Men’s tennis starts anew

By Ron Robinson

The Men’s Tennis Team hopes to improve on its 6-6 record in the upcoming spring season. The team will play 10 matches, seven of which are home against independent schedule Division II and III schools.

Coach Charles Robinson hopes that returning MACC all-star singles player Mitch Vu and Youngha Park will continue to be dominant at the number one and two positions. Sophomore Eric Berglund is another strong singles and doubles player who will be counted on for his

Women’s rugby is back

This spring, the Women’s Rugby Club is back in action. The team has been named members of the New England Rugby Football Union and will be participating some tough competitions this season.

Led by co-captains Rachel Davidson and Angela Condolfo, the team has been gearing up for their season opener this Saturday at Southern Connecticut State.

Members of the team are seniors: Viki Moser, Marissa Sallet, Wally Allen, Megan Robidou, Cathy Schuhki, Pas Cares, and Gia Allesio. The starting line-up consists of Lauren Lambert and Debbie Murphy. Sophomore this year are Karen Condolfo, Charlene Casey, Debbie Marshall, Debbie Ilosi, and Autumn Loosby.

Baseball team swings into new season

By Ron Robinson

The Bridgewater State College baseball team is preparing for their upcoming spring season, as the team begins their first campaign under the direction of new head coach Bill North. The team, led by first baseman Tony Piccini at the plate, will open their season with a doubleheader at Tennessee State University on Saturday, March 11.

The Bridgewater State College baseball team will have three new players joining the team this season. The team has a strong pitching staff, as North has brought in three new pitchers to strengthen the team's defense. The team will be relying on the experienced batting of senior catcher Tim Sladek and senior outfielder Jeff Fields, who both have a strong track record of success.

The team's first game will be against Tennessee State University, who have a strong pitching staff as well. The game will be held at the Nashville Metrodome, home of the Tennessee State University baseball team.

Lacrosse team has high hopes for new season

Plans are made to regain varsity status with new season

By Ron Robinson

The Women’s Lacrosse Club finally got its chance to play. Due to bad weather and the long break, the team has been unable to practice regularly. But, thanks to the great weather early this week, the team has been able to get in some needed practice.

The team is in a good field with seven wins while the Storks have five wins. The Storks have been able to get on top with only two losses. The team is in a good field with seven wins while the Storks have five wins. The Storks have been able to get on top with only two losses.

The team’s next game will be until April 11 at Brown University, and should be more competitive.

Fundraisers for homeless succeed

A group of students from the Social Work Department are pleased to report that they raised over $1,200 in the first semester for the hungry and homeless through bake sales. The food was purchased on February 11, from the Purdy Supreme Market in the Cary Hill area of Brockton. It was then delivered to local churches and charities to be dispersed as needed from their food banks.

The group will be having another bake sale this semester. The sale will be held at two locations. One will be at the Barrill Avenue Building from 7 a.m. until 4 p.m. The other location will be held across from the Bookstore from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. They are encouraging everyone to turn out, and help them raise money for the hungry and homeless.

Anyone who wishes to contribute their own baked goods or help the students from the Social Work Department should contact Dr. Dorothy Howard at extension 1389.

Fifth presidential lecture scheduled

Dr. Dennis Lythgoe, a Professor of History at Bridgewater State College, will deliver the fifth in the series of Presidential Lectures on Wednesday, April 5, in the Honors Mass Auditorium at Boyden Hall. The lecture will start at 7:30 p.m.

The title of Lythgoe's presentation is New England Genesis: The Unique Contribution of the Mormons to American History. This will discuss how the "Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, commonly known as the Mormons, are a peculiarly American religion." Basically, Lythgoe will speak on their movement, their lasting contributions to the settlement of the west, and their unique contributions to American History.

Following the lecture, there will be a reception in the rotunda of Boyden Hall. Lythgoe has been a member of the History Department at BSC, for nearly 20 years. The sixth Presidential Lecture will be given by Dr. Michael Kryzanek, Professor of Political Science, in the fall of 1989, and the seventh will be given by Dr. Howard London, Associate Professor of Sociology and Anthropology, in the spring of 1990.

Campus Safety Officer, Kenneth Moore, has taken the first step in providing the students of Bridgewater with a safer more comfortable campus. Moore is organizing a group of concerned individuals to promote safety on campus.

This sale would be run by the executive branch of the council, and would be the students' primary point of business with the campus. The administration feels that all the students want to do is to drink and have a good time. According to Officer Moore this is not necessary at all. He said, "There are many students who would like to enhance the college community. I want to involve the students who are willing to get in and organize to make their community a safer place.

THE FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

"Hi! The elephants are sick again!"

Money has been a goal officer at Bridgewater for 20 years. In October, he was appointed "Safety Officer." He has submitted proposals and is eagerly waiting to implement them. One of his ideas is to set up a statistics board to let students know what is happening on campus. He hopes this might alleviate some of the rumors about attacks on campus. Moore's main objective is to involve the students and protect their safety. He is concerned with what the students have to say and is prepared to listen. The plans of the student have been heard and something is being done to make this campus a safer place.

Evaluating students on alcohol abuse and where help can be located

In these times of more public awareness of drug and alcohol abuse, there is a call for people to become involved in analyzing the problem. On the Bridgewater campus, as often is being made to help students become aware of the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse. The Alcohol and Drug Task Force and the student organization Project P.A.R.T.Y. (Pacing Alcohol Responsibility Toward Yourself) assist two groups that are working on educating students about these.

On a personal level, students can become aware of how alcohol and drugs may be affecting their lives or the lives of friends. What are some of the warning signs of alcohol and drug abuse? For example:

1. Do you or friends drink alone and drink to deal with upsetting feelings or drink or use drugs?
2. Are you unable to control the amount of alcohol you drink or they may have a problem with alcohol or drugs?
3. Are your interpersonal relationships becoming stormy, or are your grades plummeting because of misuse of substances?
4. Are your study patterns are identified, group members have more appropriate ways of solving problems in the world. The Counseling Center also has a listing of Al-Anon, Alateen and Narcotics Anonymous meetings in the surrounding community.

Khomeini resigns from top position in Iran

Ayatollah Ali Montazeri, the heir apparent to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, has resigned last Tuesday and said he will be the bidding of the 88-year-old revolutionary patriarch. Montazeri was the most prominent candidate so far in a fierce drive by Khomei to return Iran to the roots of its fundamentalist revolution.

Violence mars elections in the Philippines

In Manila, Philippines, seventy percent of the registered voters turned out last Tuesday for nationwide village elections. The result of election day violence. A few days after the elections, the police announced that at least 16 people were killed.

Rape case may include the threat of AIDS

A Massachusetts man who was accused of raping a Boston woman who later contracted the AIDS virus may face charges related to infecting her with the deadly disease, a Suffolk prosecutor said last Monday. If an AIDS related charge is filed, officials who are familiar with criminal cases involving the disease said it probably would be a first in Massachusetts.

The defendant, Richard Kelley, 46, of Braintree, was charged with raping the 19-year-old woman after luring her on a date to his Boston apartment.

Polaroid corporations wins its independence

On a personal level, students can become aware of how alcohol and drugs may be affecting their lives or the lives of friends. What are some of the warning signs of alcohol or drug abuse? For example:

1. Do you or friends drink alone and drink to soothe feelings or lose your illness?
2. Are you able to attend classes because of alcohol or drug-related sickness?
3. Are you experiencing relationships because of pressure of drinking?
4. Are your interpersonal relationships being damaged, or are you losing yourself from friends?
5. Are you intoxicated frequently during the week?
6. Do you run out of school work drink or use drugs?

If you can identify one or more of these examples in yourself or a friend, you or they may have a problem with alcohol or drugs.

There are resources on the Bridgewater campus and in the surrounding community to help you identify and treat the problem. The Counseling Center is staffed by psychologists trained in treating individual alcohol and drug related problems. The Counseling Center is located in Burrington Hall, Suite 200. The center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Students can call 597-1511 for information or to set up an appointment.

Also at the Counseling Center, there is a Adult Children of Alcoholics Group (ACOA) that meets every Tuesday at 3 p.m. Adult Children of Alcoholics are individuals who have difficulties in accommodation, interpersonal, and social areas due to the effects of growing up with parents who were alcoholic dependents. Members of the group identify dysfunctional patterns of relating or being in the world that are the result of alcohol dependency in their family. Once these dysfunctional patterns are identified, group members learn more appropriate ways of relating in the world. The Counseling Center also has a list of Alcoholics Anonymous meetings in the surrounding community.

Another resource on the campus is the Addiction Support Group which is sponsored by the Women's Center. The group focuses on such addictive behaviors as drinking, drug use, and eating. The group meets every Thursday from 12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m. in Women's Center, first floor of the Campus Center.

One resource that is available is the Bridgewater community in the Alcoholics Anonymous Group. The AA Group meets every Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Bridgewater College High School. With the resources that are available to the Bridgewater campus and in the surrounding community, there is no need for alcoholics to feel that there is no help available. So if you think you have a drug or alcohol problem or have a friend who does, you can find information to contact the Counseling Center or the resources available in the community.

The company has formally completed its acquisition of the Polaroid Corp. in a deal that is expected to be completed in the next few weeks. However, Shonkan, the battle that could become a precedent for modern corporate warfare, did manage to leave with $25 million in consolation prizes.

More political moves

The Bridgewater State College Board of Trustees welcomed three new members into their family this month. But one question should be lurking in the back of the college’s mind: do they appoint people to this position who have never been to the college, and have no ties to it? The answer to this is “political moves.”

During the spring break, we three students will be taking a trip. We welcome our new “political moves”...

April’s fools!

By Bryon Hayes

April 1 is the infamous day known as April Fools. In honor of this day, it is time to hand out the First Annual Comment Award: April Fool’s Awards. The awards are presented to students who, over the course of the year, have been described by the BSC community as “Bronco Billy.”

Writers up for this award were doing something interesting at some point during the past three years, there have been over 300 entries! The award for the Best Overall Joke of the Year goes to one of my favorites, Raymond Wise, affectionately known to the BSC community as “Bronco Billy.”

So well in fact, that Police Chief Ferioli has already requested to extend the parking ticket for those who park their cars in the town’s parking lot. The award for Newest Practical Joke goes to one of my favorites, Raymond Wise, affectionately known to the BSC community as “Bronco Billy.”

That’s all we have to do. The comment section of The Observer is a place where we can offset the state’s problems. It’s a place where we can find a voice for the people.

The April Fools Award for Best Male and Female Practical Joke was the rotating presidential candidate’s group. Good job all around.

Presidential pool increases
Rothberg second student to announce SGA presidential candidacy

By Bryon Hayes

A second candidate has emerged to bid for Student Government Association President. Mike Rothberg, a Junior and President of the Student Apartments, said that he "will base his campaign and presidency on one word: communication."

Rothberg feels that communication is one aspect which all the past SGA Presidents have failed to do. He also feels that many have forgotten for what the SGA stands. Said Rothberg, "the SGA is a government of and for us, the students of Bridgewater State College." He states most definitely that it is not a place for people to make a name for themselves. He stated that he will communicate to the students by delivering speeches to the College Community and in the Campus Center and in the Commuter Cafeteria. He also uses this as an effective way for him to gain the needed feedback from the students.

Rothberg adds that there are numerous "logistic issues" on campus that he will address. This involves the increase in free space on campus, the inconveniences of the commuter parking lot, the cleaning up of Harvard Street and the working hard with the administration to communicate better with the students.

Concerning his other opinions, Rothberg has some comments for them. He would like to challenge them to a debate, "not one, but as many as possible." He feels that this is the only way in which students can find who may be the best candidate for the position. There are many other student

BSC professor showcased in art exhibit

By Stephen F. Smalley

Professor Smalley, a member of the Bridgewater State College Art Department since 1973, is displaying recent drawings and paintings, Rio and Other Beach Cabins, at the Armstrong Gallery in the Art Building. The show will be presented through April 21 and the Gallery hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

During his upbringing, in the fall of 1987, Professor Smalley installed in selected beach cultures in France, Italy, Hungary and England as well as New England. These travels have generated new imagery for his current series. It is his long standing affinity for conditions has taken him to Mexico, California, Canada, Maine and most importantly Brazil.

Included in the exhibition is a major work, Divisoria, from his thematic exhibition in 1981-1982, entitled Antipasto, as well as a working drawing for his recent piece, The Zucca Series,

New talents premiering in Dance Kaleidoscope

Dance Kaleidoscope '89 will be presented by the Bridgewater Dance Company April 14 and 15. The annual concert will be held in the Campus Center Auditorium at 8 p.m. Student family and professional choreographers will be shown in this dance performance, that represents the college of style.

The director of the program is Dr. Nancy Moses of the Department of Speech Communication, Theatre Arts and Communication, theater, dance, and health, Physical Education and Recreation. This event is the showcase for the dance program, which is housed in both departments.

A cast of fifty students are working hard on the performance which includes some of the newest choreography yet shown in Kaleidoscope.

Four advanced students have composed complex modern dance works dealing with topics of insanity, handwriting, body identity, and nonverbal communication.

Four professional choreographers are contributing work. Faye Sarniak, who has taught at the Great Woods Educational Forum, is staging a dance from Waltz Side Story. The hard-flying jazz number is deles to the last song, Cool.

Great Choreographer, Sharron Ricciardi, was set on Bridgewater dancer last semester. Weinber will also perform solo in the Indian technique in which she specializes. Weinber is a professional dancer-choreographer with an impressive repertory of credentials that include video dance as well as her performance.

Dance Kaleidoscope '89 will present their censor concern on April 14 and 15. One dance will be (Glimpse of Aktion, which was choreographed by Sharon Walker, daily.com).

Rothberg second student to announce SGA presidential candidacy

By Bryan H. Norman

A second candidate has emerged in his bid to run for Student Government Association President. Mike Rothberg, a junior and President of the Student Apartments, said that he will "have his campaign and presidency on one word: communication.

Rothberg feels that communication is one aspect in which all the past SGA President failed. He also feels that many have forgotten what the SGA means. Said Rothberg, "the SGA is a government and for us, the students of Bridgewater State College. He seems most likely that it is not a place for people to make a name for themselves.

He stated that he would communicate to the students by delivering speeches in the Campus Center and the Campus Calendar. He also sees this as an effective way for him to gain more support. He feels that the SGA will need a voice from the students.

Rothberg says that there are numerous "creative issues" on campus that he will address. This involves the increase in free time on campus, the incongruity of the commuter building, and the lack of communication to the students. He feels that many students are not aware of what is going on on campus.

Concerning his other opinions, Rothberg has some comments for them. He would like to see changes in the administration to better communicate with the students.

A cast of fifty students are also performing. Weiler will re-stage the Indian number, "Spoon Hoedown," choreographed by modem dance pioneer, Daniel Nagrin. The piece, "Glimpses of Rajastan," is based on movement composed by modern dance pioneer, Daniel Nagrin. The piece is scheduled for the fall of 1989.

Other professional choreographers are contributing work. They are also performing solo in the Indian dance, "Awakening," choreographed bysolos based on poems from the dance program. Weiner is a professional dancer-choreographer with an international reputation and credentials that include video and video productions. He is a professional dancer-choreographer with a diverse career yet shown at Bridgewater.

Who is the man behind the Choral Society?

By Caitlin Andrews

Comment staff

How many of you students know the faculty member who was born in Aschaffenburg, Germany and emigrated to the United States in 1938 when he was three years old? This man received his doctorate in Music from Boston University, also. Give up? This person happens to be Dr. Jacob Liberles the conductor of the Choral Society.

Liberles began his career at Bridgewater State College in 1967, where he is a professor of music. Also, he is director of the Choral and the Chamber Singers.

As a performer, Liberles has toured throughout South America, Central America, Iceland, and the United States. He has appeared on radio and television. His talents have been apparent on numerous records.

From 1964-67, he was appointed Chairman of the Department of Music at Hampshire College in New Hampshire. His Hampshire College Chamber Singers won first prize at the New Hampshire Intercollegiate Sing, two consecutive years. They also performed at the Bosque Garden and the New York World Fair.

The BSC Choral Society performs major works, often with an orchestra. The Chamber Singers is a selected group of singers who perform a cappella and for each year.

In 1990, the Chamber Singers will be singing Germany and Czechoslovakia in March.

The Choral Society performed at SMU when Dr. Burke was inaugurated. They also performed for the first time at winter graduation. Their winter concert in the Horace Mann Auditorium was best received, there was close to 600 people who attended. This spring concert the Choral Society will be performing some works from Mozart and Moussorgsky, to name a few.

Liberles said that his job is great because it coordinates his favorite hobby into his work. He teaches people who have never sung or read music. This is an exciting part of his career. He introduces students to good music that many fall in love with.

Keep your eyes peeled for more news on the spring concert, and attend it. You may be exposed to good music and fall in love with it, too.

More AIDS information

You are at risk of being infected with the AIDS virus if you have sex with someone who is infected, or if you share drug needles and syringes with someone who has been infected by the AIDS virus. Since you can't be sure who is infected, your chances of coming into contact with the virus increase with the number of sex partners you have. Any exchange of infected blood, semen, or vaginal fluids can spread the virus and place you at great risk.

Risk Behavior

- Sharing drug needles and syringes
- Anal sex, with or without a condom
- Vaginal or oral sex with someone who shares drugs or engages in anal sex
- Sex with someone you don't know well (a pickup or preceded by no one you know has several sex partners)

Unprotected sex without a condom can spread an infected person.

The Crisis in Public Higher Education

Schedules of class lectures and discussions April 4 and 5

Following is a partial list of the classes where teachers will discuss with students the crisis in public higher education. People not enrolled in the course are welcome to join these classes, on a space available basis.

Because of spring break, we were not able to contact all the teachers who will be devoting class time to a discussion of public higher education. If your courses are not listed here, you may want to ask your teachers if they plan to devote some class time to it.

American college and university students are at an advantage in their ability to weather the crisis in public higher education.

Who will be victorious in pro-baseball?

Contributed by Robert P. Smith

Here we go again. It is less than two weeks, America's favorite pastime is on its way. Hopefully, it will be a reason to smile in this time of spreading of bad baseball. Let's hope it's not a repeat of Bugs. Connecticut will definitely be missing its usual views of pitcher's gambling. Leading the charge for the American League East should be the Boston Red Sox. Gary Sheffield. He missed the first three games of the American Association. Sheffield's defense at second base is a welcome addition. As for shows to what has been a golden glove player. An addition where else do you see a second baseman who positions for the wild and endangered species research, visitor assistance, and many other items on two-hour or three-hour tours. The Student Conservation Association has over 125,000 members. Positions are available in 48 states. Students and community organizations in the USA seeking hundreds of opportunities. Please call Karen Coons, Public Service, 313-697-9109.

Baseball preview

At the season's end, current and former players will be separated into top-notch stars and average players.

1. Tony La Russa's White Sox are 3-0, having won the American League title last year. Tony La Russa's White Sox have a great team. They have a solid defense and a solid offense. Luuca is a great pitcher

2. West Indies: The West Indies have one of the most talented teams. They are picked first by many. The West Indies have many stars and stars. Good Relief is a star player. He is a star pitcher. If they play well, they will have to win the pennant. Obi is a solid relief player. He is a star pitcher. If they play well, they will have to win the pennant.

2. Smoking will not happen to me.

3. Smoking is glamorous.
The Brewers are an OBaseball rookie who has played positions such as catcher and first baseman. He was rated the top prospect in the American Association. Scheffield's defense will be improved by Randy Kutcher, the Red Sox infielder who should help carry the team next season. Other young player to watch will be the American League East. It looks like a four way toss-up between the top teams and the team to succeed will be the team to win 15 games. The predictions for the baseball preview are as follows:

Bridgewater State College

Baseball team swings into new season

By Marc Hayes

The Bridgewater State College Men's Baseball team is preparing to begin its second spring season, in what Head Coach Glenn Tufts calls their most competitive season yet. Tufts, who is in his sixth year as coach, said that the team has two returning players, the first to re-appear at MASCAC Conference championships, and "it's a must to catch up to the NCAAs Tournament." The team is currently sporting a 4-2 record after their trip to Florida for spring training, but Tufts said a trip to the state of the season will be even better. Tufts, who Tufts said the team will make the season into a planning one, revolved around his pitching staff.

Tufts stated that the roster consists of 20 players, the largest that the team has ever carried, and has a 11 pitcher roster which he called "substantial." Most teams have a pitching staff of six to eight players. Most of the pitchers which will be returning as will Tim Kramer and Kary Shumway. These two returning players will be returning and will be counted on for his pitching staff.

The number two pitcher is Mike Bruemel, a junior from Westfield, Mass., who returns to the team after missing last year due to an injury. He is a transfer student from the University of Maine and Tufts is looking forward to his help in the run for the team's potential for the season. Bruemel was also looking for another good season from the right-hander. Said Tufts, "He’s been a big part of our team, and he’s already been a leader on the team."
