Visigoths win opener; ruggers defeat WPI 30-3

By Andy Rocap

The Bridgewater State Visigoths opened 7A Saturday with a win of 30-3 over the visiting WPI. The Visigoths came out hitting quickly, intimidating the WPI ruggers. However, several penalties called by Referee Harry Nadeau resulted in an early penalty boot for WPI at the 39 yard line only.

WPI quickly took the lead at the 9 and moved toward the 1 yard line, but Brink's strong effort at the 2 yard line, gave the Visigoths the ball back.

The WPI defense had a tough time stopping the Visigoth offense, who scored on their first drive of the game. The Visigoths scored twice in the first quarter on strong running by junior tailback Mike Nardi and freshman running back Joe Daniels.

The second quarter saw more of the same as the Visigoths took advantage of WPI's mistakes, scoring two more touchdowns on third down plays. The Visigoths scored on a 1 yard rush by quarterback John Swenson and a 3 yard run by tailback Randy King.

The second half saw more of the same as the Visigoths scored on their first two drives, converting two two-point attempts. The Visigoths scored on a 1 yard run by Nardi and a 3 yard run by King.

CAMPUS CONVERSATIONS

Do you think steroids are having an effect on professional and amateur sports? If "yes," how? If "no," why not?

I think they are causing a problem for young athletes. It's posing a problem for their future career. Steroids can endanger their career both physically and mentally.

Nils Ljungberg

Yes, because they shouldn't have to rely on chemicals.

Amy Sullivan

Correction

Yes. It's obvious with Ben Johnson in the Olympics. There are at least seven others athletes taken out of the Olympics because of steroid use. It's not fair for people who've trained all their lives to be there and didn't make it because of that.

Mario Meleneze

Voter Registration to be Held

On Tuesday and Wednesday October 4 and 5 MassPIRG will sponsor a voter registration drive. Paula Ellis, the MassPIRG representative of the college, stated that in the 1984 National Elections, "only 40% of the people in the age group 18 to 24 voted." Ellis says that in 1988, another important election year, she wants more students to have a voice on all the issues that concern them. "This can be done by registering to vote and passing on to others, who feel it will be most effective."

The process of registering to vote will be conducted on Tuesday, October 4 in the Burril Avenue building. The hours this will run will be from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The next day, Wednesday, October 5, students who wish to register may stop by the booth which will be located outside the Bookstore. The hours, again, will be from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Television Thrown Out of Residence Hall Window

Late Thursday night and into the day Friday, students walking by the side of Scott Hall may have noticed a television on the ground. That was because an unidentified student, apparently after an argument, threw it out of a third story window. It was not known why the student destroyed the television nor who the student was.

The fall meal and that he used work-study to stop this trend? That he had provided members of Bridgewater to deny allegations which stated ineligible players. At that time the baseball team had brought notoriety to the college. During the past year, Bridgewater has earned a "reputation for itself in the national tournament bid, due to the fact there was an ineligible player on the team. The spring of 1987 brought national to the college. At that time the baseball team had made few victories because of ineligible players. In December of 1987, Gerald T. Indelicato resigned from the presidency of the college under charges of misusing state funds and forgery on third, among others. Last week, the former Athletic Director, during the last year of his tenure, denied allegations which stated that he had helped members of the Women's Basketball team with the false记载 and that he used work-study students for his personal gain.

All of these accusations contribute to the continuing problem of the college. What is being done to stop this process?

The Administration continually states that the college is still "okay," regardless of the operation of the college, and that the baseball team has continued to win games. Almost a full year after these events occurred, the scandal is still being mentioned. One year later, Indelicato still refuses to stop, as a basic matter, the face of the image of the college, as well as to the faculty and staff who must endure the lack of respect and vitriol from the public.

The only feasible solution to this problem is to look for a new president who will take Bridgewater as a college. Hopefully, this president will be interested in changing the changing of the present image. The college needs someone who is willing to admit the fact that mistakes have been made, who is willing to rectify that situation, and who does not change when people admit there was a problem.

The college's image has changed from a once-again-respected college to one of questionable abilities. Whether it is the administration, the faculty, the image has once remained to be seen. If more results are to be made, they need to begin now. The process that is the longer the after image remains.

Bridgewater State must change its image.

Bridgewater State College - not to be spoken unto, but to be spoken about.

Who’s the fascist? Who's SGA ignoring

Fascism 1. any authoritarian, anti-democratic system of government and economic control by the state, or a tendency of a political opposition, emphasizing the use of violence, intimidation, and all other methods, to achieve the ends of the group, whether by legal or illegal means. 2. a political or social ideology that emphasizes the supremacy of the state and the destruction of the existing political order.

The answer is more than you probably think. They passed the state three weeks ago. The state is in the process of changing. What are we to do now? We have to start by understanding the facts. The history of fascism is a history of violence, intimidation, and all other methods, to achieve the ends of the group, whether by legal or illegal means.

Bush & Dukakis are mediocre choices

Catholic Center begins new year on a "Happy" note

By Marc Hake

Even as the Catholic Center is in full swing and their Homecoming this year is "Don't worry... Be happy!" Father Bob Connors and Sister Jo-Anne Violan are pleased to announce that despite almost two months of construction, renovation services are now operational in the new Catholic Center. On Thursday evenings at 4:30 p.m., there is a program every week. Everyone is welcome to their events.

Saturday afternoon, "Whos Yesterday Was King" airs, featuring classic music from the station and songs. Then, 6 p.m., "Fresh Bites" will air on Saturday nights, the station will offer "Classic Cottage House," folk songs for all ages that is broadcast from the Rathsall.

On the informal side, "WBIM" is their news department. News concerning the college campus and the local surrounding area. Broadcast such songs. Additional information concerning the college and the town which is broadcast from the Rathsall.

The Hotline has returned this fall. The Hotline should begin the week of the 13th of October. Anyone interested in contacting Father Bob or Sister Jo-Anne at 697-5900.

A behind the scenes view of WBIM

By David Flannery

Broadcasting with one hundred eighty watts of power to over twenty towns at 91.5 MHz, Bedford and Plymouth, Bridgewater State College's college radio station, WBIM (91.5) is reaching out for more listeners while providing those who already tune in with entertainment and information. In addition, WBIM is now under a new manager, Christopher Smalley.

Smalley, a speech communication major, takes over as the new manager following three years of service as a disc jockey and "a habit the school" underwriter. His station now includes a behind the scenes program, working with Captain Center Director of Student Affairs, Rick Voss, dealing with the station's mystery, attending meetings, as well as working with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and RFC administration.

Smalley's main objective for the future of WBIM is to expand the listener base, especially the RFC audience. Smalley says, "Instead of making it known by having an exclusive listener (call), I'd like if the whole college would give us a chance because we do offer a lot of variety, for many different types of people." In order to expand the station's listener base, Smalley has increased the size of the music studio. Promotions include free tickets to local nightclub concerts, free albums, posters, bumperstickers, and T-shirts. According to Smalley, the station is available to any college organization for public service, entertainment purposes. Organizations, such as fraternities, sororities, and clubs, can sponsor programs if they are reasonable, and their announcements can then be broadcast over the campus broadcast.

As for the station's music, Smalley says, "It is the responsibility of Program Director, Lee Stanford. According to Smalley, the station's music is played is best described as "college progressive rock." These are musicians who are basically good, but have not made it into the mainstream music scene. Current groups include Love and Rockets, Stiff Little Fingers, and other musicians who are basically good, but have not made it into the mainstream music scene.

PUBLIC ENEMY's Take A Nose Out Of Hills Of Helter Skelter How many times can this happen to a band that really good underground music and a real band! everybody is listening to them. Catholic Center begins new year on a "Happy" note

By Marc Neko

Even as the Catholic Center and its fall and home teams this year is "Don't worry, be happy." Father Bob Conner and Sister Jo-Ann Vincent estimate that despite almost two months of construction surviving adherents from the college, the Catholic Center seems to be getting back to normal.

Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00, coffee and doughnuts are available in the Catholic Center. On Thursday evenings at 5:00 p.m., there is a Spanish Mass. Everyone is welcome to these events.

The Sunday Service is held on Saturdays at 4:00 p.m. and on Sundays at 9:00 a.m., 10:45 a.m., and at 12:10 p.m.

The Poor Missionary program which was established last year has begun to meet. Poor Mission is a service where people gather weekly for prayer, reflection, and personal growth. The club meets Wednesday evenings. The Center Committee which focuses its attention on benefiting the community, has had its first meeting. Anyone interested in either of these programs should contact Father Bob or Sister Jo-Ann at 404-5070.

The Hilite has returned this year with a transforming service aimed at anyone who may need support or someone to talk to. It will be offered on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights from 10 p.m. to 2:00 a.m. The Hilite should begin the second week of October. Volunteers are needed; those who are interested can call the Catholic Center for details.

The Catholic Center is nowhere to turn. Father Bob said in an interview Monday.

He emphasizes that the college campus "should be a community, not just a business. But every individual person should be an individual community."

Men's Soccer team keeps on winning

The Men's Soccer team is on a three game winning streak after they defeated Maine Maritime 1-0 Tuesday afternoon. First, your coach, Dennis Lukowicz, was extremely pleased with this victory. "This was the best game we've played all season. The team had excellent control and passed the ball well." Lukowicz wished that they could have scored more, but they got the job done just the same. Lukowicz praised David Floeck for his outstanding game. Floeck worked hard, defending the ball forward into the attack. Mike Mori also received compliments for his game. He played well as defender, winning all the balls in the air.

In the second half Roger Williams scored off a penalty kick. Last weekend the winning goal for the Bears. The Bears now record is now 3-1-1.

Women's soccer team in a rebuilding year

The 1988-1989 Women's Soccer team is relatively new with only two seniors returning. Coach Kathy Broyha is looking to this season as "building year." She wants the team to do as well as it can and believes it will come with time. According to Broyha, "Our team is young and has a lot of potential, and that's why we're focusing on the future work, which is showing in their game." Since their game schedule has expanded to fourteen games and they are playing three Division II schools against them, they should gain the experience they need. Coach Broyha hopes for a bright future since all players will be the same next year and every game they play are an improvement on the last one. The team played two games last week. Thursday's game was played against Westfield St. where BSC lost 4-0. "The major problem with this game was giving up early," Coach Broyha says, and "the boys learned that they have to stop the early goals they gave up."

Friday's game was played against Holy Cross College, 3-0. Here is the final score: 3-0-3.

The women's team is holding up strong despite losing gradates Cheryl Corbett, a MASCAC all-star.

Field Hockey

The Lady Bears Field Hockey team successfully defended Wheaton College 1-0 on Tuesday.

Kathy McGuire scored from a corner kick late in the first half to take the lead. BSC defense took 18 shots towards the goal, while Yield Kellerman had six saves. Saturday the team travels to Wesley College.

The Bridgewater State Men's and Women's Cross-Country teams have competed in two invitational meets over the past weeks and have done exceptionally well despite the low attendance.

At the Bryan College Invitational on September 17th the men and women ran very well for the team. Their score was the top four men out of Williams College last Saturday, where most of them ran without any pressure.

Yasmina Nunez-Arroyo and Maria Gutierrez led the men's team, while Mike Kanarski, Rich McCormack, and Patricia Nichols all had strong races.

The women's team is hoping for a good season despite losing grad student, Cheryl Corbett, a MASCAC all-star. The Bears hope to compete well against Western College 1-0 on Thursday.
