.”

As soon as I finished Advanced Training, the Guard gave me a cash bonus of $2,000. Then, under the New GI Bill, I'm getting another $5,000 for tuition and books.

Not to mention my monthly Army Guard paychecks. They'll add up to more than $1,000 over the six years I'm in the Guard.

And if I take out a college loan, the Guard will help me pay it back—up to $1,500 a year, plus interest.

It all adds up to $18,000—or more—for college just for a little of my time. And that's a heck of a better deal than THE GUARD CAN HELP PUT YOU THROUGH COLLEGE, TOO. SEE YOUR LOCAL RECRUITER FOR DETAILS, CALL TOLL-FREE 800-638-7600 or MAIL THIS COUPON...

When my friends and I graduated from high school, we all took part-time jobs to pay for college. Then they ended up in car washes and hamburger joints, putting in long hours for little pay.

Yet, I'm earning $18,000 for college. Because I joined my local Army National Guard. The people who help our state during emergencies like hurricanes and floods. They're also an important part of our country's military defense.

So, since I'm helping them do such an important job, they're helping me make it through school.

The new SGA: do they care or don’t they?

Editorial

At the Student Government Association meeting on September 22, no business was transacted, no new allocations approved, and no presidential or committee appointments confirmed. Why? Because the maximum number of representatives required by the student business did not make themselves available.

To their credit, a few concerned and responsible assembly members showed up to give their time and best effort for the students who elected them. It is just not true enough of them to cap off a pro temp or just show up.

We would like to urge our representatives to start fulfilling the duties of their office before it becomes necessary for these “concerned” students to be impeached. Why? Students would take all the time and energy to get elected and not show up to meetings is beyond our comprehension and understanding.

Death Week for Tina hits the daytime soaps

By Joseph L. Dugan, Jr.

Daytime television (the Soap) has its time and place. The feeling here is that the marriage of Lila and Lance on General Hospital in 1981, soap opera’s first mass-critical event, was followed by the Oscar-Winners “Nothing but Net” beginning the “Soap” era.

But things can change on television that Soap opera marriages can’t change. Right now on One Life to Live a truck drives off the road and kills Tina, Tina Lost, is fighting for her life. The excitement is that the committed and passionate, sultry and popular, story of Tina’s struggle to live is captivating.

The Fixx: They Are Themselves

By Brian Hughes

That’s the 80s, but Gerald Greenall, Keyboardist of The Fixx, says that he doesn’t feel like saying goodbye. “They played at the Livingroom in Providence on Thursday night at Channel 3, one of their favorite venues.”

The Fixx, known for their hit “The Sun’s Gonna Come Out,” have been touring with their new album, “One Way Up.” The band has been playing to enthusiastic crowds all over the country, and their fans are excited to see them live.

Greenall said, “We’ve been playing together for over twenty years, and it’s always fun to see how the songs come together.”

The Fixx’s sound is a mix of rock and roll and new wave, and their shows are known for their high energy and enthusiastic crowd participation. “We always try to give our fans a good time,” Greenall said.

Despite the long tour and the pressure to keep the band going, the Fixx is determined to keep playing together. “We love playing together, and we’re not ready to stop yet,” said Greenall.

“The Sun’s Gonna Come Out”

Rogers Waters insists that “Dark Side of the Moon” is more powerful than any other album released before or since, and he’s right.

The album, released in 1973, is considered to be one of the greatest albums of all time. Its themes of personal growth, evolution, and self-discovery have resonated with listeners for decades.

For Rogers Waters, the album is a personal journey. “It’s about me and my experience of life,” he said. “I wanted to create something that would endure, something that would have meaning for people.”

The album features a mix of musical styles, from rock to classical, and its themes are universal. “It’s about the human experience, and it’s a story that everyone can relate to,” he said.

For Rogers Waters, the album is more than just a collection of songs. “It’s a journey, a path to self-discovery,” he said. “And I’m proud to say that it’s still resonating with people today.”

Floyd’s "A Momentary Lapse of Reason"

By Dan Spiro

"A Momentary Lapse of Reason" is a concept album by Pink Floyd, released in 1987. The album was recorded after the band members had taken a break from touring due to the death of their drummer, Nick Mason.

The album features a mix of experimental and commercial rock, and it was a commercial success. It reached #2 on the UK charts and #8 on the US charts.

For Pink Floyd, "A Momentary Lapse of Reason" was a chance to try out new ideas and explore different musical directions. "It was a time for us to experiment and push ourselves," said guitarist David Gilmour.

Dee Snider: Cult Hero

By Bob Lang

If there is one particular band that has symbolized shock rock, that would be Twisted Sister. The band has been part of the metal scene for over thirty years, and they’ve never shied away from controversy.

Dee Snider, the band’s lead vocalist, has been a controversial figure throughout his career. He’s been known for his outspoken views and his willingness to push boundaries.

For Snider, being part of Twisted Sister was a life-changing experience. "It was a time for me to really express myself and to stand up for what I believed in," he said.

The Heavy Metal Summer in Retrospect

By Bob Lang

The Heavy Metal Summer of 1982 was a time when hard rock and heavy metal music ruled the airwaves. Bands like Van Halen, Bon Jovi, and Def Leppard were at the top of the charts, and their music was everywhere.

Today, listening back to the music of that time period, it’s easy to see how it was a turning point in rock and roll history. It was a time when the music industry was really starting to take off, and it’s easy to see how that has shaped the music industry today.

Because it's a real good time. That's it.200 backroom, Keyboards For The Fox says about playing in clubs. They played at The Livingston in Providence on Saturday night, lit the fires, playing less than forty-five minutes of tunes. I think I'm going to hang around in there, drink a lot of coffee, to try to say new material in there, so we did something, Ordained. "We really did feel like we're playing really good material.

In the midst of war, crime, instruments. From the opening roll of The Rolling Stones at some points! Don't make mistakes. Denny Wasserman finished off his set with Crazy Horse. Gilmour's Return to Focus, is certainly titled. The Floyd album. There is no doubt, pollution and an electronic waste instrumental, debauchery are too numerous to mention.

Hurricane/Gary Moore, the area. We were hopping during the summer's hottest days. Wargasm is a power of the moment of the war. Stryper, Boston metal mines that may result in a Motorhead moment. From the opening "Hold Me Tight Or Don't Talk Dirty To Me" and the last song of the war. Shout is being done in some decent themes to go along with sophisticated soundscapes.

Suddenly, they were very amicable, and Cirence actually has replaced Motley Crue as the band. But when they fire up and play the old songs, they play them with as much passion and power as they did when they were young. Dave Spura.

The Floydians will really appreciate this. Their first single, "It Don't Take One To Know One" and "Tell No Tales. This record is an "Red Skirt" and similar songs. Gilmour, Canalstra Jamaica West-Orr, became Dee Snider's right hand man in the band. Their music has certainly prevailed. The titles of their songs are as eerie and memorable as their melodies are distinctive. Keyboardist and singer Richard Wright. They have a powerful vocal and harmonies, and works well together in the studio.

Gilmour has returned to the Floyd, and Waters, yet Gilmour has put together some decent themes to go along with sophisticated soundscapes. The title of their first album, " Wings Can't Hold Me Down, " is that they have a controversial mix. The artistic control of the moment in rock music. Get Em While They're Hot may become a detriment. Keyboardist and singer Richard Wright.

The night was cold and rainy, and while '70s rock can't get away with songs like "Chainsaw," "Tommy Sizemore Road, Last Train, and Rain," and "Sassoon," Dee Snider was not a success. MASPBC: Offering Real Life experiences

By Mona MacNamara

Graduating is gradually approaching, and you have no idea what next steps in your life once you move away from home. Do you just go with the flow, or do you actually think about what you want to do? Unfortunately, many people lack curiosity, and walk the same line of academic completion. Only when you're in college, you don't know what career you would like to pursue. Why not take an intern/experience as an internship right up on campus.

There are three projects that will be work on this year. The first is Salt Energy. MASPBC would like to ensure that the company provides enough energy for citizens to do their work. The second is a hunger project. MASPBC would like to create a public awareness of the problem of hunger. To solve this, MASPBC would like to raise the awareness of the problem by creating awareness programs. The third project is about solid waste. There is a bill in the legislature that would provide for the expansion of solid waste disposal in the state.

MASPBC is also Seeking a number of public relations representatives. For further information contact Dan Ludwig at 579-1200.

MassPIRG: Offering Real Life experiences

By Mona McNamara

Bridgewater, MA - Graduation is rapidly approaching, and you have no idea what to do after college. Your life once you receive your degree is up in the air. You may be thinking about graduate school or you may be thinking about life after college. Perhaps you are thinking about a career in the medical field, or you may be thinking about a career in the educational field. Whatever your plans may be, there are some things that you should keep in mind.

Sex, religion, and you

What do those words have to do with you? Well, they may have a lot to do with you. Sexuality and religion are two of the most important aspects of your life. They shape who you are and how you view the world. They also play a role in your decision-making process. If you are not familiar with these topics, you may want to learn more about them. This presentation will be followed by a Q&A session.

Schedules of Events

Sunday: Beginning with prayer and worship.
10:00 AM Mass at the Catholic Center at 10,12, and 2.
6:45 AM Spirituality and Spirituality Speaker and Discussion
Tuesday: Video at the Catholic Center at 1 1 and 3.

Wendy Sanford, a long time writer and speaker on Sexuality and Spirituality, will be the featured speaker on Monday, October 5th at 6:45 at the Catholic Center. Wendy has a degree in Human Sexuality and she is the author of numerous books on the subject. She will be speaking on the topic of Sexuality and Spirituality.

Jen said that the internships are unpaid positions, although they do offer some financial compensation.

How would you describe the parking situation on campus?

By Debra Wilhite

"I think they commercialized it. It's a good half hour to get from Willard to campus parking lot, and it's the same way when you leave. There's no place to park. If you want to stay. Ask the Service Field parking lot is unstaffed.

Men's rugby edged by Plymouth State in the slop

By Andy ReCap

The B.S.C. Men's Rugby team was defeated by Plymouth State College last Saturday by a score of 25-10. The team was down for most of the game, but a successful pass was made to Gurley, who ran it in for the Bears' only touchdown of the game.

Bridgewater's first half offense was led by the impressive offensive play with two points against Plymouth. The Bears' first half was an impressive offensive performance, but their second half was not as successful, falling to Plymouth 24-8.

Academies to come first at Bridgewater State College

By Anthony Figas

All things considered, we're looking at a new time at home against Bridgewater State. With the emphasis on educational philosophy changing, Bridgewater State is now investing changes for the athletic program with specific regards to academics. Following the Bears' lead, Plymouth State will make a "no sex, no play" policy for all athletes to follow, and they will follow.

With the program in place, the players have taken it upon themselves to play football, but now worried about the off-field happenings. "Players have to work out," said Jerry McGrath. "We have to concentrate on what we can control, and that's the score."
Men's rugby edged by Plymouth State in the slop

By Andy ReCay

The B.S.C. Men's Rugby Team met the Plymouth State College last Sunday in a hard-fought battle in Bridgewater. The field was new to the game and was a bit rocky and tight. As a result, the teams engaged in a lengthy pull and tug battle.

Plymouth State was up only 5 points in the first half. They scored a try in the 4th minute to take the lead. The Blue Knights then scoring a try in the 44th minute to level the score at 5-5. The teams then played to a 5-5 tie, with the conversion kick sailed wide.

Bridgewater came out strong in the second half with a point scored by Captain Rick Rudnick. The two point conversion kick by Co-Captain Scott Brown made it 6-5.

Bridgewater lost and it's 5-5 tie in an impressive performance winning battle. The Blue Knights have made a point in each of their last 5 games dating back to the second week of the season last year.

All things considered, we are looking at the new era of athletics here at Bridgewater College.

With the emphasis on educational philosophy changing, Bridgewater State is now instituting changes for the athletic program with specific regard to academics. Following is a brief, head coach, the school hired Jim Crowley in January, and for the first time of chaotic nightmares one might think will happen here.

With the program in flux, the players have taken it upon themselves to play football and not worry about the educational requirements that come with it. Mud, blood, sweat, rain... at least for now.

Gary Lane put it well.

"All things considered, we are looking at the new era of athletics here at Bridgewater College."

You may be thinking about changing one of these carriers over AT&T in order to save a few dollars more.

Think again.

Since January 1st, AT&T rates have dropped more than 17%, so don't be too quick to change. With the AT&T Network, you pay for what you really need — no surprises, no overages. It's a no pass, no play philosophy. The team has won 9 of its last 10 games due back to the second week of the season last year.

Men's soccer opens with victory home opener versus Suffolk University, 4-0

By Amy Sullivan

The Men's Soccer Team started their season on Thursday, September 17th, in a game against Boston Latin High School. The team was looking to get off to a strong start and did just that, defeating the B.S.C. blue, 1-0, to open the season.

The first half was dominated by the offense, with the Blue Knights scoring on a well-executed corner kick in the 15th minute. The second half was a continuation of the first, with the Blue Knights controlling the game and maintaining possession.

The win against Suffolk University was a crucial victory for the team, as it set the tone for the rest of the season. The Blue Knights will continue to work on improving their defense and solidifying their midfield, looking to take their winning streak into conference play.

Changes are in store for next year's freshman applicants

By Chris Peters

Students applying to Bridgewater State next year will experience a number of differences from the one percent prospects.

Prospective students will have a more involved policy and a sampling of additional assistance. This year, the College is developing a system for administering financial aid to prove more competitive next year.

The College will also be doing away with a policy of admitting students. It was felt to be unnecessarily cumbersome, but did not offer any real advantage to prospective students.

Last year, approximately 1,500 freshmen entered the College. This year, approximately 150 fewer were admitted. For at least the next two years, this cut in admissions will be continued in an effort to reduce the student to facility ratio.

As it stands now, the ratio is approximately 23:1. The ideal ratio left behind is 15:1.

President Richardson said that it was the administration hope to improve this ratio, which has improved the competitiveness level. It was not clear whether the level of competition next year would be any more competitive.

The student body could only feel that the quality of the students accepted should improve. Students are encouraged to accept the challenge. The College is aware of the competitiveness of the students.
