During a recent Lady Bears basketball game against Westfield State, Linda Malakian scored 1,000th career point, marking her as the first ISC woman basketball player to achieve this prestigious mark.

A 5-foot 10-inch forward, Betsy has been a Lady Bear for both (1.2) and rebrowning (6.3). She is one of the top four in ISC, with 97 points. She has scored 1,000 points for a 10-5 average and grabbed 373 rebounds, which is an average of 7.6 per game. As a senior, she was an important member of the winning 1985-86 women's basketball team which gained a berth in the NCAA Division I Regional Championship.

Lyne has been a real leader on her team, says ISC Coach Judy Petty. With 1,000 people on the sidelines, she needed someone to look up to when the going got rough. Reaching 1,000 points is a great achievement for her as a player but also her fans. It means that they can continue to follow her through her senior year and into college.

Lyne will soon be graduating from Bridgewater with a degree in Sociology as well as a minor in Health. She is the daughter of Al and Barbara Malakian of Oxford, MA.

Gymnasts make a strong performance

By Tien Mogie

The Bridgewater State women's gymnastics team had its first win of the season defeating Ursinus College 152.9 to 147.5. They brought their overall record to 1-4 and Union's to 4-4.

This was the highest score the gymnasts have achieved all year and was the first of the season that the team has scored above 147.5. In addition, it was the first time since the team was formed in 1985 that all members scored above 147.5.

The team performed well in all areas, with some members standing out among the others. Linda Malakian and Jennifer Swales both performed well in all areas, with each score above 147.5.

A word was left out of the article on p. 7 entitled "A view of the Bush inaugural gala." The sentence should have read, "he of the killer trees and welfare queens..." In the article on p. 3, Tim Mellenic claims he was mistreated. The paragraph should have said, He did not know that it was paid, whether a student could receive their financial aid check. Demand and get more from your student fees

At this point, almost everyone on campus has had enough about the $125 fee which is being levied on all students, and it is hopefully aware of the stand that the SGA has taken against it. On campus you must be pressured, don't pay that bill. The reasons are more than it seems.

Most people who have decided not to pay have done so because they simply haven't the money. Obviously, this is an irrelevant reason, but it is the only factor. If we simply pay, there is nothing to stop the administration from taking us again and again for more money. They will just assume that we will pay, no questions asked. Unless a stand is taken now, the administration will continue to take advantage of the student's money. Some leaders must be made aware that they cannot just send out bills whenever they feel like it. Students have a right to know about the bills in advance so that they can plan on paying them and not for more. In the long run, we will at all in this together, so let's make our voices heard.

The quality of education is one good example. More is being paid for much less. Students are being asked to turn in a major research paper within a few days. Obviously, this is an irrelevant time frame, but it is still expected. Students are expected to produce more within less time, and to do so with fewer resources and time, at the commerically agreed upon price. The college is not satisfied, and cannot demand, to get more money. If the college or any other agency or government demands the money, and subsequently makes threats of cancelling classes, cutting off financial aid, etc., they would violate the contract, law, and moral principles, and they would be engaging in venomously unhealthy, unnecessary, and unprofitable behavior. The students can sue for damages.

MassPIRG still has the support of BSC students

Dear Student Body,

We would like to update you about a new club on campus, Bridgewater Students for MassPIRG. Here at Bridgewater, students can get involved in the most important issues of today by working with the Massachusetts Public Interest Research Group (MassPIRG). The work you do will make a significant difference in the lives of all students and the community.

A MassPIRG chapter is formed when students from a campus; the student body makes a democratic decision that would provide, and to assess the support of the student body for the existence of a chapter and to involve interested students about opportunities that a new club would offer. Students are interested in the things you have come to care about, and we need your support.

MassPIRG recently released a report documenting extensive toxics hazards across the state, and has gathered over 130 high school students and community members to sponsor Toxic Reduction Bills in the legislature. This work is only a beginning. We are in our efforts to bring MassPIRG back to Bridgewater.

We know that MassPIRG is a student organization. The students have the power to make decisions about the club. If you have questions about how to get involved with MassPIRG next semester, please contact the Bridgewater Students for MassPIRG at Bridgewater Students for MassPIRG, c/o Scott Longo, Class of 1989, BSC Student Trustee.

Student expresses outrage over $125 fee increase

To the Editor:

I am writing to clarify a statement that was articulated in an article in last week's The Comment. Due to an error in the article, "SGA representatives support the protest of the impending increase of the $125 fee for next semester." This is not accurate; I did not say that. I did not support the protest.

Those who have studied history know that unusual, unreasonable demands shall not be opposed. We shall yield to their demands. Then we shall resist. I will not pay the unreasonable, unjust fee.

Is the sniffing and sneezing bringing you down?

CONTENDERE

By John R. Burns, III and Benjamin R. Garceau, Student Comment

If you haven’t had it, you certainly know somebody who has.

Maybe it was your roommate. Or your parents. Or a friend of yours. Or you have been one of your profs. It happens to the best of us.

If you’re feeling jealous, left out, fear not! Your day will come.

You can still be afflicted with this mild ailment. The characteristics of its holders are known to subdue a room, even among the less faulty. If you feel that you have been missed, and afflicted acquaintances have been apt to curse the courageous souls for having done their duty. We have been attending to society, and even afflicted ourselves with the sneeze.

How many times have you been informed that you’re suffering from the sneeze? You may have wanted your voice heard.

If there are points that you have brought to the students’ attention, you can help change things. It needs to be done together. The students should be given their coordinated voice to be heard. Siting, standing, and speaking on their behalf doesn’t help. C.R.E.Ed. (Coalition for Responsibility and Ethics in Education) is making our voice heard.

This is not just for our campus but also for all who suffer higher education. If we refuse to pay, the only one, collectively, can do this. We are all afforded the right to have our voice heard. If we don’t care and refuse to accept the old ways, then there is nothing you can do about it.

You can do so. I suggest you contact your representatives on the State and State Student Organization to learn more about their plans and how you can get involved. C.R.E.Ed. will develop its programs and actions for education. We are told that you will be able to take our campus. C.R.E.Ed. will tell you the most recent budget correlations and unethical actions on campus and what we can do about it.

Whether you are in a committed relationship or are not currently dating, Valentine’s Day can be an awkward time. This year, you may want to try a little extra effort to make it more special for your loved one. Here are some ideas to make your Valentine’s Day extra special.

First, on Valentine’s Day, you may want to start by giving your loved one a small gift or saying something nice. This could be as simple as saying “I love you” or giving them a small present. It’s important to show your love and appreciation for each other on this special day.

Second, you may want to plan a special activity for you and your loved one. This could be anything from going on a date to visiting a new restaurant or trying out a new activity together. The key is to make it memorable and enjoyable for both of you.

Third, you may want to consider spending the day together instead of going out to eat. This could be as simple as staying in and cooking a special meal together or watching a romantic movie. The important thing is to spend quality time with your loved one and create memories together.

Finally, if you are feeling particularly creative, you may want to consider making your own Valentine’s Day cards. This is a great way to show your love and appreciation in a unique and personal way.

Overall, Valentine’s Day is a special day to celebrate love and appreciation. Whether you are in a committed relationship or not, you can make it a special day by showing your love and appreciation to others.

Exercise instead of dieting

By Karen Irvine

Hoff Health services warns to the Bridgewater State College community that their thoughts are already on spring break.

After all, it is only weeks away. If so, the notion of being on a diet will be more than a thought. A diet will be a reality.

If you are planning on being on a diet, be sure to take into consideration the following.

First, be sure to consult with your doctor before starting any new diet. This is especially important for those with pre-existing health conditions.

Second, be sure to choose a diet that is both healthy and enjoyable. This will help you stay committed to your diet.

Third, be sure to allow yourself to enjoy occasional treats. This will help prevent feelings of deprivation and boredom.

Finally, be sure to schedule regular exercise into your routine. This will help you stay on track and continue to lose weight.

The country and across the campus, couples everywhere are eagerly awaiting Valentine's Day. It is a day when they can say I love you, come and take a sips at one another, and show each other gifts of candy, flowers, dinner, and champagne.

First, any place you decide to go, try to remember to listen in the ear phones in your car, so you could hear the music of your heart.

Secondly, don't forget that there is a new service provided by the State University of New York.

Third, if you are planning to go to the T.A. in the student center, be sure you have a bag of M&Ms with you.

Fourth, if you are going to the T.A. and it's already closed, you can always go to the convenience store nearby to buy some snacks.

Griffith, born to be remembered by Diann Johnson, also starred in another movie, Something Wild.

After traveling from one office to another in the movie, Griffith, who played a businesswoman in Wall Street, turned to究竟 the office of Katherine (Equity Wane)

Katherine, the new businesswoman, is not only an attractive and smart-as-can-be employee, but also capable of dealing with the market as any of her supervisors, and is addicted to the fact that she got her degree in psychology.

After suggesting to Katherine, a solution to a major business problem—Katherine is present, a consistent and understanding, with the opportunity to carry out her plan, as not only, than through Katherine.

The events, circumstances, and misadventures, surrounding her progression along this sudden road to success, not to mention Katherine, are the basis of this new psychological thriller, which will be released in 1989.

In all, "Working Girl" demonstrates a good effort, with passable results.

While Tim's choice of narcotics probably got them more people involved in the drug trade, it's a commendable quality that is generally expressed by the film. Hampton's.

Although, the weight which will be lost, the goal is the loss of fat instead of the lean body mass and water weight which one loses when on a restricted diet without any exercise.

BSC's Psi Chi National Honor Society in psychology experienced a phenomenal 110% increase in the number of applications from interested students during the fall semester. The applications are currently being reviewed by those candidates whose academic accomplishments make them eligible for life membership in the BSC Chapter and the national organization. When final determination is made, candidates who have met the rigorous academic prerequisites shall be notified in writing and inducted in the chapter's ceremonies scheduled for the 1989 Awards Day.

At the national level, also, Psi Chi, psychology's oldest and most prestigious academic honor society, experienced an highly successful 1988 year. In commissions of which chapter officers and faculty advisors were recommended for their diligence and generous commitment of time and effort, Executive Director Ruth H. Cousins announced a record number (5707) of new members were inducted in a special accreditation meeting of the (549) Psi Chi.

Rush
This year Phi Pi Delta is celebrating its twenty-sixth birthday. It seems in 1963 we all stood together, but in 179 women were incorporated to make it the first and oldest co-ed fraternity at Brigham Young College! Since that time we have won two Gamecock championships (1981-1987), the first annual Interfraternity Winter Olympics last December, the 1988 homecoming competition, and have been involved in several community service activities. We are a favorite of diverse people and backgrounds. From Business to Art, from Theatre to Biology, Phi Pi Delta has a wealth of students interested, fun, and intelligent people. Come and experience twenty-six years of Phi Pi Delta, and for good times and good friends, rush Phi Pi Delta! The standard of all fraternities, Phi Pi Delta: we didn't just invite you, we started the tradition!

This year the deadline to order daffodils is March 6. On March 21 through March 23, daffodils will be distributed to those who have placed orders, states Robert Enos, Daffodil Days Chairman for the Southeastern Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Gymnasts win their first meet

The other three freshmen—Franco Rossella, Kimberly Boudreaux, and Ann Zaccoli each had good performances on the floor. Rossella had an excellent beam routine getting a 9.5, followed by another 9.5 on all-around. Her performance was so impressive that she finished second in the all-around, only 0.25 behind first place. Boudreaux also had a great performance, scoring a 9.45 on the floor and a 9.2 on the balance beam. Zaccoli, who is a senior co-captain, gave an all out effort on the floor and tied for second on the balance beam.

The members of the team pointed out that the win occurred because of the focus and determination displayed by the entire team. As Hanagan said, "We pulled together as a team, the attitude was better and we performed as one." Perhaps the team's performance can be attributed to the strength and dedication of the coaches and team members.

The leading teams in the exhibition were Team Italy, The Jetsons, and the Good Guys, each with two wins.

A Hard Man is Good to Find...

A Hard Man is Good to Find...

You’d think that a man who’d spent so much time in the field would have a good sense of what it takes to stay fit. And you’d be right. How do you stay fit? By eating well and staying active. And that’s what we’re talking about today.

Comedy Central’s "A Hard Man is Good to Find..." is a show that’s been around for a while, but it’s still as funny as ever. The show follows the life of a man named Jack, who’s trying to make it in the city. He’s got a job, a long-term girlfriend, and a dog named Max. And he’s trying to stay fit, too.

The show has been running for over 20 years, and it’s still going strong. The reason? It’s just that good. The writing is sharp, the characters are well-drawn, and the humor is spot-on.

But the show is more than just a comedy. It’s also a look at the world of the working class — the struggle to make ends meet, the pressures of daily life, and the search for meaning in a sometimes-meaningless world. It’s a show that’s as relevant now as it was when it first aired.

So if you’re looking for something to laugh at, or if you’re just looking for a good show to watch, "A Hard Man is Good to Find..." is the one for you. It’s on Comedy Central, and you can catch a new episode every Thursday night.

The Bridgewater State women's gymnastics team took the first win of their season against Ursinus College at 172.9 to 147.4. They brought their overall record up to 1-4-1 and 5-2 in the MAC. This was the highest score the gymnasts have achieved all year and their first time scoring over 150 points since 1986. Bailey is known for her long and successful Broadway run, "Hello, Dolly!" which ran for over two years. She also starred in the Tony Award-winning "Lady of the Lake" and "The Music Man." Bailey's career spanned over 50 years, and her abilities as a singer, dancer, and actress were widely recognized. Bailey's performance was one of the high points of this evening.
